BROAD RANGE OF ISSUES, JOBS AT STAKE IN VOTING TUESDAY

Balloting Scheduled in St. Louis, County and East Side Areas — Outlook Is for Clear Skies.

Voters in St. Louis, St. Louis county and East Side areas will go to the polls tomorrow to ballot on candidates for office and on a wide range of tax and other proposals.

In the city, the offices of mayor, comptroller, aldermen from the 14 odd-numbered wards and five members of the Board of Education will be at stake. Also to be voted on will be a proposed charter amendment which would increase the types of occupations subject to the merchants' and manufacturers' tax.

In St. Louis county, officials will be elected in 92 cities, towns and villages, and directors in 27 school districts. Many areas will ballot on local tax and other proposals, and elections will be held in 18 fire protection and eight sewer districts.

East Side Elections.

City officials will be elected in Belleville, Alton and Granite City, and township officers and justices of the peace in Madison and St. Clair counties.

The election in St. Louis, with Republican Ben H. Lindenbusch seeking to unseat Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, will climax one of the hottest mayoral campaigns since 1941.

Election officials predicted votes cast tomorrow would total 180,000 or nearly 55 per cent of the St. Louis registration of 328,196. In the 1957 mayoral campaign the vote was 133,161 of a registration of 351,765, or 37.8 per cent.

Tomorrow's weather outlook was for clear skies and temperatures in the upper 50s.

Offices Closed.

State and city offices and courts in St. Louis will be closed tomorrow, except for the State Employment Security office. The Clayton Court House will be open. Taverns and liquor stores will be closed during periods of voting.

Lindenbusch, an automobile dealer and political unknown before he entered the current race, has waged an extremely active campaign with some help by national G.O.P. workers.

The Republican organization here, ridden by internal strife for years, was spurred to activity by results of the March 7 primary, in which Tucker narrowly escaped defeat for the Democratic nomination by Mark R. Holloran, Democratic national committeeman.

Democrats Close Ranks.

Democrats have closed ranks in the past few days, despite their bitter primary election. Holloran and his chief supporters, including Nineteenth Ward committeeman Jordan W. Chambers, have urged the re-election of Tucker.

In their respective campaigns, Tucker has pointed to his record as demonstrating leadership of a rejuvenated city, and Lindenbusch has contended the present administration has been ineffective and has let the city slip into a condition of stagnation and decay.

In a statement last night Tucker expressed hopes for "a large turnout of voters so that the decision at the pools will truly reflect the will of a majority of the people."

"The Administration submits

NO. 2 TOMATO CAN JUST TOO SMALL FOR CIGAR BUTTS

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP)—City fathers have conceded that there is room for improvement in their newest civic betterment program—by a half-size, at least.

That is why they are considering scrapping No. 2 tomato cans for the more convenient No. 2½ size.

The cans had been attached to litter baskets at key points through mid-city and were used as ashtrays following adoption of an anti-litter law prohibiting disposal of cigar and cigarette butts in the streets.

The cans are painted a bright yellow, are equipped with flameproof backstops and have the word "ashtray" on them in bright red. The devices cost a nickel apiece compared with the $40 figure placed on New York type sidewalk ashtrays.

But the No. 2½ can is being considered as a replacement for the No. 2 container because it is wider. Chubby-handed smokers have been finding it difficult to extinguish their cigars and cigarettes in the No. 2 can.

DISORDER IN S. RHODESIA

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, April 3 (AP)—Police fired tear gas to disperse 2000 stone-throwing jeering Africans who demonstrated at a suburban police station yesterday.

The African police manning the station had to summon reinforcements when they were besieged by the crowd protesting an African's arrest. The incident was the second of its kind in four days.

KENNEDYS STILL UNDER HEAVY GUARD IN FLORIDA

Precautions Against Cubans to Continue Until They Leave Palm Beach.

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 3 (UPI)—President Kennedy and his family remained under tight protective security today—the last full day of their Easter visit to Florida.

The extra heavy security precautions, due to kidnap and murder threats by pro-Castro Cubans in the area, will continue until the President, his wife and their two children fly back to Washington tomorrow afternoon.

Seldom have a President and his wife been more heavily protected in peace time than the Kennedys were yesterday when they attended Easter Mass at St. Edward's Roman Catholic Church. The number of Secret Service agents in and around the church was about twice the normal complement. They were augmented by state and local police.

Once the Kennedys are back in the well-organized safety of the White House, the current federal investigation of the recently reported threats may take a different direction.

Intelligence Net Sought.

Until this morning, authorities have kept prime suspects under surveillance, particularly to see that four or more Cubans in the Palm Beach area do not slip away to Havana. Of the four Cubans principally involved, one has been described as part of an intelligence relay system between south Florida and the Castro government.

Currently there is no accurate record of the number and identities of pro-Castro Cubans who slip into the United States to report back to Havana on activities of thousands of anti-Castro refugees in south Florida.

Once the Presidential family has left the area and calmer conditions permit a switch of manpower from protection to investigation, efforts were expected to determine more extensively the background of Cubans to whom the kidnap and murder threats have been traced.

Authorities hoped this more

Easter Services Kept Buzzing As Women Get Bees in Bonnets

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (UPI)—A swarm of bees, perhaps attracted by the flowery Easter bonnets of women parishioners, blocked the front entrance of St. Aidan's Episcopal Church at the 10 a.m. service yesterday.

When the bees launched their assault, the Rev. Gerard Mundy and his sexton quickly closed the door and windows. The congregation entered by the side door and so did enough of the bees to keep the service buzzing.

Father Mundy reminded his flock that "the bee is a symbol of the church—the unity of the hive." After the service beekeeper Virgil Coursey arrived to round up his swarm.

PLANNING ASSN. PROPOSES STEPS TO FIGHT CHRONIC UNEMPLOYMENT

Reports Increases Even at Business Peaks — 66 Authorities Say Remedy Lies in Growth-Rate Boost.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 3—Chronic unemployment has increased sharply even at peaks of business cycles in the last 10 years, and the outlook is for more of the same because of automation and similar technological advances, the National Planning Association said in a statement made public here today.

The association, a non-profit, non-political organization concerned with planning by agriculture, business, labor and the professions, said recovery periods from recessions have not solved the problem of chronic joblessness, but have succeeded mainly in masking its extent and severity.

Reduction of the national unemployment rate from its present level of about 8 per cent to 4 per cent of the labor force, as envisioned by President Kennedy, would have to provide in the next 12 months about 7,000,000 job opportunities, the association said. This still would leave about 3,000,000 unemployed.

Key Is Economic Growth.

The association statement, signed by 66 leading authorities drawn from business, labor, farming and international policy groups, said it is recognized that "the most effective remedy for all economic maladjustments causing structural or chronic unemployment is a healthy rate of economic growth."

But, the association said, separate measures should be adopted to combat chronic joblessness in addition to the public policies advocated to promote over-all growth.

Drawing a distinction between chronic unemployment and other types of job dislocations, the association said it is caused by a variety of long-term factors that impede evenly distributed growth and are more deep-seated in character than the changes shown by cyclical or frictional unemployment.

Cyclical unemployment is generally understood to be the result of downward movements in aggregate demand and frictional joblessness is caused by innumerable short-term or seasonal shifts, or by big strikes.

Big Increase in Sight.

Predicting a continued rise in chronic unemployment, barring strong remedial steps, the association said that because of automation and new technological techniques, present output could be produced with about 1,800,000 fewer workers by next year.

To reduce the immediate and long-term impacts of chronic unemployment, the association urged government action on several programs already being pushed by the Kennedy Administration, including federal standards to improve amounts and duration of the federal-state unemployment insurance benefits and a massive program to aid chronically distressed industrial centers, such as the program recently voted by Congress.

GOV. DALTON SIGNS STATE INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING BILL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 3—The bill providing for state income tax withholding from payrolls was signed into law today by Gov. John M. Dalton. It becomes effective July 1.

Dalton said the law would result in the collection of about $6,000,000 a year more in state income taxes. In the 1959-60 fiscal year, revenue from the income tax was $46,649,000, he said.

M. E. Morris, director of the State Department of Revenue, said about 60 additional employes would be needed to handle the administration of the new tax law.

Tax tables have been computed and other preparations for putting the new system into effect are almost complete, Morris said. He estimated that 110,000 employers will use the payroll withholding system.

U.S., BRITAIN SEEK WAY TO COUNTER RED CHINA'S THREAT TO GO INTO LAOS

PEIPING TO SEND TROOPS IF SEATO DOES, FOREIGN MINISTER SAYS

Chen Yi Recalls Entry Into Korean War — Declares Laotians Must Be Free of Intervention.

JAKARTA, April 3 (AP)—Red China held a threat today over the West to turn Laos into another Korea if the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends troops into the strife-torn Indochina kingdom.

Peiping's foreign minister, Marshal Chen Yi, winding up a visit to Indonesia, told reporters that if SEATO sends troops into Laos, "then China will also send troops."

Marshal Chen Yi, who commanded the Chinese Communist Third Army before becoming foreign minister, alluded to SEATO's warning that it was prepared to take "appropriate action" to prevent an armed Communist take-over of Laos.

The marshal insisted "that up to now China has not taken part in the Laotian civil war."

Pointing out that Laos had a 338-mile common border with China, the marshall said:

"Remember China was compelled to participate in the Korean war only after the United States forces went to our border beyond the Yalu river."

Opposes Intervention.

The foreign minister said Peiping's solution to the fighting between pro-Western and pro-Communist forces in Laos is to "let the Laotian people settle their differences themselves and withdraw all foreign intervention. This would insure peace and neutrality in the country."

Chen Yi left before reporters got a chance to question him about Moscow's latest proposals on Laos. But Peiping has declared a willingness to participate in the proposed 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos.

A communique on Chen Yi's talks with Indonesian President Sukarno contended that the United Nations efforts to solve world problems would be seriously weakened unless Peiping is admitted to membership in the international organization.

On Laos and The Congo, the two leaders declared: "All foreign intervention in all its forms and manifestations in these two countries should be discontinued."

Suggested as Mediator.

Sukarno was mentioned by Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio as a possible mediator in the bitter feud between Washington and Peiping. But Sukarno promised support for Red China's claim to Formosa in exchange for Chinese support of Indonesia's claim to Dutch New Guinea.

Subandrio said the Indonesian president during his visit to Washington later this month would be willing to discuss with President Kennedy "sources of friction" between the United States and Red China and to try and resolve them.

The situation in Laos was described yesterday by Malayan Prime Minister Abdul Rahman as "still extremely serious." He pointed out the vagueness of the Soviet reply to the British proposal about the timing of a cease-fire in the jungle kingdom.

Leaving Britain yesterday after a month-long visit, the Malayan leader suggested that the Russians were hedging about ending the fighting. With the Communist-supplied rebels holding the initiative, he said, the Russians "realize they are at an advantage and that if the cease-fire were to take place im-

Awaiting Sentences

DR. R. BERNARD FINCH and his mistress, CAROLE TREGOFF, as they waited in court at Los Angeles today for jury to determine penalties in killing of Finch's wife.

FINCH, MISTRESS AWAIT DECISION ON PUNISHMENT

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, awaited sentencing today for the murder of Finch's wife, Barbara Jean, nearly two years ago.

More than 300 spectators crowded the courtroom and the corridors to hear the jury's decision of the couple's punishment. The jury decided their guilt a week ago. Its only remaining choices today were death or life imprisonment for either or both.

The jurors must agree unanimously on the fate of each defendant. Deliberations were to start after final arguments by attorneys.

SCIENTISTS DRILL TO SECOND LAYER OF EARTH'S CORE

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UPI)—Scientists drilling in deep water off the West Coast of Mexico have broken through to the second layer of the earth's core.

A spokesman for the National Academy of Sciences said the break-through, termed a "milestone in the exploration of the ocean," happened early Saturday while oceanographers of Project Mohole were drilling at a depth of 12,000 feet near Guadalupe island.

Willard Bascom, project director, radioed the academy that a diamond-tipped drill went down 560 feet before stopping suddenly. Samples of basalt, a hard rock formed by molten material within the earth, were brought up.

Most scientists had believed that the second layer was made up of a softer sediment, the academy said. Oceanographers aboard the research ship said the basalt core provided an answer to previous perplexing seismic soundings.

Bascom said the basalt samples appeared to be of the Miocene Age, or millions of years old.

KENNEDY AWAITS MACMILLAN, DIPLOMATS STEP UP DISCUSSIONS

London Asking Moscow to Clarify Note—U.S. Indicates It Insists on Cease-Fire Before Talks.

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—With a threat by Red China complicating the crisis in Laos, the United States and Britain today faced a week of conferences and diplomatic moves in their effort to preserve the neutrality of that Southeast Asian kingdom without war.

The Chinese threat was made yesterday by Peiping's foreign minister Chen Yi. Winding up a visit to Indonesia, Chen told newspaper men at Jakarta, that if the Southeast Asia Treaty organization sends troops into Laos, "then China will also send troops."

"Remember China was compelled to participate in the Korean war only after the United States forces went to our border beyond the Yalu river," Chen said.

British Diplomats Active.

In Moscow, British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts conferred today with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetzov, seeking clarification of Russia's views on a cease-fire in Loas.

Lord Home, the British foreign minister, was due to arrive in Washington tonight to start preliminary work with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on a western reply to Russia's note on Laos.

They are expected to have a draft of the reply ready by the time Prime Minister Macmillan arrives late tomorrow afternoon for conferences with President Kennedy.

The President and the Prime Minister are scheduled to meet four times: Wednesday morning and afternoon, Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning.

United States officials speculated it is unlikely the reply will be delayed until the end of Macmillan's visit.

Russia, in its note to Britain last Saturday, agreed with the British proposal to hold a 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos, but remained vague on the timing of a cease-fire, which the British, backed by the United States, proposed as a first step.

Mr. Kennedy said in a statement that he viewed the Russian note as a "useful next step toward peaceful settlement of a potentially dangerous situation."

Macmillan Optimistic.

Macmillan said at Kingston, Jamaica, today that he feels very optimistic about the Soviet reply. At a press conference ending his Caribbean tour, he said the British Government is still seeking clarification of the Russian note. But, he added, "Britain and her partners in SEATO are pleased with the terms and character of the Soviet reply."

(Meanwhile, United Press International reported from Vientiane that five American-supplied helicopters, assembled by United States marines in neighboring Thailand, made their first supply runs today to "frontline" areas of Laos.

(The helicopters were among 16 given by the United States to the Laotian government to ease supply and communication prob-

KENNEDY TO GO TO PARIS TO TALK WITH DE GAULLE

First Visit to Europe as President to Begin May 31 — Wife Will Go Along.

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 3 (AP)—President Kennedy will fly to Paris May 31 for three days of talks with French President De Gaulle.

Announcing this today, the President's vacation headquarters said Mr. Kennedy will be accompanied by his wife, Jacqueline.

In reply to questions, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told a press conference that at this time he knows of no plans for Mr. Kennedy to visit other European capitals in connection with the Paris trip.

The Paris visit will be Mr. Kennedy's first trip to Europe as President. However, he will go to Canada before going to France.

Plans for a trip to Ottawa to address the Canadian parliament were announced earlier. Indications now are that Mr. Kennedy will go to Ottawa perhaps two weeks before visiting Paris.

Will Go by Jet Plane.

Mr. Kennedy plans to leave for Paris by jet plane probably on the night of May 30. He will leave Washington May 29 to attend a "Salute to Kennedy" dinner in Boston marking his forty-fourth birthday, then go on to New York the next day for a dinner being given to raise funds to fight cancer.

Mr. Kennedy's talks with De Gaulle, whom he has never met, will complete a round of conver-

Population of World Will Pass 3 Billion This Year, U.N. Reports

© New York Times News Service

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 3—The population of the world will pass three billion this year, the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs reported last night.

The report estimates the world's yearly population increase at between 45,000,000 and 55,000,000, at least as great as or more than the population of France. It suggested that even this estimate might be low.

The study noted that accelerating population growth was accompanied by more and more crowding into cities, where lack of jobs, housing and education were leading to rootlessness, family breakdowns, delinquency and political unrest.

The report said much remained to be done in improving food production, health, housing and education and in settling refugees.

People in the industrialized nations were found to be making more money than ever before, while Africans were struggling to stand on their own feet and parts of Latin America staggered under inflation.

From the report's 229 pages of documents, charts and statistics, the Soviet Union emerged as the most dynamic force in social gains—medicine, hospitalization and housing.

West Germany's industry thrived, Americans and Canadians had the highest incomes and the shortest work weeks. The amount of essential food available to a Far Easterner was still the lowest in the world.

The report noted that the average life-span is longer than before, but that the increasingly high costs of care for the aged were forcing cuts in comforts. The result is that the "additional years modern society can bestow are unhappy ones," the report said.

5-DAY FORECAST CALLS FOR CONTINUATION OF COOL WEATHER HERE

COOL weather is expected to continue in the St. Louis area tomorrow through Saturday, the Weather Bureau said today in its extended forecast.

The five-day forecast: Temperatures will average 4 to 9 degrees below normal; a little warmer tomorrow; turning colder Wednesday and continued cool through Saturday; normal highs are in low 60s; normal lows in low 40s; showers or possibly thundershowers are expected about Wednesday or Thursday.

PEACE EMISSARY TO CONFER WITH CONGO REBELS IN STANLEYVILLE

Former Lumumba Ally to Sound Out Gizenga on Joining Confederation Formed by Rival Leaders.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, April 3 (AP)—A Lumumbist official who is on speaking terms with President Joseph Kasavubu's central government arranged a peace mission today to the rebel stronghold in Stanleyville.

Cleophas Kamitatu, leftist president of Leopoldville province, said he would sound out Antoine Gizenga, head of the Stanleyville regime, about joining the confederation of Congolese states that The Congo's anti-Communist political leaders are putting together.

The United Nations Congo Command agreed to give Kamitatu transportation to the rebel capital 775 miles northeast of Leopoldville, but it is not a party to any negotiations.

Previous Bids Snubbed.

Gizenga, who calls himself premier of all The Congo and is recognized by the Communist bloc and a few African states, has snubbed previous bids to join the confederation.

Kamitatu emphasized that he was undertaking his mission as a neutral and not as an emissary of the Kasavubu government. He and Gizenga were political associates of the late Patrice Lumumba, who had advocated a strong central government rather than a loose federation of states. After independence Lumumba's government was unable to hold The Congo together.

When Lumumba was ousted by Kasavubu last September, Gizenga fled to Stanleyville, set up a rump government and claimed the premiership after the ex-premier was killed.

6 Signed Proclamation.

Kamitatu remained in Leopoldville and once was arrested by the central government. Since then he has shown a degree of co-operation with Kasavubu and was one of the signers of the Tananarive proclamation of confederation.

For days Kamitatu had been trying to arrange a meeting with Gizenga. He charged that Kasavubu's government had blocked his previous efforts.

The Leopoldville provincial leader said he was taking a proposition to Gizenga and returning immediately with counter proposals. This is the most ambitious effort yet to bring about a reconciliation of the two factions.

Reports from Stanleyville, however, say that Gizenga's regime is still stoutly opposed to changing The Congo constitution to set up semi-independent states in place of the republic government.

Challenge to Kasavubu.

Gizenga has challenged Kasavubu to a test of strength by demanding that he reconvene Parliament, which has not sat since Lumumba was ousted and Joseph Ileo named premier.

Associated Press correspondent Antoine Yared reported from Stanleyville that Gizenga has offered two concessions: New general elections and a referendum on the federation issue.

Gizenga has recognized Kasavubu's position as president of The Congo, largely an honorary post under the constitution, but he has accused him of falling under the domination of Katanga province's President Moise Tshombe, the Lumuba faction's bitterest enemy.

Tshombe has been the prime mover for the confederation.

As a followup to the meeting in Tananarive, another conference was scheduled to start Wednesday at Kamina, Katanga, to formulate further the confederation. The Katanga government raised the possibility the meeting would not be held after the U.N. Command sent 1000 Gur-Kha troops from India into the province.

Assails Move.

Tshombe charged that the sending of the Indian troops was a "deliberate maneuver on the part of certain elements in the United Nations" to block the confederation.

The Gurkhas were flown from Leopoldville to the U.N. base at Kamina, where Wednesday's conference was to be held. The Katanga president said as far as he is concerned the meeting is now off.

Tshombe opposes Indian troops in The Congo because of Indian Prime Minister Nehru's previous espousal of Lumumba's cause and outstoken opposition to Tshombe.

A spokesman for the Stanleyville regime, Interior Minister Christopher R. Gbenye, issued an invitation to "those who are accusing us of Communism to send representatives here (to Stanleyville) to see for themselves." He promised a friendly reception in the rebel stronghold.

Gbenye said the Stanleyville regime welcomed the presence of the U.N. in The Congo, but Gizenga in an interview reported today by the Soviet news agency Tass was critical of the international organization.

The U.N. command delivered a note to Tshombe today from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold reportedly dealing with the Katanga army's recapture of Manono, in north Katanga, last week from Gizengist troops who invaded Katanga earlier this year.

Presumably, Hammarskjold protested against the military operation but Tshombe was expected to brush it aside. Katanga officials already have pointed out that the U.N. force did nothing to get the Gizengist invaders out of Manono and back where they came from.

The Secretary General's note also reportedly dealt with the Katanga government's reaction to the transfer of Indian troops to the province.

Despite the presence of the troops, units of the Katanga army today continued their drive into rebel-held north Katanga. Military officers reported that the ultimate objective of the drive was to pacify north Katanga and to subdue insurgent Baluba tribesmen.

Rail Junction is Goal.

The officers said the drive would continue until Tshombe's forces had taken the town of Kabalo, an important rail junction some 400 miles north of Elisabethville which is in the hands of anti-Tshombe Balubas.

Army officers reported clashes between white-officered detachments of the Katanga army and Baluba rebels north of Manono. Casualties were reported on both sides but there were no details.

A U.N. spokesman said a force of about 200 Ethiopian troops are still stationed in Kabalo "but they are more or less confined to the town and would not have prevented or attempted to prevent clashes between the Katanga army and Balubas."

The spokesman said as far as he knew the Gurkhas at Kamina, in western Katanga, "are settling down in their billets and are not being moved to central or northern Katanga."

Twenty-three white South Africans arrived in Elisabethville by plane from Johannesburg yesterday to join the Katanga army's white mercenary force.

AIRLINERS LAND SAFE IN SPITE OF WHEEL TROUBLES

BOSTON, April 3 (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines Electra with a damaged tire on one of its dual nose wheels landed safe last night on a foam-slicked runway at Logan International Airport with 65 passengers and a crew of five on a flight that began at Atlanta.

None of the 70 persons aboard felt more than the customary touch-down. Among the passengers were some students returning to Boston-area schools after the Easter vacation.

At almost the same time, landing gear trouble plagued a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane at Montreal International Airport.

In that case, the four-engine Vickers Vanguard from Tampa belly-landed with 42 passengers and seven crewmen after circling the field for nearly two hours in an unsuccessful effort to free a stuck left wheel.

There were no reports of injuries in either incident.

ANTI-BOMB GROUP IN DISTURBANCE AT U.S. EMBASSY

LONDON, April 3 (AP) — A massive "ban the H-bomb" rally spilled over tonight into a riotous demonstration in front of the United States embassy in Grosvenor square.

Police arrested seven of those involved and took them to jail. There was no attempt to damage the embassy building and nobody was injured.

The disturbance was an offshot of an earlier anti-nuclear rally in Trafalgar square, where 40,000 marchers assembled to roar demands for abolition of atomic weapons.

"We stand for sanity in a mad world," Earl Bertrand Russell, philosopher and dean of the nuclear disarmament movement, told the cheering crowd. "The possibility of complete disaster remains deadly and immediate. Nuclear war in the near future is probable unless Eastern and Western governments change their policies."

Organizers had hoped for a turnout exceeding the 70,000 demonstrators who assembled a year ago.

$14,789,476 SETTLEMENT AWARDED CHEROKEE INDIANS

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UPI) —Representative Ed Edmonds (Dem.), Oklahoma, said today the Indian Claims Commission has decided on a $14,789,476 award to the Cherokee Indian nation.

The award was in settlement of a claim against the government in connection with 6,022,000 acres of land the government reclaimed from the tribe in the Cherokee outlet in Oklahoma.

Today's award, according to Edmondson, represents the balance of a $22,585,000 claim, less $7,795,000 already paid to the Cherokees. The claim has been before the commission for more than 10 years.

PRAVDA URGES PLEBISCITE FOR PAKISTAN TRIBESMEN

MOSCOW, April 3 (AP)—Pravda today supported Afghanistan's demand for a plebiscite of Pathan tribesmen in Pakistan to determine if they want to organize an independent Pushtoonistan, remain in Pakistan or became a part of Afghanistan.

Pathan tribesmen live on both sides of the Afghan-Pakistani border. Afghanistan for years has been advocating they join in an independent state to be known as Pushtoonistan. The name is derived from Pushto, the tribal language.

The Pravda article asserted that Pakistan had moved eight divisions with United States equipment into the border region. Pakistan has rejected the idea of a plebiscite. While the Communist party paper suggested that the plebiscite be held among Pathan tribesmen in Pakistan it did not suggest that tribesmen in Afghanistan take part.

MOTORIST TOO POLITE FOR ROME PEDESTRIAN

ROME, April 3 (UPI(—Motorist Plinio Ranucci saw a pedestrian crossing the street yesterday and stopped to let him pass.

Pedestrian Giuseppe Masi told Ranucci to go ahead. The motorist insisted that the pedestrian had the right of way. The exchange of courtesies went on for some time. Then Masi whipped out a pistol and pointed the muzzle at Ranucci's throat.

"Drive on or I'll shoot you," he said in a threatening voice. Ranucci did. Police alerted by passers-by picked up Masi shortly afterward and took him to a neuro-psychiatric clinic.

CUBA PUTS ARMY IN NAVAL POSTS TO BAR UPRISINGS

Entire Detachment of One Navy Installation Reported to Have Defected.

HAVANA, April 3 (UPI) — Cuban army units controlled most of the island's naval installations today to prevent further uprisings by naval personnel opposed to the pro-Communist policies of the Castro regime.

Twenty-one sailors and one officer, the entire detachment of a small navy post at Guanad beach, were reported to have defected and escaped aboard a coast guard craft yesterday.

On Saturday, reports in Havana said the government had broken up a counter-revolutionary movement by 300 naval personnel. It was the fourth reported mutiny by naval officers and men.

Informed sources said 60 sailors and officers fled to Haiti aboard three PT boats while others escaped in smaller numbers aboard other craft when the government learned of the plot.

Bombings Continue.

Anti-government terrorists kept up their bombings in the Cuban capital. Two bombs were exploded near the government printing plants in Havana last night.

The Easter observance ended without extraordinary incidents in Havana. In the provinces, thousands made their traditional pilgrimage from El Canto to Arroyo Arena carrying a plaster image of Mary Magdalene, although a government permit was not issued this year.

Attendance at Easter Masses was reported high and laymen said the number of men receiving communion was unusually large. This was attributed to the recent church-state tension. Traditionally, Cuban men are reputed to be rather lukewarm churchgoers.

Other Developments.

In other developments:

Cuba's secret police identified members of a counter-revolutionary group seized Saturday on charges of sabotaging power and telephone lines, setting fires in a mattress factory and sprinkling nails in the path of carnival floats. They accused Mario Manuel Escoto Delgado of leading the group on behalf of Aureliano Sanchez Arango. Another was Ernesto Francisco Ventura, describer as an "organizer trained in United States mercenary camps."

Police announced they wounded Ernesto Perez Morales when he resisted arrest by a secret service agent in an apartment across the street from the former United States Embassy. A radio transmitter was reported found hidden in a closet of the apartment.

U.S. Ship Intercepted by Cuba, Then Freed After Jets Appear

Destroyer Also Goes to Aid of Cable Vessel About 5 Miles Off Port of Baracoa.

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba, April 3 (AP)—United States Naval authorities said today the American cable ship Western Union was intercepted by a Cuban gunboat and then freed after United States jet planes and a destroyer went to its assistance.

A Naval spokesman said the cable ship was stopped in international waters Saturday, about five miles off the Cuban port of Baracoa on the northeastern part of the island.

The United States destroyer John W. Weeks did not enter Cuban waters and the planes did not fly over them, the spokesman said.

The captain of the Western Union radioed Guantanamo that the craft had been intercepted by an armed Cuban gunboat, the spokesman said.

(In Washington, the State Department said it had asked the Swiss Embassy in Havana to demand from Cuba a full explanation of the civilian vessel's six-hour detention.)

"Loaded with gasoline and with a maximum speed of only a few knots, the Western Union had no alternative but to obey an order backed by arms," he added.

Jet planes flew out and located the Western Union midway between the point of interception and Baracoa. There the cable ship halted. Four hours later, when the destroyer arrived at emergency speed, the cable ship was released by the gunboat and steamed back on course toward Key West, Fla.

The cable ship was en route from Guantanamo to Key West, and is due there tomorrow, the spokesman said.

This was the first recent encounter between United States ships and planes with the Cuban armed forces. Several weeks ago, a Cuban air force fighter flew through a formation of unarmed anti-submarine planes on training maneuvers in international waters but disappeared when other United States aircraft appeared.

From fragmentary information reaching the naval base, it appeared the gunboat's commander accused the Western Union of violating Cuban territorial waters and ordered the ship into port.

The Western Union's captain reported to Guantanamo that at no time was he closer than five miles to the Cuban shore until he was ordered to port by the gunboat's officers, backed by 30 or 40 armed men, the spokesman said.

The incident has not been mentioned in Havana and there was no immediate comment from Cuban officials.

S. KOREAN POLICE DISPERSE ANTI-GOVERNMENT RALLY

SEOUL, April 3 (AP)—South Korean police swinging clubs broke up an anti-government rally in Taegu yesterday. News reports said an undetermined number of persons was injured.

Forty-three of 600 students and labor unionists who clashed with police in South Korea's third largest city were taken in custody by police for defying orders to disperse, Hapdong news agency reported. Earlier in the day, police broke up a rally in Seoul, but there were no reports of violence.

Socialists, student and labor organizations sponsored the rally at Taegu to oppose two security bills proposed by the government. The opposition asserts the bills are intended to wipe out political opposition to the government.

ARMY WILL ADD 1500 MEN TO ITS FAR EAST FORCE

To Send Another Battle Group to Fill Out Stand-by Manpower Requirements.

By JACK RAYMOND
© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, April 3—The United States is planning to send another 1500-man battle group to fill out stand-by manpower requirements for possible action in the Far East.

There is no indication of a major Army build-up. Army officials say they do not have enough men to carry out major reinforcements.

The battle group presumably will be assigned to the Twenty-fifth Infantry Division now stationed at Hawaii. This division has been below its regular strength. One of its five battle groups in Okinawa.

The Twenty-fifth Division's Okinawa-based combat unit is the Second Airborne Battle Group of the 503rd Regiment, a reinforced outfit with 1920 men instead of the usual 1500. It was sent to the Pacific from Fort Bragg, N.C., last summer.

Increased Personnel.

The new reinforcement will be covered with increments in personnel announced by President Kennedy in his defense budget message last week.

Of the 13,000 uniformed men to be added to the armed forces, making a total of 2,500,000, the Army will receive 5000, the Marines 3000, the Navy 3000 and the Air Force 2000.

The Army said its additional manpower would be used to double the size of the guerrilla-fighting special forces, which now have about 1800 men. They will be increased by 500 this year. Special force units are stationed in Germany, in Okinawa and at Fort Bragg.

Army officials conceded that they got considerably less than they sought in Mr. Kennedy's budget.

Army Estimate of Needs.

The Army estimates it needs 1,000,000 men and close to three billion dollars a year for at least three years to provide an adequate force with modern equipment. The Army had sought an additional 55,000 men for a total of 925,000.

EFFORT BEGUN TO FIND NEGROES FOR HIGH-LEVEL FEDERAL JOBS

U.S. Recruiter Touring Colleges—First Concrete Step in Kennedy's Anti-Bias Program.

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UPI)—The Kennedy Administration has embarked on the first step in a nation-wide drive to recruit college-trained Negroes for upper level jobs in the federal service.

It is in line with an order by President Kennedy for the Government to take "positive measures for the elimination of any discrimination, direct or indirect, which now exists" in Government hiring.

Ross Clinchy, a Civil Service Commission official assigned to minority group matters, departed yesterday on a six-week tour of 24 predominantly Negro colleges. Later, he will visit 70 additional colleges with heavy Negro enrollments. There, according to the commission's announcement, he will try "to encourage more well-qualified Negroes to apply for federal employment through the merit system."

Clinchy's mission is the idea of Commission Chairman John W. Macy Jr., and is strongly backed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

The endeavor is the first concrete move by the new committee to implement what Johnson has described as "the basic policy of this Administration" that federal jobs shall not be denied on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin.

Over the weekend Johnson asked that all government department heads report promptly on their plans and recommendations for ending discrimination in federal jobs and contracts.

Some departments already have issued new anti-discrimination orders. As one forerunner to Clinchy's trip, the Department of Labor sent its personnel director on a three-week recruiting trip to Negro colleges earlier this year.

Administration officials ran into an early roadblock in trying to carry out Mr. Kennedy's request for a census of the percentage of Negroes in government jobs.

The roadblock ironically was a product of past anti-discrimination action—a bar against mention of race on application or records of Government employes. The computation will have to await agency-by-agency counts in conjunction with surveys of current procedures on hiring.

Officials of the Equal Employment Committee said Clinchy's trip was motivated by Johnson's and Macy's desire to convince college-age Negroes they could have good government jobs if they would qualify themselves through training.

ST. LOUISAN DROWNS, BOAT CAPSIZES IN CURRENT RIVER

Mrs. Therese Lorene Asberry, 14 years old, of St. Louis, was drowned Saturday in a boating accident near where Jack's Fork joins the Current river in Shannon county, the Missouri Highway Patrol reported today.

The Patrol reported her address as 4260 Castleman avenue. The drowning occurred when a fishing boat in which Mrs. Asberry was riding capsized. Five other persons, including Mrs. Asberry's husband, James, 18, reached shore safely. Her body has not been recovered.

The Patrol said the Asberry's were vacationing with Asberry's mother in Ellington, Mo.

EASTER WEATHER SET A RECORD LOW FOR APRIL 2

Unseasonably cool weather continued today following a record low temperature for the date yesterday.

The mercury dropped at 4 a.m. yesterday to 23 degrees. The reading replaced the previous record low of 25 on April 2, 1956.

Although cool weather greeted worshippers at Easter sunrise service, the sun was out a large part of the day. The mercury rose to a high yesterday of 50 degrees and dropped this morning to a low of 35. Cool weather was forecast here for the next several days, except for somewhat higher temperatures tomorrow.

George H. Pring, superintendent of Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden, said the only damage caused by yesterday's sub-freezing weather was to magnolia blooms that were already out.

ROBBERY SUSPECT CAPTURED AFTER 4-MILE CHASE

A man who said he was George W. Daegele, an unemployed laborer, of Manchester, was arrested yesterday after a four-mile chase by an off-duty St. Louis county patrolman who fired four shots before capturing him at the dead end of Castle Cliff lane in Castlewood.

Patrolman Robert E. Woerther, who had just completed a tour of duty and was returning home in his own automobile, saw a man tampering with a coin changer in the Econ-O-Wash, 646 Manchester road, Ballwin.

As Woerther stopped, the man ran from the establishment to an automobile and drove away at a high rate of speed. Woerther fired two warning shots in the air and two at the car. Two objects were thrown from the automobile during the pursuit, Woerther said. Police later found a coin changing unit containing $30.

Daegele refused to make a statement. A warrant charging him with stealing under $50 was issued by Magistrate Leslie T. Lewis at Clayton. A hearing was set for Wednesday in Lewis's court.

MISS BYRD ANNE YORE DIES; MEMBER OF OLD FAMILY HERE

Miss Byrd Anne Yore, a member of an old St. Louis family, died today of infirmities of age at St. Luke's Hospital. She was 89 years old.

Miss Yore's paternal grandfather was Capt. Patrick Yore, a prominent riverman in this area in the pre-Civil War years. Her maternal grandfather was Martin Franklin Hanley, after whom Hanley road in St. Louis county was named. Miss Yore lived at 7600 Westmoreland avenue, Clayton, one of the oldest dwellings in Clayton. It was built in 1855 by Hanley.

Surviving is a sister, Miss Barbara Yore. Funeral services will be Wednesday at 11 a.m. at Alexander & Sons undertaking establishment, 6175 Delmar boulevard, with burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

BURGLARS AVOID 2 ALARMS, AND ROB OFFICE OF $200

The Reliable Utilities Co. office at 1518 St. Louis avenue was entered over the weekend by burglars who stole about $200 police reported today.

Police said entrance was gained through a trap door on theroof of the three-story building. The burglars avoided two burglar alarms on their way to the first floor office, where they battered open a safe, and broke open a cash register. Philip C. Lucido, owner of the firm, said the safe contained no money, but the cash register did.

A burglar alarm sounded at the building last night, but investigation by police and Lucido revealed nothing suspicious, police said.

MISSOURI BAPTIST HOSPITAL DRIVE REACHES $2,875,000

The capital funds campaign for the new Missouri Baptist Hospital has reached $2,875,000, or 96 per cent of the $3,000,000 goal, it was announced today.

Groundbreaking for the hospital, which will be at Ballas road and U.S. Highway 40 in St. Louis county, has been scheduled for May 21, with construction expected to be completed within two years. Joyce S. Pillsbury, chairman of the hospital board of managers, said the hospital will be the first in this area to be built with complete facilities for the new concept of "progressive patient care."

Under this concept, patients are placed in units according to the amount of care they need and perform as many normal hospital services for themselves as possible. The hospital will have 272 beds with a special wing for psychiatric and physical therapy sections. It ultimately will be expanded to 500 beds.

TWO WOMEN CUT AS CAR RUNS INTO PICTURE WINDOW

Two women were cut by glass when a runaway automobile crashed into a picture window in the home of Allen Stickner, 9024 Newby street, yesterday.

The driver, Alonzo Jackson, 9005 Newby, attributed the crash to a stuck accelerator. He told police he had adjusted the carburetor on his car and was making a test run when the accelerator stuck. An obstruction under the brake pedal added to the complications, Jackson was quoted as saying.

The car struck Stickner's parked car, knocking it onto the lawn, then ran into the picture window. Mrs. Ann McDonald, 74 years old, Stickner's mother-in-law, and Mrs. Rose Benne, 5044 Aubert avenue, a visitor, were cut on the legs by glass from the window.

Jackson, 22 years old, was booked for careless driving and destruction of property.

VAULT IN OFFICE OF APARTMENTS ROBBED OF $3000

Torch Used to Burn Hole in Steel Door in Audubon Park Quarters.

About $3000 was stolen from a vault in the offices of the Audubon Park Apartments, 1401 Thrush place, Brentwood, police reported today.

The theft was discovered at 5:30 a.m. by a maintenance man, who found the outside door to the office had been jimmied. An acetylene torch was used to burn a hole in the steel door of the vault, enabling the burglars to release an inside latch. Records inside the vault were scorched by heat from the torch.

Cash boxes containing rent receipts were forced open and carried into the office, where the cash was removed. A number of rent checks from tenants were stolen. Earl Alexander, apartment manager, said the office was locked at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Leo M. Avetta, a bartender, who is hard of hearing, was beaten seriously early today by three men who took an undetermined sum from his brother's tavern, 6114 Ridge avenue. He was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

Avetta, who was asleep in his quarters in the back of the tavern, was awakened by the men beating him about the face. He was treated for contusions of the head and eyes and lacerations of the lip.

His brother, Anthony A. Avetta, operator of the tavern, told police the bed was bloody and the room had been ransacked. Leo Avetta said he did not hear the men forcing the front door.

After beating him, the men tied him with a belt, necktie and pillow case. They robbed a cash register and several vending machines and stole a radio and an electric shaver. Leo Avetta freed himself about one and one-half hours after the robbery and called police.

Assault and robbery warrants will be sought today against Robert K. Harris, 20 years old, who was arrested yesterday shortly after he allegedly knocked a woman down on the street and fled with her purse.

Patrolman Herbert Riley, cruising in the 700 block of South Fouth street at 9:30 a.m., saw Miss Lillian L. Reed, 46 years old, sitting on the sidewalk calling for help. Miss Reed, who lives at 921A Park avenue, reported that a young man had knocked her down and fled with her purse and $2.50.

Evangelist Enters Hospital Following Weekend in Jail

The Rev. Bill Beeny Arrested in Dispute With Officers Over Eviction of Followers From Mission.

The Rev. Bill Beeny, evangelist, entered Firmin Desloge Hospital today for treatment of a chest ailment a few hours after being released from Jefferson county jail at Hillsboro. He had spent the weekend in jail after a dispute over eviction of a group of his followers from the Missouri Rescue Mission near Herculaneum.

He also faces eviction from the St. Louis House, 2345 Lafayette avenue, where he has presided over meetings of the St. Louis Baptist Temple since last August.

The Rev. Mr. Beeny said he will fight eviction from both places.

4 Apartment Buildings.

The Jefferson county mission has been operated by the Rev. Mr. Beeny since last Dec. 28 in four apartment buildings, each containing four units. John R. Kauffmann, representing Bluff Acres Corp., owner of the property, said the Rev. Mr. Beeny had failed to live up to purchase commitments.

Kauffmann is also chairman of the board of the St. Louis House Corp., owner of the St. Louis House. He said the Rev. Mr. Beeny is two months behind on his rent there.

Jefferson County Magistrate H. Glenn Weber issued an eviction notice on the mission property stating that the Rev. Mr. Beeny owed $1000. The notice was served last Thursday, and two deputies of the Jefferson county sheriff's office went to the mission Saturday to carry out the order.

Estimates of the number of occupants of the mission ranged from 14 to 30. The deputies had the occupants loading equipment into suitcases and piling it aboard a truck when the Rev. Mr. Beeny drove up.

Jumps on Truck.

He jumped on the bed of the truck. A deputy quoted him as saying, "I'm going to pack these things back inside, and the only way you are going to stop me is to arrest me."

He began carrying equipment from the truck into one of the apartments. When he came back for a second trip, he was placed under arrest on suspicion of interfering with an officer.

The eviction was concluded. Most of the occupants of the mission went to the Missouri Youth Ranch near Wright City, another project of the Rev. Mr. Beeny's.

The evangelist was taken to jail, where he refused to accept $500 bond offered for him by several of his friends and followers. John Williams, who is the Rev. Mr. Beeny's assistant, told a reporter that the evangelist refused the bond because he felt he would be admitting his guilt if he accepted it.

"He felt if he was in the wrong he should not be allowed bond, and if he was in the right, he shouldn't have to put any bond up," Williams said.

Later in the day, the Rev. Mr. Beeny complained about sharp pains in the chest and told officers he was coughing up blood. He was examined by Dr. Carl Rice, Jefferson county health officer. Dr. Rice said that the Rev. Mr. Beeny had a history of tuberculosis, had once undergone surgery for removal of a lung and six ribs, and in view of that might be better off in a hospital.

Continues to Refuse Bond.

The Rev. Mr. Beeny continued to refuse bond, however. Finally, on recommendation of the Jefferson county prosecuting attorney's office, Magistrate Weber issued a summons for the Rev. Mr. Beeny to appear in his court on April 27. The summons required no bond, and he was released about 1 a.m. today.

He returned to St. Louis, spent the rest of the night at his home and entered Firmin Desloge Hospital about 8 a.m. He said he was in severe pain.

Williams, meanwhile, charged that the St. Louis House Corp. was attempting to break a five-year lease signed by the Continental Advertising Agency last August. He said the Rev. Mr. Beeny is director of the agency, and Williams is business agent.

Hearing April 14.

Williams said that the $750 rent check always was paid personally to Kauffmann, but that early last February, Kauffmann had refused to accept a rent payment. The agency officials then received a letter saying they were in default of rent, Williams said, and later the eviction suit was filed. It is scheduled for hearing in St. Louis magistrate's court on April 14.

Lawrence N. Weenick, attorney for the St. Louis House Corp., said the lease agreement provides that the agency will pay rent monthly in advance, "and they were two months in arrears."

On March 19, the Rev. Mr. Beeny and a group of his followers picketed the Washington University campus demanding a congressional investigation to determine whether any Communists were on the faculty. The pickets reappeared for several consecutive days. The evangelist conducted meetings each night that same week at which he preached on the subject of possible Communist infiltration at the university.

All large Baptist organizations here have disclaimed any connection with or indorsement of the Rev. Mr. Beeny's campaign.

WEGER GETS LIFE TERM IN MURDER AT STARVED ROCK

Illinois Judge Rejects Contention Jury Was 'Pressured Into Guilty Verdict.'

OTTAWA, Ill., April 3 (UPI)—Chester Otto Weger, convicted killer, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the murder of one of three women at Starved Rock State Park more than a year ago.

Judge Leonard Hoffman sentenced Weger after a brief legal argument in which defense attorney John McNamara contended that the jury had been "pressured into returning a guilty verdict."

McNamara introduced an affidavit by juror Harold Herman which told of bailiffs exerting pressure on jurors.

Prosecuting Attorney Robert Richardson countered by introducing at least six affidavits from jurors saying that they had reached a verdict of their own free will.

Weger, who throughout the five-week trial showed little emotion, showed less today. Asked by Judge Hoffman if he had any statement, Weger said, "No sir, I do not."

Shortly before the court convened, Weger told reporters, "I'm innocent. I never killed anybody. I will not plead guilty to anything."

Weger was found guilty of bludgeoning Mrs. Lillian Oetting of Riverside, Ill. He also was charged with the killing of her two companions, Mrs. Mildred Lindquist and Mrs. Frances Murphy, also of Riverside, but has not been tried in the Lindquist and Murphy deaths.

At the time of his conviction March 3, the jury recommended life imprisonment, although some members of the jury later expressed dissatisfaction with their own verdict.

MAN IS KILLED, 2 PERSONS HURT AS CAR OVERTURNS

Willie Lowe Jr., 3907 Finney avenue, was killed and two persons were seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on U.S. Highway 67, one mile north of East St. Louis, Illinois State Police reported.

Lowe, 39 years old, was a passenger in a car driven by Marvin L. Hill, 4126A Shaw boulevard. Hill, 45, suffered a broken righ leg, head injuries, a severe eye injury and facial cuts. Another passenger, Miss Ruth Montgomery, 29, of 3936 Aldine avenue, suffered a broken left arm and head injuries.

Police said the automobile was northbound on the highway and apparently went out of control on a curve. It ran off the east side of the road and overturned in a ditch, trapping the victims inside.

A tow truck dragged the car out of the ditch and on to the road so that the victims could be freed, police said.

All were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. Miss Montgomery later was transferred to Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

Four persons were injured, two seriously, in a two-car collision at Morganford road and Carondelet avenue last night.

Mrs. Charles Yarshinsky, 53, of 3577 Valleywood drive, St. John, suffered a serious head injury, and James B. Kelley, 4019 Healy court, suffered a possible broken back.

Yarshinsky told police he and his wife were driving west on Carondelet and collided with the Kelley automobile at the Morganford intersection. Yarshinsky, 56, suffered a bruised knee, and Kelley's son, John B. Kelley III, 19, suffered a bruised shoulder.

All were taken to City Hospital, where Yarshinsky and the younger Kelley were released after treatment. Police booked both drivers on suspicion of careless driving.

Sherman Spence Jr., 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Spence, 3320 Lucas avenue, suffered head injuries yesterday when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home.

Police said the driver of the car, Joe Seemster, 35, of 4749 Greer avenue, said the boy darted into the path of his westbound car from behind a parked truck. The boy was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital and later transferred to St. Louis Children's Hospital. Seemster was not held.

Express Highway Crash.

Kenneth E. Fiebig, 2000 Laclede Station road, Maplewood, suffered serious head injuries Saturday night when the automobile in which he was riding struck another car on the Express Highway ramp near the eastern connection with Market street.

Fiebig, 26, a passenger in a westbound car driven by Merle E. Williams, 7231 Esplanade avenue, Maplewood, was thrown from the car when the Williams machine struck the rear of another westbound car driven by Lester L. Petefish, 3 Deer Creek Woods, Ladue. Williams's car went over the center divider and stopped in the eastbound lane. The Petefish car caught fire, but Petefish and three children riding with him escaped unharmed, police said.

Fiebig and Williams were taken to City Hospital, where Williams was treated for head cuts and released. Persons in the other automobile refused medical treatment. Eastbound Express Highway traffic was blocked for about 40 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, 2010 South Twelfth street, suffered minor injuries when they were struck by an automobile when crossing the street in front of their home Saturday night.

Baker, 41, told police he and his wife, 49, were returning from the store and were struck near the middle of the street by a small foreign car. A witness furnished police with a license number and police later arrested a suspect. The suspect, owner of a small foreign car, denied knowledge of the accident. The Bakers were released after treatment at City Hospital.

CAPITAL CHERRY BLOSSOMS DRAW THRONG, JAM TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The famed cherry blossoms attracted thousands of spectators to Washington's tidal basin yesterday.

Crowds promenaded the banks and the lower mall, near the Washington monument, in brisk winds and 50-degree temperatures. Many more spectators stayed in their automobiles, creating bumper-to-bumper traffic for blocks.

END UNFAIR TAXATION IN ST. LOUIS VOTE YES

FOR THE

CHARTER AMENDMENT

St. Louis has an obsolete tax law that was written in 1914 when there were only 88 taxable businesses in the city.

Today, there are more than 600 different businesses!!! but still only 88 are taxed . . .

What does this mean to you . . . and to every other taxpayer? Why, it means that an unfair burden of taxes is being placed upon you because more than 500 other businesses are still exempted by an ancient and unfair law . . . and we must all pay higher taxes as a result.

The present law has been denounced by Grand Juries and by numerous committees. It encourages inequality and cheating. It places an unfair burden upon every homeowner and every taxpayer.

End this discrimination in taxation.

End an unfair tax that allows 500 businesses to escape their fair share and makes thousands of other taxpayers take up the slack.

Mother Goes Into Well to Save Daughter, 4; Son, 6, Brings Help

HAMILTON, N.Y., April 3 (AP) — When her 4-year-old daughter fell into an abandoned well yesterday, Mrs. Arthur Linsley climbed 24 feet down the shaft and held the child above water while a 6-year-old son ran for help.

Neither mother nor daughter was injured.

Mrs. Linsley, wife of a Colgate University professor, had taken Barbara and David for an Easter drive in the country.

When the children spotted an abandoned house and asked to explore it, Mrs. Linsley agreed. Inside the house, Barbara leaned over the open well shaft and lost her balance.

Mrs. Linsley told David to run to the nearest home for help, then removed her coat and descended in the shaft.

"It was easy to descend because of the protruding stones," she explained later.

When she reached Barbara, Mrs. Linsley braced her back and feet against the walls of the well and pulled the girl up into her arms.

Mrs. Linsley, an expert swimmer, said that last summer she had taught Barbara to hold her breath under water and to stay calm.

David ran half a mile to the home of Edward Davey, who summoned the Hamilton volunteer fire department.

Two firemen, Dean Shaul and Mort Karpp, climbed down the well with ropes and pulled mother and daughter to safety.

Mrs. Linsley estimated she held her daughter 15 to 20 minutes.

"I was getting a little shaky by the time the firemen arrived," she said.

Firemen said the well was three feet in diameter and had about seven feet of water at the bottom.

Barbara was examined at a hospital and sent home. Mrs. Linsley apparently suffered no ill effects.

PRIEST SHOOTS AND KILLS ROBBER IN CHURCH RECTORY

DENVER, April 3 (AP)—A convicted burglar and narcotics violator was shot to death by a priest in an attempted burglary at the St. Catherine's Catholic Church rectory last night.

Police said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Delisle A. Lemieux surprised Richard E. Sanders and a companion as they searched drawers in the dining room of the rectory.

Police said Msgr. Lemieux reported he was holding the men captive with a shotgun when they tried to attack him. He fired, hitting Sanders. The other robber fled.

STRING OF 'WATCH TOWERS' TO PROTECT SOUTH AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG, April 3 (AP) — The defenses of South Africa and the neighboring mandated territory of South West Africa are to be strengthened by construction of 160 concrete "watch towers" built like pillboxes and protected by minefields and ditches.

The Johannesburg Sunday Express reported this yesterday in an interview with Defense Ministr J. J. Fouche, who said the watch towers will stretch from Cape Town in the south to Windhoek, capital of South West Africa, in the north.

Fears have been expressed here that South West Africa is threatened by the racial unrest which already has shaken its northern neighbor, Portuguese Angola.

Now! Relieve acid attacks caused by STOMACH TENSION

Tablet discovery checks attacks in seconds...
then works like a warm glass of milk
to keep acid stomach soothed for hours

N.Y., N.Y. (Special). Medical science knows that today, millions suffer from Stomach Tension...a distress caused by today's hectic pace of living.

Stomach Tension pours wave after wave of burning acid onto delicate stomach tissues. But ordinary antacids merely relieve the first wave of acid... then leave the stomach open to further attack. An antacid was needed that could give prolonged soothing relief...the same amazing relief that doctors knew a warm glass of milk gave. The answer came when physicians discovered a Glycine compound—a medication that soothed a burning acid stomach even better than a warm glass of milk. This compound gave faster relief than ordinary antacids, and actually worked to soothe the stomach for hours. This most effective compound is named Amitone.

If you have Stomach Tension and ordinary antacids don't give the relief you want, get Amitone. No prescription needed.

Heavy Guard

extensive investigation of background would answer one essential question: Have the persons connected with grave threats against the Kennedys been shuttling back and forth across the Florida Straits to Cuba?

Tourist-Flow Heavy.

Summery weather ideal for sightseeing and current publicity about kidnap threats directed at 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the President, produced a heavy flow of tourists yesterday past the home of the chief executive's father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy. One sightseer reported his car was stolen while he got out for a closer look at the Kennedy villa, but Palm Beach police said the vehicle was returned later.

About 1000 persons gathered in the vicinity of the church when the President and his wife, Jacqueline, in a new blue ensemble of shantung silk with matching pillbox hat of blue straw, arrived for 10 a.m. Mass.

To avoid possible dangers in the crowd packed around the front of the church, Secret Service agents led the Kennedys through a side door of the church. The President sat across the church from his normal pew and Secret Service agents stood in the aisle beside him, an unusual security measure taken because of many standees at the Mass.

At one point an usher who did not know Baughman requested the Secret Service chief to move back a bit. With a smile, Baughman complied.

The Kennedys left church by the front entrance, but between rope barricades to hold back the spectators who cheered the couple as they got into their white convertible.

Back at the Kennedy home, the family observed the fun side of Easter, playing with Caroline and her Easter presents which were shared with a number of cousins, also in Florida for the spring holidays.

After a large family dinner of roast lamb, the President, with Secret Service escort, drove to the nearby Seminole Golf Club where he played with a foursome that included Earl E. T. Smith, former Ambassador to Cuba.

Remark at Meeting.

By the Associated Press.

A remark made at a meeting of a Puerto Rican organization in the Palm Beach area was passed along to the Secret Service, which immediately began an investigation.

A source familiar with the development said a Cuban garment worker was heard to remark: "We ought to abduct Caroline Kennedy to force the United States to stop interferring with Cuba's (Castro) government."

At a meeting of the Puerto Rican Democratic organization in Miami March 24, that remark and others were reported, and the next day a representative of the group passed them on to Wendall Rollason of Miami, director of the Inter-American Affairs Commission.

Rollason contacted Frank Watterson, a State Department security officer in Miami, and he in turn contacted the Secret Service.

Worker Checked.

Tony Varona, co-ordinator of the anti-Castro Democratic Revolutionary Front in Miami also was informed and he put that organization's intelligence forces to work. They learned the garment worker has pro-Castro relatives in Cuba.

Investigators reported the suspected plotters may also have contemplated an attempt to assassinate the President's whole family.

The Secret Service located four Cuban suspects, one reported to be a woman, and has had them under close surveillance since.

Rollason, in confirming his role in the case, said, "Initial credit belongs to the Puerto Rican organization for bringing this to the attention of government security officials."

Chinese Threat

mediately they would lose that advantage."

The neutralist Asian prime minister said "the fault in Laos lies on both sides, on the Western and the Communist bloc. The situation is still dangerous despite the Russian reply (to the British peace plan). My only prayer is that the Americans won't do anything to worsen it."

In Manila, Philippines Foreign Secretary Felixberto Serrano said the Soviet note on Laos "seems to be a setback" because of its vagueness about a cease fire.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the United States would prefer the proposed 14-nation conference on Laos to be held in New Delhi rather than the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, as proposed by Moscow.

Informed sources in the Indian capital said the United States feels Phnom Penh lacks facilities and communications for a major international meeting.

REDS CLOSING IN ON BASE IN LAOS

© New York Times News Service

PA DONG, Laos, April 3 — Communist forces are closing in on this mountain stronghold of Lao s's fierce Meo tribesmen and there is danger that it may have to be avandoned in the next few deys.

For the past two months this village and others nearby have been the center of reisistance to the Communist occupation of Xieng Khouang province. Meo tribesmen from this area have probably killed more rebel soldiers since January than has the royal army.

Consequently Pa Dong and its sister towns in the vicinity are primary targets in the Communist plan to conquer Laos. Unless the Meo threat at their rear can be eliminated no supply line is safe, no rear area can be considered secure and too many troops must be kept in the area just for protection of rebel headquarters.

For Pa Dong is only 10 miles south of Xieng Khouang ville, at the eastern end of the Plaine des Jarres, where the Laotian pro-Communists and their North Viet Namese allies have their principal base. Only one ridge lies between Pa Dong, which does not appear on any maps, and Xieng Khouang city. Although there are no formal lines in the Laotian civil war, Pa Dong lies well within the area considered to be pro-Communist territory.

The only way to get here from Vientiane is by helicopter or a light plane that can use extremely short landing strips.

Dong clings to the shoulder of a mountain at the 4500-foot mark and the top of the mountain rises at least another 1000 feet above it.

The latest of all migrants into Laos—the 60,000 to 80,000 Meos probably have been in this country less than 200 years—these tribesmen are completely unrelated to the majority Lao race as well as to other minority groups in the country.

Proud, independent and brave, the Meo are considered by many to be the country's most effective fighting force. Some westerners believe this is the result of Meo experience with Communist rule several years ago in Sam Neua province where they learned that their way of life was doomed by an authoritarian state.

The Laotian government is well aware that the Meos bear it no real love and one of the biggest problems of the United States military assistance program in this country is to get weapons into the hands of the Meos. Most Lao feel instinctively that if the Meo are armed they may well turn their weapons on the lowlanders one day.

North Viet Nam Denies Its Troops Had Part in Laotian Battle.

TOKYO, April 3 (AP)—North Viet Nam denied again yesterday that Communist Vietminh troops took part in an offensive against Tha Thom, Laos, 85 miles northeast of Vientianne. The denial was made by a spokesman of the Foreign Ministry at Hanoi and relayed by Red China's official New China news agency.

The Laotian government said Saturday Communist rebels, including 14 battalions from North Viet Nam, attacked Tha Thom and two other strongholds, Kam Keut and Mahaxay. The rebels captured Tha Thom Friday.

The Hanoi spokesman in his denial did not mention attacks on Kam Keut, 130 miles east of Vientiane, and Mahaxay, 22 miles from the Mekong fiver south of Kam Keut.

lems faced by government forces.

(They apparently flew supplies on their initial mission to hard-pressed government troops near the embattled village of Tha Thom in Xieng Khouang province. Government troops were driven from Tha Thom Friday by rebel troops, including some paratroopers reported dropped from Soviet planes.

(Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, Laotian defense minister and deputy premier, said rebel forces were still advancing in the Tha Thom area after taking the village in an assault, UPI reported.

(On the Vientiane-Luang Prabang highway near Muong Kassy, government forces were reported to be advancing slowly against rebel counter- attacks, mostly by patrols supported by artillery and mortar fire.)

In Washington, officials cautioned that claims of the royal Laotian government about a large-scale rebel offensive should be considered with reservations.

State Department press officer Lincoln White disputed the description of activity at Tha Thom as a battle. No fight was involved there he said." My understanding is the royal troops fell back and the Communists moved in."

Asked whether an important military action had taken place, he replied, "if these press reports are accurate, we have no information to confirm it."

White declined to say why the United States-aided government troops pulled out. Nor would he say whether this amounted to a military setback, or whether the actual military situation is now in such a lull that a cease-fire has, in fact, taken place.

Rusk Talks With Aides.

Rusk and his top aids, among them Charles E. Bohlen, ranking Soviet expert, and Richard Usher, deputy director of the State Department's Southeast Asian office, met for almost three hours yesterday. Officials said they outlined United States views on the reply.

Last night, officials indicated that the United States would insist on an effective cease-fire before it entered any international conference to settle Laos's fate.

"We have always said we wanted a cease-fire first," one source said. "That is still our position . . . I don't think we could back off that . . . we'd be asking for trouble."

Rusk has also contended that "the first thing required is a cessation of hostilities to permit negotiations to go ahead."

Some sources reported, however, that Washington does not insist on a formal truce and would be satisfied with a de facto cessation of hostilities. The reply, these sources said, may make this point clear.

The Russians want the conference to meet early this month regardless of whether the fighting has stopped in Laos.

Congressional Comment.

In comments on the Laotian situation over the weekend:

Representative Walter H. Judd (Rep.) of Minnesota, said he did not believe Mr. Kennedy acted strongly enough or early enough and that he thought the Communists were stalling, "trying to raise the ante."

Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep.), of Iowa, said that while any Western military intervention would have to be a combined effort of United States troops, SEATO and North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces, "it might be possible that it would be unnecessary to send in United States troops, but to send in supplies and logistic support."

Representative Clement Zablocki (Dem.), of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Far Eastern subcommittee, also said it may not be necessary to send in United States combat troops in the event of military intervention by the West.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.), of Minnesota, said the Administration would have to be on guard in handling the "serious" situation in Laos, but doubted that "we are going to be outmaneuvered."

Way Opened for Peace in Laos, Moscow Radio Says.

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—The Moscow Radio said last night, "The way to a peaceful settlement in Laos may be regarded as opened."

The German language broadcast said if Britain's proposals and the Russian reply concerning a cease-fire and an international conference on Laos are compared, "you can hardly detect any difference of principle between them. In the absence of such differences, one should think that the way to a peaceful settlement in Laos may be regarded as opened."

The broadcast said, "Some recent events, however, seriously enjoin caution," and added:

"While the Soviet Union was known to be preparing her reply to the British aide-memoire, the members of the notorious SEATO were meeting in Bangkok.

"Several speeches made there bore a downright provocative character, not to mince words.

"Foreign news agencies claim that for all the vagueness of the final document, the participants of the SEATO meeting directly raised the question of direct intervention by this bloc in Laos.

"One would like to believe," the broadcast concluded, "that the Western powers will show willingess, not only on paper but by deeds, to search for means and ways toward a peaceful settlement in Laos."

Unemployment

aid program, the association urged that assistance be given to communities hit by foreign competition. Recommended were grants to firms for re-equipment and to help in the reconversion of industrial facilities "to productive processes that can fully hold their own competitively."

The association said that "outmigration" of the jobless from labor surplus areas should be facilitated by strengthening the United States Employment Service on a national scale and by subsidizing the retraining and resettlement of workers desiring to migrate from distressed areas.

Impact On Older Persons.

The association took particular note of the fact that those most affected by extended unemployment are men 65 and older, but went on to say that the tendency toward widespread joblessness in the 45-64 age group also is "very disturbing."

"Age discrimination" must be tackled now, the association said, because of family and other responsibilites in the 45-and-older group and also because in 10 years 40 per cent of the work force will be found in this age bracket.

The association also advocated establishment of a youth conservation corps to put unskilled and idle young people to work on outdoor projects; reform of the high school curriculum to place greater emphasis on vocational training for those who would drop out of school otherwise; tax deductibility for individual expenses for continued education after school, and extension of fringe benefits, such as vacations, insurance and pensions to parttime workers on a proportionate basis with full-time workers.

Coalition Rule Is Best Hope For Laos, Harriman Believes

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's ambassador-at-large, said yesterday a coalition government would be the best hope for Laos, if the present conflict there can be halted.

He said he was satisfied, too, that "if the Russians and (Red) Chinese play the game," the small Asian country, whose present embattled status might touch off a world war, could remain neutral in the cold war.

Harriman, just back from a fact-finding tour for Mr. Kennedy in Asia and Europe, said he was convinced a coalition government could be formed without an eventual Communist takeover of power.

"It's been true of Finland," Harriman declared.

Harriman spoke on a television-radio interview taped with Senator Kenneth B. Keating, (Rep.), New York, for New York stations.

The traveling ambassador said Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "practicing brinkmanship" but he "doesn't want war." He said he does not believe Khrushchev will push his campaign for Communism to the point of war anywhere "unless he gets caught."

"But it's a dangerous situation where there are such aggressive intentions as Mr. Khrushchev has and, of course, the Red Chinese are even more aggressive," Harriman said.

Harriman explained that most of the people he talked with on the Asian phase of his tour "thought that it was necessary to have a coalition government (in Laos) in order to establish neutral policies." He said:

"Now, if later on, the electorate vote for a different government, why that's another matter, but to start off with, after this conflict that's existed, I think it has to be a coalition government."

Harriman expressed belief that Laotian Prince Souvanna Phouma, foremost exponent of neutrality for Laos, whom he met on his tour, should be included in any Laotian coalition.

"He's a factor that has to be dealt with," Harriman explained, "and I think he should be in any government. He thinks he ought to be Prime Minister. Whether that should be done or not, I don't know, but he certainly should be in any government."

The Prince, former Laotian Prime Minister, fled the country when the present Western-oriented government, headed by Prince Boun Cum, took over last year.

Harriman made these other points:

"Our one hope is the United Nations" in thwarting the Russian attempt to move into The Congo through the Gizenga government.

Mr. Kennedy is getting his message across to the world. "There's a touch of Franklin Roosevelt in him that seems to be getting across and his name is very highly regarded."

American prestige, which Mr. Kennedy said in the presidential campaign had ebbed, is good today. "If the people of the world will look to us and if we undertake our share of the responsibilities of the world, why our prestige will be strong."

If the United States sticks to its opposition to admission of Red China to the United Nations, "the Red Chinese are more likely to come around to recognizing that they have to accept international responsibility rather than their present aggressive attitudes."

Foreigners are becoming enthusiastic about Mr. Kennedy's Peace Corps, now that they know members are going only where they are invited and where there are special jobs for them to do.

U.S. AND SOUTH VIET NAM SIGN TRADE AND AMITY PACT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 3 (AP)—South Viet Nam and the United States signed an amity and economic treaty today. Foreign Minister Vu Van Mau signed for South Viet Nam, and Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow for the United States.

CHILD PUNISHED BY FLAME, 4 OTHERS KILLED BY FIRE

SAGINAW, Mich., April 3 (AP)—Four years ago Mrs. Delores Johnson was placed on probation after a jury found her guilty of cruelty to her 4-year-old daughter, Debra. The charge was that she held the child's hands over an open gas flame as punishment for playing with matches.

Yesterday Debra and four other children perished when fire destroyed their home. Mrs. Johnson and two other daughters, Darlene, 11, and Diane, 2, escaped by smashing a window.

The dead, in addition to Debra, were Andrew, 4, Alan, 6, Donna Jean, 9, and Jeffrey, an infant.

U.N. ASSEMBLY VOTES TO EXTEND CONGO SPENDING

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly overrode bitter Soviet opposition today and approved a temporary extension of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's Congo spending powers.

The vote on the stop-gap resolution was 51 to 10 with 22 abstentions. The negative votes were cast by the Soviet bloc and Mali.

Soviet delegate A. A. Roshchin challenged the legality of the Assembly's action. He said the United Nations is carrying out the Congo operation in the interest of the colonial powers and is pushing itself into bankruptcy by actions which violate the U.N. Charter.

"From top to bottom," Roshchin said, "the operation has been guided by the colonial powers."

The resolution, sponsored by India, authorizes Hammarskjold to go on spending $8,000,000 a month on military and civilian operations in the African territory up to April 21, closing date of the current Assembly session.

Hammarskjold's previous three-month spending authorization ran out Friday night, the day after the budgetary committee approved the Indian resolution 38-9 with 23 abstentions.

The temporary authorization to Hammarskjold gives the budget committee more time to seek a way of financing the U.N. Congo force and attached civilian employes through 1961.

Eighteen Latin American countries are submitting a financing plan to the committee this afternoon calling for the five permanent members of the Security Council—the United States, Britain, France, Russia and Nationalist China—to pay 70 per cent of the Congo operation and countries whose public and private investment in The Congo exceeds $1,000,000 each to pay 25 per cent. The other 5 per cent of the $120,000,000 cost estimated for 1961 would be divided among all other U.N. members.

Carlos Sosa-Rodriguez of Venezuela, the chairman of the Latin American group, said his group did not know how its resolution was viewed by the United States Government, which is expected to end up paying 50 to 60 per cent of the Congo costs, as compared with its normal contribution of 32.5 per cent of the regular U.N. budget.

NEW SOVIET-BUILT PORT ON RED SEA OPENED BY YEMEN

MOSCOW, April 3 (AP)—A new seaport for the isolated Arabian kingdom of Yemen has been completed by Soviet specialists and now is in opeeration.

In a dispatch from Yemen, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that the port of Ahemdi opened yesterday and three ships arrived, including a Soviet vessel delivering a consignment of sugar.

The port, named for Yemen's ruler, the Imam Ahmed, is located at the Red sea city of Hodeida. Tass said the Russians installed five-ton gantry cranes to handle cargo, built four piers and dredged out a 5½-mile channel.

The Imam was shot by an assassin last Monday while visiting Hodeida, presumably in connection with the port opening. The ruler, who has accepted aid from East and West, was reported to have been wounded in the leg.

MAJOR FLOODS NOT LIKELY IN MISSOURI THIS SPRING

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3 (UPI)—Present indications are that Kansas and Missouri will escape major damage this year from spring floods. The Weather Bureau based this prediction today on a 30-day forecast which calls for near normal precipitation in both states.

"The situation most certainly does not look critical," said H. L. Jacobsen, chief Weather Bureau forecaster for the Kansas City district. "The weather pattern does not appear conducive to floods in either Kansas or Missouri."

WIND, SNOW HIT FIFTH AVENUE EASTER PARADE

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Gusty winds, chilling temperatures and snow flurries buffeted Easter paraders along Fifth avenue yesterday.

High frilly bonnets were often barely visible beneath the hands of women paraders as they clutched their hats against the wind.

Gusts tore apart the piled-up hairdos of several women.

Among those joining the parade was former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, in morning attire.

Thousands of the paraders who deserted the marching ranks early slipped into the shelter of Rockefeller Plaza to view the wind-battered Easter floral display there.

Now! Relieve acid attacks caused by STOMACH TENSION

Tablet discovery checks attacks in seconds...
then works like a warm glass of milk
to keep acid stomach soothed for hours

N.Y., N.Y. (Special). Medical science knows that today, millions suffer from Stomach Tension...a distress caused by today's hectic pace of living.

Stomach Tension pours wave after wave of burning acid onto delicate stomach tissues. But ordinary antacids merely relieve the first wave of acid... then leave the stomach open to further attack. An antacid was needed that could give prolonged soothing relief...the same amazing relief that doctors knew a warm glass of milk gave. The answer came when physicians discovered a Glycine compound—a medication that soothed a burning acid stomach even better than a warm glass of milk. This compound gave faster relief than ordinary antacids, and actually worked to soothe the stomach for hours. This most effective compound is named Amitone.

If you have Stomach Tension and ordinary antacids don't give the relief you want, get Amitone. No prescription needed.

2 FROM AIRLINE TO TESTIFY IN EICHMANN TRIAL

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, April 3 (UPI)—The court scheduled to try accused Nazi mass murderer Adolf Eichmann overruled prosecution objections yesterday and subpenaed two employes of the Israeli airline, El Al, as witnesses for the defense.

Their testimony might shed some light on the manner in which Eichmann was kidnapped by Israeli agents from Buenos Aires and brought to Israel to stand trial.

Eichmann is accused of implementing the Hitler plan for annihilating Jews. The Israeli government said it had nothing to do with Eichmann's capture, saying he was seized by volunteers.

Attorney General Gideon Hausner said the testimony of the two El Al employes, Svi Tohar and Jap Shimony, would be irrelevant to the case.

The court, however, granted a request by Eichmann's German attorney, Cologne lawyer Robert Servatius, that they appear. The two will be called April 12, a day after the trial's scheduled opening.

STUDIO OWNER ARRESTED, PHOTOS SEIZED BY RAIDERS

The John Kaye Photography Studio, 2621 South Jefferson avenue, was raided today by detectives who confiscated several thousand photographs and colored slides of women in various stages of undress. The studio owner, John Kolokithas, was arrested.

Detectives Robert Richter and Robert Green said they served a search warrant on Kolokithas after having the studio under surveillance for about a week. Kolokithas, an insurance claim adjustor of 6924 West Park avenue, admitted operating the studio on a part-time basis at night, they said.

Several women who posed for the photographs were brought to the Lynch street station for questioning. Kolokithas's photographic supplies weer confiscated and he was charged with possession of obscene matter with intent to sell and circulate it.

DENIAL THAT SOME IN CZECH PLANE CRASH WERE SHOT

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 3 (UPI)—Medical investigators today ruled out the possibility that some of the 52 victims of a Czech plane crash last Tuesday had been shot to death.

Dr. Alex Neiss, head of the investigating team, said after X-rays of all the bodies had been completed "Medical men can say for sure that the bodies did not contain bullets. Former indications that this might have been the cause (of death) did not prove true after closer examination."

The plane, a Soviet-built turboprop airliner, crashed near Forchheim on a flight between Prague and Zurich. A pistol was found in the wreckage.

U.S. IMPORT CUTS COULD BOOMERANG, ERLANDER SAYS

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Prime Minister Erlander of Sweden cautioned today that any cut in United States imports aimed at reducing unemployment and curbing the overseas flow of dollars could boomerang on the United States.

Describing such an approach, proposed by some segments of United States industry, as protectionism, Erlander told a National Press Club luncheon that free trade is a two-way street. Free trade, he said, is an essential part of international co-operation.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN AUTO

Thebody of William F. Klasing, a salesman, was found in an automobile in the garage beside his home at 5505 Finkman avenue today. Police said a hose was extended from the exhaust pipe to a window of the car.

Klasing, 56 years old, was found by a neighbor, William L. Wells, 5509 Finkman, who had been called by Klasing's daughter after she could not reach her father by telephone. Relatives said Klasing had been despondent over the death of his wife last year.

4 KILLED IN HEAD-ON CRASH NEAR QUINCY, ONE SURVIVOR

QUINCY, Ill., April 3 (AP)—Two cars collided head on yesterday, killing four persons who were pinned in the wreckage.

Only one occupant, Hardin Abrams, 18 years old, of Hannibal, Mo., survived. He was injured seriously.

Those killed were Leslie G. McGinley, 45, his wife, Shirley, 26, and a friend, William J. Utter, 54, all of Quincy, and the driver of the car in which Abrams was riding, Terry E. Ashburn, 18, of Hannibal. The cars crashed on Illinois 57, three miles south of Quincy.

TRIAL REVIEWS GRANTED BECK AND HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UPI) —The Supreme Court agreed today to review the convictions of two labor union figures—Dave Beck, once-powerful former boss of the Teamsters, and Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Union.

Beck, who was supplanted as president of the Teamsters Union by James R. Hoffa, had been found guilty by a Washington State court of pocketing $1900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

Hutcheson had been sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 on contempt charges for refusing ton answer questions of a Senate committee investigating alleged Indiana highway scandals in 1958.

The Supreme Court agreed to hear arguments in their cases sometime next fall and hand down decisions later.

Refused to Answer.

Hutcheson, who has headed the United Brotherhood of Carpenters (AFL-CIO) since 1952, was called before the Senate committee investigating improper labor-management activities in June, 1958, but refused to answer 18 questions.

Hutcheson did not invoke his Fifth Amendment privilege. He told the committee the first question addressed to him related "solely to a personal matter..."

He argued in court that he could properly balk at questions if the answers might damage him in the Indianapolis case.

The Supreme Court also agreed to review the embezzlement conviction of former Teamster boss Dave Beck on charges of pocketing $1900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

The Washington State Supreme Court affirmed Beck's conviction last June by a 4-to-4 vote. He is now free on bond in this case, as well as in one involving federal income tax conviction which also is being appealed.

Other Actions.

In other actions, the Supreme Court:

Let stand a ruling that the next phase of the seven-year legal struggle between the Kohler Co., of Wisconsin and the United Automobile Workers be fought here or in Chicago. Today's brief order rejected the company's appeal from a decision by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia requiring the case to be heard in that court.

Ruled 6 to 3 that lower courts should reconsider a $65,520 damages award to Virginia Electric and Power Co. for loss of a flowage easement on certain lands the Federal Government acquired in connection with construction of the John H. Kerr dam and reservoir on the Roanoke river. Those in the minority, Justices Charles Whittaker and Hugo Black and Chief Justice Earl Warren—took the view the power company was not entitled to anything.

Refused to consider a legal conflict over damage suits filed by coal operators against the United Mine Workers of America. At issue were strikes which involved what sort of collective bargaining agreements call for arbitration. The $2,700,000 damage suit against the union was brought by the Mile Branch Coal Co., of Pittsburgh because of a 1953 strike at its mines in Perry county, O.

KENNEDY PASSOVER MESSAGE SAYS FREEDOM IS STRONGER

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—President Kennedy said last night in a Passover message that freedom is stronger in the world now than in the past.

"Tyranny walks abroad and there is fear on the doorsteps of many houses" he said in a message read to 2000 persons attending the annual third seder of the National Committee for Labor Israel. "Yet, this much has changed—freedom has greater strength than in the past.

"It is well for free men everywhere to taste again of the suffering of the past through memory and celebration, for this makes present conviction firmer."

THIEF STEALS ROBBER'S LOOT—AND HIS PISTOL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3 (UPI)—A thief stole a robber's loot from a holdup, police were told today.

Officers said Eugene R. Hinkley admitted he held up a drive-in restaurant last week and took an undisclosed amount of money. Hinkley said he drove to Omaha, Nebr., stored the loot and his pistol under the front seat, and parked the car.

When he returned the next day, he said, someone had broken a window vent and made off with both the pistol and the money.

DR. DAVID M. GOULD DIES

DENVER, April 3 (AP)—Dr. David M. Gould, chairman of the department of radiology at the University of Colorado School of Medicine, died yesterday in a hospital. He was 48 years old.

Dr. Gould suffered a heart attack at his home Saturday night. He joined the University of Colorado medical staff in September 1959, coming to Denver from the University of Arkansas Medical Center at Little Rock.

BUNDY CRIES 'FOUL' ABOUT QUOTATION ON KENNEDY TEAM

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Two weeks ago McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President for national security affairs, was quoted as saying:

"At this point we are like the Harlem Globetrotters, passing forward, behind, sidewise and underneath. But nobody has made a basket yet."

The trouble was that Paul A. Porter, Washington lawyer-wit and Democrat, said it instead of Bundy. Bundy did not enjoy being labeled a critic of his own team. He has authorized the following statement:

"My position is that this Administration is scoring a basket every 30 seconds by the clock."

itself to the voters on the basis of its qualifications and experience," the Mayor said. "The record of achievement, made possible by support of all the people, and the 14-point program for future action must provide the basis for the voters' judgment."

Lindenbusch, on a radio program yesterday, replied to Tucker's charge that issues raised by the G.O.P. candidate are "phony."

"If they are phony," Lindenbusch said, "then the people are phony because I got my issues by talking to people."

Incumbent Comptroller John H. Poelker is running for reelection on the Democratic ticket against Republican Joseph M. Mahoney, a sales co-ordinator for International Shoe Co. Both the mayor and comptroller serve four-year terms.

Mayor Tucker and Lindenbusch will be heard on a special program titled "The Decision Is Yours" over Radio Station KMOX at 7:15 p.m. today. Also on the program will be Mrs. Margaret Pinkus, vice president of the League of Women Voters of St. Louis, who will give information on voting procedures.

Lindenbusch, Mahoney and G.O.P. aldermanic candidates will appear at a city-wide "victory rally" at 8 p.m. today at Alhambra Grotto, 2626 South Grand boulevard.

Ten candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking seats on the 12-member Board of Education on a non-partisan basis. Four will be chosen for full six-year terms and the fifth for a two-year unexpired term.

An intensive campaign for a slate of five candidates has been waged by the Citizens' Association for the Public Schools (C.A.P.S.), headed by Andy J. Brown Jr. Those indorsed are Mrs. Gilbert Harris and James S. McClellan, incumbents named to the board last year by Mayor Tucker to fill vacancies, and Frederick E. Busse, James E. Hurt Jr. and Elmer W. Pounds. Pounds seeks the two-year term.

The group has been indorsed by Board Members Daniel L. Schlafly and the Rev. John J. Hicks and former board member Louis H. Antoine.

The other five candidates are John D. Connaghan, John J. Nally, Charles W. Corey Jr., Patrick J. Walsh and Frederick O. Whaley.

Visit to Paris

sations with the Big Three leaders of western Europe.

The President met eight days ago at Key West, Fla., with Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan for discussion of the Laos crisis. They will resume their talks on this and other problems in Washington Wednesday.

West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer will be in Washington April 11-12 for conferences with Mr. Kennedy.

After a bit more than four months in office, therefore, Mr. Kennedy will have discussed with Macmillan, De Gaulle and Adenauer the Administration's strategy on efforts to ease East-West tensions. The talks are certain to embrace a variety of Western problems in dealing with the Soviet Union, including disarmament, Berlin and Laos.

Change in Policy.

Mr. Kennedy's decision to accept De Gaulle's invitation to Paris reflects a change in travel policy as set forth by the White House about the time he took office last January.

At that time Salinger said Mr. Kennedy had no plans to go abroad for international conferences in at least the first six months of his Administration.

The decision also reflects an obviously changing Kennedy attitude toward talks at the summit, including meetings with the leaders of friendly nations.

The word until quite recently was that the new President favored a return to use of the ordinary diplomatic channels, with ambassadors and foreign ministers handling negotiations rather than chiefs of state.

Mr. Kennedy's trip to Paris will not be a full-fledged state visit. Some of the ceremony and high protocol usually accorded a chief of state will be omitted to give the President and De Gaulle more time for working meetings.

Arrangements Made.

Arrangements for the Kennedy visit have been worked out in the past few weeks. The formal announcement, which was made also in Paris, came after talks between Kennedy and French Ambassador Herve Alphand in Washington, between De Gaulle and U.S. roving Ambassador Averell Harriman, and De Gaulle and James Gavin, the new American Ambassador in Paris.

Mr. Kennedy and De Gaulle exchanged correspondence about 10 days ago. This dealt primarily with the Laos crisis, but may also have been an occasion for dealing with the Kennedy visit to Paris.

There are matters for discussion between De Gaulle and Mr. Kennedy. These include France's desire to continue nuclear testing, French refusal to pay a share of the United Nations costs in The Congo and differences over participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

White Easter in Moscow.

PRINTER WORKING OVERTIME MAKES $63,000 BOGUS BILLS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3—A printer was held here today on charges of printing and passing $63,000 in counterfeit $10 bills.

George H. Kessler Jr., 34 years old and father of seven children, told federal agents he made the bills in the printing shop where he was employed. He said he used his employer's equipment and supplies, working nights and weekends. All of the bills bore the same serial number, which led to their detection.

SENATOR CALLS BIRCH FOUNDER 'LITTLE HITLER'

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) — Senator Stephen M. Young (Dem.), Ohio, today described Robert Welch, founder of the ultra-rightwing John Birch Society, as a character assassin and a "little Hitler."

But, he tlod the Senate, he see no valid reason for either house of Congress to investigate the society.

Young said Congress is "too busy" to take up the time for such an investigation. And he concedes that "any mercenary demagogue has the right to express opinions, though discredited, unfounded and false."

Demands for such inquiries have been voiced at the Capitol in connection with charges by Welch that such people as former President Eisenhower and Chief Justice Earl Warren have aided the Communist conspiracy.

Young said Welch, a retired Belmont (Mass.) candy manufacturer, "is succeeding handsomely in selling life memberships in his society for a thousand dollars each and raking in thousands of dollars every month in members' dues."

He described the society's leadership as "right-wing crackpots" who "would undermine the very foundation of American democracy."

On the other side of the argument over the society, Representative John H. Rousselot (Rep.), California, said today he joined the organization several months ago "because I believe that, in the main, the society is designed to oppose the Communist threat in a positive, legal and correct way."

Rousselot said he would welcome a thorough investigation of the society ,the sooner the better.

STORY OF WALKING 27 MILES TO HOSPITAL WAS A HOAX

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C., April 3 (AP)—Mrs. May Bowman admits that her story of walking 27 miles from her mountain home to a hospital here to see her son was a hoax.

The farm woman said Saturday that a neighbor drove her "every bit of the way" and that "some people in Winston-Salem told me to tell that story," of walking. She would not say who gave her the advice — or why.

Mrs. Bowman, 46 years old, the mother of nine children arrived at Baptist Hospital last Monday night and told a chaplain and nurses she had walked 27 miles because she could not get a ride. The hospital gave her a room and arranged for an ambulance to take her and her son home the next day. The boy, Charles, 9, was in the hospital for observation for a possible eye operation.

GEN. JOSEPH J. O'HARE DIES; FRIEND OF EISENHOWER

TUCSON, Ariz., April 3 (AP) —Brig. Gen. Joseph J. O'Hare (Ret.), former assistant football coach at the United States military academy and a World War II commander, died yesterday in Tucson. He was 68 years old.

Gen. O'Hare, a close friend of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was stricken when walking near a resort hotel where he had been vacationing. In World War II, he served as assistant chief of staff for the First Army and later directed the Twelfth Army Group.

He was graduated from the military academy at West Point in 1916. At the academy he played on football teams with both Eisenhower and Gen. Omar Bradley. From 1920 to 1925 Gen. O'Hare was an instructor and football line coach at West Point.

Liberal Democrats Expected To Introduce Civil Rights Bill—With or Without White House OK

Senator Clark and Representative Celler Prepare Draft of Legislation Embodying All the Pledges of Party's 1960 Platform.

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 3.

THE WHITE HOUSE, within the next few days, is likely to be confronted with introduction in Congress of a sweeping civil rights program sponsored by liberal Democrats, whether it likes it or not.

Senator Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, a stalwart of the Democratic liberal wing in the Senate, and Representative Emanuel Celler of New York, an ardent civil rights advocate among House Democrats, have prepared a draft of a new civil rights measure embodying all of the pledges of the 1960 Democratic platform. They are seeking White House clearance of some sort to offer it promptly in both houses of Congress. But they intend to move with or without a go-ahead signal.

High-level conferences have taken place among the Clark-Celler forces and top officials of the Department of Justice, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and other Government agencies which would be concerned with administration and enforcement of the suggested rights bill.

There is hesitancy at the White House about the wisdom of introducing a sweeping measure at this time because of the danger of stirring up a battle with Southerners and their Northern Republican allies which could tear both houses apart and, perhaps, seriously jeopardize President Kennedy's anti-recession program, which has had top priority at the White House and with the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill.

SENATOR CLARK is relying on a statement made last September by the then-presidential candidate, Senator John F. Kennedy, that he was naming Clark chairman of a committee of liberal Democrats to draft a broad program of civil rights legislation for submission early in this session.

It is Clark's view that he has the authority and the obligation to proceed with the program. He appraises reported coolness of the White House toward such a project at this time as the view of the case-hardened politicos in the presidential retinue.

Clark has reason to believe that the substantive members of the President's inner circle, those who really care about enforcing constitutional guarantees for Negroes in accordance with the bold pledges of the 1960 platform, would support his stand for action without further delay.

Clark feels also that, when these two points of view are placed before the President, he will resolve the differences by reminding his advisers that he had asked Clark to do just what he presently is planning.

IN ANY CASE, it now appears certain that Clark will not be dissuaded from introducing a comprehensive civil rights measure, whether or not the Administration and the Democratic leadership in the Senate and House elect to push it at this critical period in the life of the Kennedy economic program.

It likewise appears there will be no civil rights legislation enacted in this session beyond, perhaps, extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission, which devotes itself largely to investigating complaints of violation of voting rights.

In the background of all the rather guarded discussion about timing of a new civil rights push by the liberal Democrats is a Senate fight over revising Rule 22 to make it easier for liberals to curb anti-civil rights filibusters by Southerners. This issue, advanced in the early days of this session, was shunted by the leadership to the Senate Rules Committee for hearings. There it has lain dormant.

BUT SENATE majority leader Mike Mansfield has pledged that it will be brought to the Senate for a vote this session. That will touch off a fight in the Senate as prolonged and bitter, perhaps, as any that would be provoked by a major civil rights measure.

Senator Clark is a philosophical liberal to whom protection of the rights of Negroes appears to be an inescapable obligation.

But there are practical political considerations involved which are not lost on him. He has tremendous support among Negroes in Philadelphia's larger cities dating back to his days as reform mayor of Philadelphia, when he threw open to them employment in places of dignity in the city government.

Clark is up for re-election in 1962. For weeks on end, in a television program in which he participates with his Republican colleague from the Quaker State, Senator Hugh Scott, he has been taunted by his opponent over the purported refusal of the Kennedy Administration to carry out platform and campaign pledges to get behind broad civil rights legislation.

THESE TACTICS have not been overlooked by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which, in public statements, has criticised the President for failure to include civil rights in his 16-point priority legislative program.

The President has been using his executive authority to attempt to end racial discrimination in public employment and private jobs under Government contract. He has publicly chided the Civil War Centennial Commission for scheduling its observance in South Carolina, where Negroes are not admitted to white hotels. The President's brother, Robert F. Kennedy, is committed to a vigorous enforcement of existing laws relating to discrimination in voting and schools.

The Clark civil rights bill is being kept under wraps until he and Celler are ready to make their move.

It is known, however, that one section of the Clark bill would require at least token integration in every public school in every school district in the nation by 1964, in compliance with the Supreme Court anti-segregation ruling of 1954.

ANOTHER MEASURE would authorize the Attorney General to bring civil suit for redress in any case where the Department of Justice determines any civil right of an individual has been violated.

Other sections would amend the Constitution to bar literacy tests and payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite for voting in federal elections. Additional provisions of the measure would establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission to prevent by court action, if necessary, racial discrimination by all private employes, even those who

U.S. Marines in Far East Trouble Zone

Britain's Influence May Lead to a Weakening on Laos

By JOSEPH ALSOP

BANGKOK.

MARSHAL SARIT THANARAT is the shrewd and powerful leader of pro-Western Thailand. The fears which he avowed, both before and in the SEATO conference here, tell a great deal about the post-conference situation.

Sarit's view of the Laos crisis is founded, to begin with on the assumption that the United States is the only Western power retaining an active interest in the fate of Southeast Asia. Both the British and French, he believes, lost interest in this region after the Geneva settlement ending the Indochina war in 1954.

The assumption is sound. French officials on the spot, in Laos particularly, may seek to play a local political role. But the role runs counter to the real, long-range interests of France.

As for the British, their basic attitude was revealed by the formula of a member of their delegation to SEATO, that "the Laos crisis was less an Asian problem than a problem of Anglo-American relations." In other words, the British regard concern about Laos as a kind of American mania, to which concessions must be made for the primary purpose of maintaining the Anglo-American partnership.

THIS ATTITUDE explains the French-British enthusiasm for a government of Laos headed by Prince Souvanna Phouma and including pro-Communists. The French officials on the scene like the idea, because Prince Souvanna Phouma is polite to them. The British consider that the installation of such a government will be the easiest way of avoiding a dangerous Southeast Asian confrontation between Russia and the United States.

In contrast, Marshal Sarit believes that the installation of this kind of a government in Laos will only be the first step in a broad advance of Communist influence and power in Southeast Asia. The marshal was shocked, like most American officials here, by United States acceptance of the British scheme for opening negotiations about Laos with the Soviets. And he frankly fears that British influence will lead the United States to make fatally weak compromises when and if negotiations begin.

These fears of the Thai leaders were at least reduced by a long talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the SEATO meeting. Rusk had a good talking point in the form of President Kennedy's response to Prime Minister Macmillan's seeming hint that the United States had better go it alone in Laos with mere British moral support. At the resulting Key West meeting, although it has been denied, the President got a commitment from the Prime Minister to contribute a brigade in the event intervention in Laos proved unavoidable.

ALL THE SAME, Sarit is reported to be worried about the outcome in Laos—and with good reason. Anyone must be worried who realizes that Laos is the key to the Southeast Asia future and who also understands the basis on which we have undertaken to negotiate.

The proposed arena of negotiations is to be a fourteen-nation conference including several neutrals and the Chinese and North

Navy Gets Bulk Of Laos Chores; Rivals Grumble

Marines Rushed In—Army and Air Force Units Not Alerted.

By DREW PEARSON
(Copyright, 1961.)

WASHINGTON.

THE OLD military rivalry is boiling up around Laos and this time it's the Navy which has the upper hand.

Army and Air Force generals are grumbling that Adm. Harry Felt, the Pacific commander, is turning the Laos crisis into a Navy exercise. He hasn't even bothered to alert Army-Air Force units in the Pacific, but rushed the Marines into neighboring Thailand to handle any ground action and put the Seventh Fleet in charge of air-sea operations. Except for Air Force cargo planes which are needed to ferry in supplies, Felt has squeezed the Army and Air Force out of the Trailand staging area.

Marines have set up a helicopter base across the border from Vientiane, the Laotian capital. Navy and Marine officers are preparing other air strips in Thailand for possible use. Marine Gen. Donald Weller will command Joint Task Force 116 on the ground in case American forces are ordered into Laos, and V. Adm. Charles Griffin will command the attack carriers off shore. Both report directly to Adm. Felt.

Meanwhile, the Army and Air Force are sitting on the sidelines in the Philippines and Okinawa. Grumbles Gen. "Rosie" O'Donnell, Air Force commander-in-chief in the Pacific, "I feel like the oboe player who had an oboe but was never invited to play."

THE BACKSTAGE maneuvering when the House of Representatives voted on the minimum wage act the other day influenced the pocketbooks of several million people. Some political futures were also ruined by that vote.

Here is what happened . . . Charles Halleck, the G.O.P. leader from Indiana, performed a near miracle when he kept all but three liberal Republicans

U.N. Efforts to Bar Belgians Are Against Congo's Interests

Former Colonials Needed as Technicians, Gizenga Points Out—That Is Why He Has Held Up Exit Visas.

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS
The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 3.

THE MOST CANDID and possibly the most significant, thing said in a recent interview by Red-recognized Antoine Gizenga, boss of The Congo's rebel Stanleyville regime, came in answer to this question: "Why have you delayed in giving the Belgians and other Europeans exit visas?" (At least 300 Europeans, including British, Germans, Dutch and some Greeks have been held virtual hostages in Stanleyville over the winter.)

"Because we need them," said Gizenga. "Without them our economy, which is in any case under a strain, might collapse."

Gizenga, who ascribed the white man's impulse to flee his province as due to "panic" that would subside with a return to "normalcy," added that even if every one of the whites saw the light and decided "voluntarily" to stay on the job in Stanleyville, they wouldn't fill the need for skilled technicians, accountants, bankers and engineers. So, declared Gizenga, "it will be necessary to send recruiting teams abroad to obtain skilled help."

"BUT," SAID this correspondent, mindful of the Gizenga press's attacks on Moise Tshombe for employing Belgians in Katanga province, "Surely you are not going to recruit in Brussels?"

"Why not?" said Gizenga. "French-speaking experts are, of course, our greatest need. But if we do hire any more Belgians, you may be sure that they will be those that are loyal—and take orders—from us."

Gizenga was asked how in light of his own plans he could justify denouncing Tshombe for hiring Belgians.

"The whites hired by Mr. Tshombe are fascists," said Gizenga. "Mr. Tshombe is a tool of the imperialists."

The ridiculousness of Gizenga's charge—and it is ridiculous—need not obscure the central point, which is that all emerging African countries must depend temporarily in some degree on assistance from skilled white technicians. It is natural for the Africans to turn, on an individual basis, to people they know, usually the representatives of the former colonial power.

THIS IS EVEN true, for example, of populous and comparatively advanced Nigeria, whose Prime Minister employs a British private secretary, and where British civil servants are much in evidence.

It is truest of all in Ghana, a fact which may help to explain why that country shouts the loudest about "white penetration" in other newly independent African states. It is to British Maj. Gen. Henri T. Alexander, for instance, that Ghana is obligated for its fine army.

But all of this illustrated the sticky wicket on which the United Nations finds itself when it seems to dictate which whites, including Belgians, the Stanleyville or anti-Stanleyville Congolese may or may not hire. If former colonials are bad for The Congo, why aren't they bad for Ghana, the Cameroons, Dahomey and the other places where skilled Europeans abound?

OBSERVED a Nigerian diplomat recently: "Certain great powers seem to interpret the Security Council resolution of Feb. 21 as a mandate to throw all non-United Nations Europeans out of The Congo. This in itself betrays a kind of racial snobbism. The basic assumption seems to be that if whites work, for example, for Africans like Mr. Tshombe that they will automatically dominate.

"I think that you whites, whether Russians or Americans, underestimate the African leaders. I happen to think Mr. Tshombe is perfectly capable of using white advisers for his own purposes and getting rid of those who do not take his orders. The whites are not all that clever, so that their mere presence means their control."

Another African diplomat said: "As for President Kasavubu, there are a lot of outsiders, including United Nations officials,

Letters from the People

From the Auto Workers

The United States has for the past several months under the leadership of President Kennedy been battling its way out of one of the worst economic crises our country has faced for many a year.

In contrast to the feverish activity of our national leaders in Washington to do something about the plight of the poor man, the actions of our Missouri law makers appears to have all the vigor of rigor mortis. It might be well to take a look at what our Missourians have done in Jefferson City up to date at a time when we in Missouri, with thousands of unemployed people, are in need of a positive program requiring vigorous leadership:

1. Our Missouri law makers started out the year in office by voting themselves a big fat wage increase.

2. They next passed a law to withhold additional taxes from the pay envelope of every worker in Missouri.

3. The appropriation request for monies to be used to aid the unfortunate mentally ill was cut not only to the bone but through the bone.

4. Missouri is very near the bottom of the list of the 50 states in the amount of money paid in unemployment insurance benefits by the week. We do have a few progressive Representatives and Senators in Jefferson City who are trying hard to bring about the type of legislation needed. The efforts of these progressive individuals are defeated by an ultra-conservative group. And indications are that most of our law makers in Missouri oppose bringing Missouri benefits up to a level with other states considered not nearly as progressive. This should be a source of shame to all of us and is certainly an injustice to all Missouri workers.

Other items which have either been passed or are presently being considered by Missouri law makers are such things as: establishing pensions for judges, raising salaries for legislative clerks, raising salary of Unemployment Compensation Director, liberalizing pensions for Missouri legislators, increasing taxes on beer and liquor, on cigarettes and on gasoline.

While this country is held in the grip of economic chaos, our state law makers go merrily on their way either in complete ignorance or at least with complete disregard for the welfare of Missouri residents.

Where's That Refund?

On Jan. 17 I mailed my Federal income form and now, over two months later, I haven't heard from them. I should get a refund of $31. Several days ago I phoned and asked about it, expressing my fear that it might have been lost in the mail. The brain answered that "If you mailed it, we got it." Mail has been known to get lost! Any suggestions, anybody?

Arthur W. Kunz

Remarks at Random

Three points:

1. Ironic twist: By exercising freedom of thought and speech guaranteed by the Constitution, those who do so are now suspected of being Communists who, themselves, are the arch-enemy of freedom. Who is the Rev. Beeny? How did he come by his title? Why and how is he qualified to hunt Reds?

2. Alderman Al Harris: Classic example of a fast vanishing American: the rugged individualist. It doesn't matter whether he is a "tool" or a "fool." It takes courage to stand up publicly in the face of such overwhelming opposition and state an unpopular point of view. I don't necessarily agree with his position but I applaud his guts.

3. The proposed new county airport: Your recent article reported that the airport would not be able to accommodate jets. Without this feature, the county would be ignoring the obvious trend toward jet travel. The facility would be obsolete even before it was built. Plans should be changed. Otherwise, why spend the money? Sam Kalman

The Choices for Tuesday

Tuesday's election in St. Louis affords the people several chances to speak out effectively in behalf of good government, and not merely in City Hall. Control of the School Board also is at stake. We hope the voters will exercise as much care and intelligence in choosing School Board members as they do in deciding the Tucker-Lindenbusch contest for Mayor, where most of the attention of the campaign has been concentrated.

The decision as to which man should be Mayor ought to be relatively simple, we think. Raymond R. Tucker's two terms in City Hall add up to one of the best records put together by any occupant of the Mayor's office since William Carr Lane early in the nineteenth century. In our judgment Mr. Tucker's performance clearly entitles him to re-election.

Mayor Tucker has sparked an exciting civic renaissance largely because the voters respect, and have responded to, his habit of making up his own mind on public matters. He is the tool of no political machine. As a consequence the people have voted record sums for public improvements, which have acted as catalysts generating such projects as the Plaza, the Mill Creek redevelopment, the Riverfront and the Stadium, as well as smaller but important projects in the neighborhoods.

Ben Lindenbusch not only lacks a record of public service to match the Mayor's; he has no experience in public affairs at all. His case would have had to rest on qualities of character and insight so attractive as to offset his considerable deficiencies in experience. Judging by the campaign he ran, he clearly possesses no such qualities.

The Lindenbusch campaign, in fact, has been in the hands of outsiders from Michigan and Washington who neither care nor know much about St. Louis. Their primary concern is an upset victory that would help persuade the Republican money bags to open up for the 1962 congressional campaign. That explains the misrepresentation or ignorance of St. Louis affairs that has been embodied in so many of Mr. Lindenbusch's speeches.

The choice for the School Board in our view is as clear-cut as the choice for Mayor. The five "C.A.P.S." candidates—the reform-minded slate backed by the Citizens Association for the Public Schools—deserve the seats. The C.A.P.S. candidates are:

Mrs. Gilbert Harris
James S. McClellan
Frederick E. Busse
James E. Hurt Jr.
Elmer W. Pounds

The C.A.P.S. candidates have the same tactical problem in this election as Mayor Tucker had in the primary. Their aims are generally anathema to the Democratic ward politicians who sat on their hands in the recent primary in which Mark Holloran almost slipped in ahead of the Mayor. The Democratic ward organizations of necessity must close ranks behind the Mayor now. They have nowhere else to go. But they are not going to give up willingly control of the school system and its 1200 or so Building Department patronage jobs to the reformers.

Independents who want the school system in the hands of men and women with the public-spirited attitude of Mayor Tucker will mark their ballots for the C.A.P.S. candidates. In effect this would be a vote for putting the needs of the children ahead of the needs of precinct politics of either political party. The committeemen and their friends among the union business agents who play politics on the side know precisely what they want—jobs and favors. It is up to the people to look out for their children, and the best way to do that in our judgment is to elect Mrs. Harris, Mr. McClellan, Mr. Busse, Mr. Hurt and Mr. Pounds.

In aldermanic races in which candidates are equally good or bad, we would recommend that voters lean to the Republican nominees. Democrats control the Board of Aldermen 25 to 4, which as a practical matter means that St. Louis is a one-party city. Every reasonable effort to promote effective political competition is in the public interest.

But the difficulty is that the Republicans have failed to put up top-flight candidates. Wards in which the Republicans do offer reasonable alternatives to Democratic incumbents are the Eleventh, in which Daniel T. Kearns at least lives in his constituency, and the Fifteenth where William C. Lochmoeller offers experience and capability. Two other acceptable Republicans are Lester J. Crow in the Twenty-first Ward and Joseph J. Hanses in the Twenty-third.

One Republican who ought to be defeated is Joseph B. McDonald in the Twenty-fifth Ward; his Democratic opponent is John D. Gumersell, a young attorney.

In the city-wide race for Comptroller we favor John H. Poelker's re-election. He is a Tucker Democrat, which is to say his votes in the Board of Estimate have been based on the merits of issues, not on needs of the ward organizations. He is backed by the Mayor and has been devoted to the objectives of the Tucker Administration.

One of those objectives has been to bring equity to the merchants and manufacturers license tax. An amendment closing a City Charter loophole that permits many service-type businesses to escape the full effect of the levy will be on the ballot. In itself the proposal will not increase business taxes by one penny. But it would permit the Aldermen to act to correct the obvious unfairness of the tax as presently levied. It deserves to pass, and we recommend its adoption.

To those who may be inclined to stay away from the polls, we recommend reflection on the fact that President Kennedy won the White House by less than one vote per precinct, and that stay-at-home Tucker partisans nearly gave the Democratic nomination to Mr. Holloran last month.

QUIVERING NEEDLES

Formula for The Congo?

Carefully as Adlai Stevenson qualified his remark that he saw "no other solution" for The Congo except a federation toward which Congolese leaders are "groping," he probably will draw new fire from Communist representatives in the U.N. It will be no surprise if they accuse the United States and other Western governments of trying to foist a "puppet regime" on the former Belgian colony. Yet in view of Russia's partiality for Antoine Gizenga's Stanleyville regime, it is obvious enough that such slurs will be anything but disinterested.

Mr. Stevenson pointed out that the United States and the Soviet Union, too, are federations, and that such a governmental organization is the most likely to hold together any large and diversified country. But he also stipulated that it could be effective only after the Congolese leaders disbanded their private armies and foreign military intervention was halted.

In any case the Congolese factions—probably with the exception of Gizenga's—will meet at Kamina, in Katanga, Wednesday to advance the rough agreement reached at Tananarive. Their chief purpose will be to decide which states should form the federation. About 20 groups have announced their intention to form such independent states, yet it is believed that no more than a dozen will be recognized.

Meanwhile President Kasavubu and Premier Ileo apparently have had some second thoughts about Tananarive. They now seem to want a grouping less loose than that favored by Moise Tshombe, the president of Katanga. This is natural enough. No central government would be happy to give up most of the resources and revenues of its richest province.

What needs to be emphasized is that neither the United States nor the United Nations is determined to force any particular governmental scheme on The Congo. They only want a legal and viable government, supported by the Congolese themselves. This is required by the international mission of restoring order, eliminating outside power rivalries, and assuring peace lest a divided Congo continue to be a threat to the peace of Africa and of the world.

Uncle Sam's Throbbing Head

It may be just as well that the Federal Trade Commission reported only after the election that in the last 10 years the use of aspirin has grown four times faster than the population. There is no saying what dastardly politicians might have deduced from the increasing severity of the national headache, and the FTC could not have rebuked them as it has some of the purveyors of the benzene derivative.

However it may affect TV entertainment, the FTC wants the aspirin people to stop those races between the As and the Bs and similar claims, dramatized or undramatized, about the speed with which their specially trade-marked product works. The Government contends that one aspirin is as fast—or as slow—as another. In any case, nearly all the distributors buy their aspirin in crystal form from two manufacturers, Dow and Monsanto.

The bulk price has been fairly stable—60 cents a pound in 1938, 49 cents in 1950, and currently about 55 cents. But at retail one brand of aspirin costs five times as much as another. The bulk business runs to about $10,000,000 a year while retail sales run to more than $282,000,000 a year.

The reason? The sellers of one brand spent $12,400,000 for TV time last year. The TV billings of four popular brands ran to a combined total of $30,000,000. For that kind of money, it seems there ought to be even more and better animated commercials than the now rebuked A-B race. Or might they have something to do with the headache?

Fashion Note

A Tokyo barber is featuring haircuts like that of President Kennedy, while a young woman modeling clothes in Moscow's biggest department store appears from her photograph in the current USSR to be a ringer for Mrs. Kennedy, hairdo and all. Americans who deal in fashions have been in a state of high excitement ever since the November election. If this fever spreads around the world, who knows what good may come of it.

No Cure for Wire-Taps

With the argument that two wrongs make a right, law enforcement officers have nullified federal and state laws against wire-tapping. They hold that since criminals make illegal use of telephones and electronic devices, the police must do the same. Yet under federal law it is illegal to intercept a telephone message and to disclose it. States have enacted similar prohibitions. The Department of Justice, however, never has prosecuted an officer for wire-tapping. On the contrary, it has sanctioned wire-taps by its own agents.

The Supreme Court has held state wire-taps to be illegal, yet it has allowed transcriptions to be introduced as evidence in state, though not in federal courts. The Court never has ruled on the Government's contention that the law is not broken if tapes are made, but information so obtained is not divulged. This, of course, is specious since there is no point in getting the information if no use is to be made of it, directly or indirectly. States like New York have gone farther, having legalized police taps with only ineffective safeguards against abuse. Because of this ambivalent attitude, wire-tapping has spread like a lush vine.

Further, the bill now offered by Senator Dodd of Connecticut does not promise to check the evil. It would authorize the Attorney General to tap wires when there is suspicion of treason, espionage, sabotage, sedition or kidnaping. And it would allow federal courts to authorize taps in cases of murder, extortion, bribery, gambling, racketeering and violation of narcotics laws. State officers would be allowed to tap wires in accord with state laws, but only in the investigation of kidnaping, extortion, bribery, gambling and narcotics cases. Court orders would be required and copies would have to be filed for annual reporting to Congress.

At best, this bill would regularize what now is illegal, although condoned. At worst, it would encourage more wire-tapping. Many prosecuting attorneys—with the notable exception of Thomas Eagleton while he was St. Louis circuit attorney—favor such legalization of wire-taps. Yet because blackmailers, commercial spies and a wide assortment of scofflaws already have all too few inhibitions about electronic snooping, law enforcement officials ought to take the lead in improving safeguards against wire-tapping.

Winning a Skirmish for Urban Renewal

Specific Example of How Neighborhood Group Fights House by House Against Blight

SECC Newsletter,
Chicago

The South East Chicago Commission is rehabilitating an area which begins at Thirty-ninth street and extends to Sixty-seventh street, bounded on the west by Cottage Grove avenue and the east by Lake Michigan. The S.E.C.C. is a composite of all the communities within this area—Oakland, Kenwood, Hyde Park and Woodlawn. The S.E.C.C. was created in May 1952, through the co-ordinated requests of organizations in these communities and and it continues to serve all the groups and all the citizens who live and work in the area.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

The S.E.C.C. was formed to fight physical blight with its resulting increase in crime and deterioration with the end objective of restoring the desirability of these neighborhoods. Some 2000 persons gathered to form the S.E.C.C. It was charged to develop a program, follow through and to be a continuing operation.

—The Courier-Journal, Louisville

Here is a specific example of its fight to form a better community:

A Hyde Park resident called the S.E.C.C. recently to complain that there was no heat, no light and, in general, terrible conditions in rat-infested buildings at 4753-57 Lake Park avenue. Could the S.E.C.C. help? It could and did.

Here's what happened: The S.E.C.C. found there were 278 building code violations. An S.E.C.C. building inspector arrived at the scene and summoned a city inspector. Both verified existing deplorable conditions. The Community Conservation Board—although it does not own the buildings—was asked to take emergency action. The C.C.B. ordered coal, had the lights turned back on and took steps to speed up acquisition of the property which is one of the parcels still to be acquired under Urban Renewal. A court hearing also was arranged. These actions took place within several hours.

The next day, March 8, 1961, Judge Samuel Epstein in Superior Court ordered the building closed at 4753 Lake Park avenue. Judge Daniel A. Roberts in Circuit Court closed the other building. The reason in both cases was continued building code violations. The C.C.B. is arranging to relocate the tenants. The speedy action asked for by the S.E.C.C. took place.

The Hyde Park resident called the S.E.C.C. the following day to state (1) that she had heard the good news over the radio, (2) that she was confident fast and effective action would be taken if she called the S.E.C.C., and (3) that she was certain the families would soon be living in decent quarters.

Sisterhood Week? From Student Life, Washington University

"To us, fraternity life is not the enjoyment of special privileges but an opportunity to prepare for wide and wise human service"—The Panhellenic Creed.

Interesting words to mull over when one considers the Washington University sorority rush system. What is it, if not the exercise of "special privileges" to discriminate against rushees on the basis of religion? "The right of freedom of choice," so vehemently defended by some sorority members, is nothing more than "a right to be prejudiced."

Discrimination on religious grounds is, according to Catherine Draper, acting dean of women, "one of the practices most deplored by the non-fraternity viewer."

Of the 184 undergraduate women pledging last fall, 135 in eight houses were among the 164 Gentile girls beginning rush, whereas only 49 of the 146 Jewish girls rushing pledged either one or the other of the two Jewish houses.

A Jewish rushee found herself attracted to one of the Gentile houses. To her dismay, she received no party invitations from this or any other Gentile group, and consequently she dropped out of rush entirely. In similar manner, no Gentile girl is given even the opportunity to get to know members of a Jewish sorority. And so far as race is concerned, no colored girl has ever signed up for rush at W.U.; and, indeed, if one did, there would be no place for her.

The obvious fact is that the so-called "integrated" Panhellenic rush simply is not!

What can be done to make rush the open, integrated system Panhel would like to think it is? Dean Draper suggests that, as a start, rushees not be required to identify their religious faith on any information form. We further recommend that Women's Panhellenic not recognize any member sorority on this campus whose charter contains a discriminatory clause if, after a suitable length of time, the sorority makes no attempt to remove such a clause. Finally, we urge that sorority members make every effort to resist alumni pressure advocating restrictive practices!

We sincerely hope that Women's Panhellenic and Student Senate will consider and act on our recommendations, keeping in mind these lines from Robert Frost's "Mending Wall":

"Before I built a wall I'd ask to know

"What I was walling in or walling out,

"And to whom I was like to give offense."

Between Book Ends The Entire Tableau

THE COMPACT HISTORY OF THE CIVIL WAR, by R. Ernest Dupuy and Trevor N. Dupuy. (Hawthorne, 445 pgs., $6.75.)

THE WAR IN THE WEST, 1861-1865, by Oscar Lewis. (Doubleday, 263 pgs., $3.95.)

Readers whose imaginations have been kindled by current Civil War centennial festivities but who shrink from traversing that titanic conflict via ponderous tomes would do well to investigate these two entertaining books.

Oscar Lewis

The father-and-son authors of "Compact History" apparently have designed their work for Civil War enthusiasts less concerned with details and statistics than the entire tableau. With perceptive military insight (both are retired army men) the authors examine all major battles and political incidents, emphasizing their importance and implications to the war.

By moderating exhaustive minutiae (so cherished in scholarly accounts) the narrative moves rapidly and clearly to its familiar end, pausing periodically with penetrating portraits which strip away much myth and nonsense about leaders of both sides.

"It is perhaps unfortunate," the authors write of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, "that he possessed extensive military experience and knowledge. . . . In such case, of course, the excellent early administration of the Confederacy would have suffered but a more efficient military apparatus probably would have evolved eventually."

Oscar Lewis, an accomplished historian of the American West, offers a concise study of the West's role in the war, a role sadly neglected by many Eastern historians. Although a relatively minor operation, the strategy of Confederate military leaders — to invade and occupy New Mexico and adjacent territory and use that as a base from which to secure access to California and West Coast harbors—has led to endless hours of speculation.

Included in this fine book are vivid accounts of the "California Hundred" recruits, which acquitted themselves well in a long series of battles with Confederate troops, and the engagements at Valverde and La Glorieta Pass, which halted Gen. Sibley's Confederate column and ended the grand scheme.

AUTOMATION: ITS IMPACT ON BUSINESS AND PEOPLE, by Walter Buckingham. (Harper, 196 pgs., $4.50.)

This book is an economics professor's synthesis of the result, beyond material production, of the current gimmick called automation. There is no doubt about the fantastic abilities of contemporary industrial hardware to produce goods in overwhelming quantity and in vast numbers of varieties. But, as the author questions, ". . . Production for what?"

His answer applauds the progress in technology and maintains, at the same time, that production and its related economic and social effects are too much with us. If our society is not to succumb to the worst effects of the comfort and leisure now being made possible, we must take a more realistic view of the matters at hand.

Nixon's Hand in Birch Expose?

WASHINGTON.

THE FIRST MEMBER OF CONGRESS to admit his membership in the far right, semi-secret John Birch Society is Representative Edgar W. Hiestand, an extremely conservative Republican from what has long been a safely Republican district in Los Angeles county.

The society's announced aim is to fight Communism. In doing so, it uses Communist techniques such as "front groups," loaded questions and more or less secret cells with particular attention to college campuses. Its founder, Robert Welch, has charged that former President Eisenhower, Chief Justice Earl Warren, former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and C.I.A. Director Allen Dulles were secret Communist agents or sympathizers.

Nixon

Hiestand now says that an honest investigation would dispel charges that the society is "dictatorial or fascist" and he wants the House Un-American Activities Committee to make it.

Denounced by Paper.

Hiestand's colleagues from California marvel that he would admit his membership in the society, as one of its major critics has been the very conservative Republican Los Angeles Times.

The Times ran both a long expose of the society and a strongly worded editorial on the front page signed by Otis Chandler, publisher.

United Press International, however, in a special report had said that the society listed Hiestand as a member of its "Committee of Endorsers." Hiestand apparently decided to beat his political enemies to the punch by admitting it.

His Seat in Peril.

U.P.I. also states flatly that "there is no public accounting of either money or membership." Such secrecy is not against the law, as witness the Ku Klux Klan, but American public opinion has frowned on it in political societies. Hence the view in the California delegation here that Hiestand has written his political epitaph.

The fact that California is gaining eight new House seats by reason of its population increase, and that Democrats at long last are getting a chance to do the reapportionment won't help him either.

Nuisance on Campus.

What most interests Democrats, however, particularly the experts in the tangled maze of California politics, is what they think they perceive as a power play centering around the John Birch Society, directed by Richard M. Nixon. The former Vice President's connections with the Los Angeles Times are very close, and his desire to run again for the presidency is obvious.

The controversial society is particularly strong in California, a famous breeding ground of off-beat organizations. Presidents of the state's colleges find its campus cells just as troublesome as Communist cells were for a long time and occasionally still are.

The society is also said to be multiplying in the South, where Nixon and Republicans generally have great hopes.

Republican Hair Shirt.

Democrats are certain that few Democrats, certainly few in such key states as California, are attracted to the John Birch Society. Putting it another way, they figure the society as a hair shirt for Republicans in the same way left-wing organizations have been for Democrats. Certainly Republicans in key states cannot afford the label.

Democrats, therefore, suspect that the current outcry represents a considered effort by Republicans, including Nixon, to rid themselves of the John Birch coloration before the elections of 1962 and 1964.

If some Republicans, as Hiestand, have to be sacrificed in the national Republican interest, Democrats figure Nixon as just the cool operator to figure out the tactics and put them into operation.

THRONGS BRAVE COLD AT SUNRISE SERVICES

Park Opera and Drive-In Theaters Among Sites for Easter Tribute.

Large crowds of worshipers, warmly dressed against temperatures that dipped into the 20s, attended more than 20 outdoor Easter sunrise services in the St. Louis area yesterday.

Several thousand persons gathered under the bright morning sky at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park to hear a sermon by the Rev. Dr. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church. The service was the thirty-fifth annual Easter sunrise observance sponsored by the Metropolitan Church Federation.

Lutherans sponsored early-morning services in six drive-in theaters and at many churches. Other services were on the campus of Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Groves, at parks and in some cemeteries.

Cardinal Joseph E. Ritter celebrated Pontifical High Mass at a noon service at St. Louis Cathedral. The service was telecast by Post-Dispatch Station KSD-TV.

Four Easter services were held at Christ Church Cathedral, including celebrations of Choral Eucharist.

At the Metropolitan Church Federation service, which was broadcast by Post-Dispatch radio station KSD, the Rev. Dr. Skinner said the message of Easter has meaning for the church, for the nation and for the individual.

"Death in the end comes to all of us," he said. "Death takes no holiday. But man has never been able to believe that death has the last word.

"The meaning of Easter is that man now knows there is another word—the living word of a living God.

"The message of Easter is for men and women whose spirits are dead. Cynicism is the death of the ideals by which men live. This is the point of Easter. The risen Lord is the last word."

The Rev. Dr. Skinner speaks weekly on the Sunday Protestant Hour, which is broadcast by stations KSD and KSD-TV.

COMPOSER RIEGGER DIES AFTER INJURY

Works in Atonal Idiom Played by Major Symphony Orchestras.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Wallingford Riegger, noted American composer whose works are played by major symphony orchestras, died yesterday at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Riegger underwent brain surgery Friday after he had been injured in a freak accident last Thursday. He tripped over a leash when two dogs being walked near him lunged at each other, and he suffered a head injury.

He won many awards for his works, which ranged from music for dancers to chamber music, symphonies and concerts. Earlier this season the New York Philharmonic Orchestra played his latest work, "Variations for Piano and Orchestra."

In tribute to his seventy-fifth birthday last April 29, he was engaged by the Kansas City (Mo.) Philharmonic Orchestra to conduct his own works.

He was one of the first American composers to use, with his own variations, the 12-tone techniques developed by the late Arnold Schoenberg.

In discussing his being drawn to music written in the atonal idom, Mr. Riegger once said: "I felt the need to express musical ideas for which the older techniques were inadequate."

After studying in New York, Mr. Riegger did three years of postgraduate work in Berlin. He conduced opera at Wuerzburg and Koenigsburg and directed the Bluethner Orchestra in Berlin.

Returning to this country, he taught music at Drake University, Ithaca Conservatory, Northwestern University, the New School for Social Research and Teachers College of Columbia University.

Celtics Clobber Weary Hawks, 129-95, in Title Playoff Opener

33 Points By Hagan In Defeat

By John J. Archibald
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

BOSTON, April 3—The Hawks, in order to beat the Boston Celtics, must use a precise style of play. Basically it consists of walking, but sometimes it involves running. The Hawks couldn't come up with the right mixture yesterday and the result was disaster.

One of the wisest of the veteran Celtics, Bob Cousy, put it this way when asked how his team was able to rout St. Louis in the National Basketball Association playoff opener, 129-95:

"The Hawks slowed it up all right, but I think they overdid it. They were probably too tired, because they weren't even looking for a fast break."

The second game of the best-of-seven series to determine the league championship will not be played until Wednesday night. It will be at the Boston Garden, where 11,531 fans saw the home club get off to a favorable start in yesterday's nationally televised game. The third and fourth contests will be in St. Louis on Saturday and Sunday.

Rugged Playoff Schedule.

Television, of course, is the reason for the oddly spaced schedule for the playoffs, which the N.B.A. likes to refer to as basketball's "world series." Games are set according to TV's demands.

The Hawk players were reluctant to blame their defeat on the schedule, but a disinterested observer could not help but wonder about their chances yesterday. The team played the seventh game of a bitterly contested Western playoff series with the Los Angeles Lakers on Saturday afternoon, hurried to catch a plane that, left less than two hours after the game ended, and, because of a two-hour layover in New York, did not arrive in its Boston hotel until 1:30 a.m.

Twelve hours later the Hawks were back in uniform to play a rested Boston team on its home court.

Bob Pettit, commenting on what he called the drawback of being a television entertainer first and a pro basketball player second, said:

"For seven straight games you must think one way, concentrating on how to stop a guy like Elgin Baylor and the rest of a tough Laker club, then overnight you must start playing a completely different style. There is too much worrying about television. And now we have to sit around until Wednesday so that they'll be sure of having us on TV Saturday and Sunday."

Possibility of Change.

There is a possibility that the St. Louis games will be played a day sooner. Hawks' owner Ben Kerner has been urging the league to condense the schedule, but it is not likely that the other club owners will agree. If the present plan is followed, a seven-game playoff would not end until Saturday, April 15.

Hawks' coach Paul Seymour agreed that his club apparently was too tired to take advantage of opportunities. Only Cliff Hagan, who totaled 33 points, was able to show well against the Celts.

"Boston is a team that excels at running and we must slow down the pace in order to have a chance, but we must run at times," said Seymour. "If we don't, Len Wilkens is no longer a scoring factor. We must create situations where we outnumber the Celtics down court in order to get Len free to make that one-hand shot of his. We're not good enough ball-handlers to out-fake guards like Cousy or Sam Jones or K.C. Jones."

Hawks Miss Lovellette.

Seymour also said that the absence of injured Clyde Lovellette would be more of a factor than it was in the Laker series. Clyde's duty against Boston would be to draw 6-foot-10 Bill Russell away from the middle by firing in shots from outcourt.

Yesterday Russell made a mild effort at going out to stop Woody Sauldsberry's distance shots, but frequently he would back into the basket area as soon as the ball went to some other Hawk. He gambled on being able to get back to Woody in time if Sauldsberry got the ball again.

As usual, Russell was the biggest factor in Boston's victory, grabbing 31 rebounds and scoring 15 points during his 41 minutes of play. No count was made of the shots that he blocked, but they were many.

"Without Lovellette I have too little flexibility," said Seymour.

Griffith's Manager Plans Hard Work for New Welter Champ

MIAMI BEACH, April 3 (UPI)—Emile Griffith, new welterweight champion of the world at the age of 22, flew back home to New York today with hard training and a quick ring appearance planned for his immediate future.

"He's a young, strong kid and we want to keep him as busy as possible," said co-manager Gill Clancy, who talked roughly and cuffed Griffith in the face Saturday night just before the youngster knocked out Benny (Kid) Paret to win the title. He's plenty good right now, but he knows and we know he can be better with more experience."

Griffith showed a distinct lack of ring generalship during the 12 rounds he faced the 23-year-old Paret before using two left hooks and a sharp right to equalize Paret's wide edge in experience. But Clancy said Griffith's inability to take charge was due more to pride than anything else.

"I told him not to run away from Paret," Clancy said, "I meant for him to move around, jab him, use his reach, and to counterpunch when Paret charged him. But he went in there with the idea he wasn't going to move back one step, and it almost cost him the fight."

Until the thirteenth, Griffith was losing points by not retreating from the ex-champion's rushes. Paret, making the second title defense of his 10-month reign, scored heavily by concentrating on the body.

But Clancy convinced Griffith of his mistake at the end of the twelfth round, when he told his fighter to "shape up" and slapped his cheek in emphasis.

One minute and 11 seconds later, Paret lay on the canvas and Griffith was the champion after only 25 professional fights, 23 of them victories.

Paret had lifted his head during an assault to the body and Griffith hit him with a vicious left hook to the jaw. Another left propelled Paret backward half the width of the ring. Then Griffith applied the clincher with a right. Paret didn't even stir during the count by referee Jimmy Peerless.

Paret, who suffered his first knockout and ninth loss in a 46-bout career that includes three draws, flew to New York yesterday clamoring for the right to exercise the 90-day return bout clause in the contract.

"We'll fight him within 90 days if it has to be that way," Clancy said. "But we'd also like a match with Luis Rodriguez, the top contender, or an overweight bout or two.

Ring Champion's Victory Dance

Barber Ties Harper In Azalea, Then Wins Sudden-Death Playoff

WILMINGTON, N. C., April 3 (AP) — Jerry Barber and Chandler Harper, two veteran golfers who are bound for the Masters tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga., mastered the youngsters here yesterday.

They survived a gruelling 36-hole final day in a tie for first place in the 54-hole $12,000 Azalea tourney and then played a sudden-death extra hole. Barber won with a par four. They had tied at 213, three under par. Barber on three rounds of 71, Harper on 71-68-74.

The victory was worth $1206 to the 137-pound, 5-7 veteran from Los Angeles, who will be 45 this month. Harper, who is 47, pocketed $1000.

Barber, a great favorite here, gained his first major pro victory eight years ago in the Azalea open, also on Easter Sunday.

Harper, who won the 1950 Professional Golf Association crown and quit the touring life after his 1955 victory in the Fort Worth Colonial, gave Barber a great run for the Azelea title. He almost won it on the par three holes. For three rounds he played them three under par against Barber's seven over to pick up 10 shots. Harper led by three with eight holes to go.

But the only greens he missed on the last round, the twelfth and thirteenth, resulted in bogey's and he had to par the last hole to get the tie. His birdie bid from 60 feet missed by inches.

On the extra hole Barber unfurled a great drive, got on in two, 35 feet from the pin and made his par. The last put from 4½ feet. Harper missed the green to the left with his second, chipped up eight feet short and missed his putt.

Barber and Harper almost had company in their playoff. They were two strokes ahead of three men. George Knudson, Canadian pro from Toronto, closed with 68-70 for a 215 total. He tied with Dow Finsterwald, first day leader from Jupiter, Fla., and Tom Nieporte, defending champion from Bronxville, N.Y., each won $806.

Knudson, recovering from a first day 77, had 12 birdies on his last two rounds, but he bogeyed the sixteenth and seventeenth. Pars would have given him a tie for the lead.

Nieporte, after an eagle and a birdie on the first three holes of his last round, took a double bogey on No. 4, and never could regain his stride. Finsterwald closed with 75-72 and had to eagle and birdie two of the last four holes to recover from earlier misadventures.

Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., was sixth at 217 for $656. Tied for seventh at 218, worth $581, were Bob Nichols of Midland, Tex., and Tom Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif.

Canadian champion Keith Alexander of Calgary was low amateur at 230, three ahead of Claude King of Virginia Beach, Va.

SARASOTA, Fla., April 3 (UPI)—Ted Lepcio, veteran utility infielder, was purchased today by the Chicago White Sox in a straight cash deal with the Philadelphia Phillies.

The 30-year-old Lepcio thus returns to the American League where he got his start with Boston in 1952. After seven seasons with the Red Sox, Lepcio was traded to Detroit on May 3, 1959 and had his best season, hitting .280 in 79 games.

The Tigers sent Lepcio to Philadelphia in a five-player deal during the winter of 1959 and he batted .227 for the Phils in 69 games last season.

Lepcio's career has been mostly limited to a utility role. The most action he saw was 116 games with the Red Sox in 1954.

NEW York Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. April 3—It's like saying that Babe Ruth couldn't pitch or Phil Rizzuto couldn't field. The Yankees, who once had more reserves than Uncle Sam, don't have a good bench.

Not bad, mind you, but not good. And if Ralph Houk hadn't been enough on the spot in succeeding colorful and successful Casey Stengel as manager of the famed New York Americans, the league expansion exposed the war-decorated former Army major to the most potential fire since he put away his gold oak leaves.

Everything is relative, of course, as Branch Rickey would say, and other American League managers will be rowing the same skiff. But the Yankees were hit hard by the selection tastes of the new Los Angeles Angels and second Washington Senators.

They lost three serviceable pitchers, Bobby Shantz, Duke Maas and Eli Grba; outfielders Bob Cerv and Ken Hunt and first-baseman Dale Long. Perhaps even more damaging, versatile infield veteran Gil McDougald retired.

And, by request, general manager George Weiss joined Stengel on the sidelines.

Four Catchers?

Ol' Case dearly loved to manipulate his manpower, many times in an unorthodox manner, to get into the game players his judgment or plain hunch told him would be most likely to come through, to "execute", as Stengel would say.

Houk won't have the same depth of talent, though he had made it plain that he preferred not to platoon as much as his old boss, for whom he appears to have considerable respect. The Major isn't completely different, however, for he has indicated he might go with four catchers.

No fooling, four catchers. Catchers Yogi Berra, Elston Howard, John Blanchard and rookie Jesse Gonder pack much of the ball club's punch, you see. Besides, St. Louisans Berra and Howard are especially versatile. Yogi, in fact, is apt to play in the outfield even more than catch. Blanchard is no Berra or Howard, but he, too, can take off the shinguards and do an adequate job elsewhere.

With Mickey Mantle looking positively at his best in spring training, the Bombers' attack could be devastating. The Switcher, flanked by powerful Roger Maris and strong-man Moose Skowron, gives the Yankees tremendous middle-of-the-lineup muscle.

Mantle, who looks petulant, but really is shy, could rip the record books by cutting down his strikeouts. As Billy Martin said recently, the American League's new 162-game schedule, including 11 contests in Los Angeles' bandbox Wrigley Field, might help Mickey break through Ruth's 60-homer standard.

He Likes Lopez

Lopez, the Panamanian who didn't have Stengel's complete confidence, won't be lifted out of left field as often by Houk. St. Louis boy Leroy Thomas is likely to win a chance to stick as an extra outfielder behind Mantle, Lopez and Berra.

Clever-fielding Cletis Boyer, who hits for occasional power if not average, will be at third base, talented Tony Kubek at shortstop, World Series hero Bobby Richardson at second and, if his aching back doesn't go pop like the weasel again, slugger Skowron will flex his biceps at first base.

Houk takes the positive view that his pitching is better than

Estes and the Mob

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 3—The eminent Detroit businessmen who steered Joe Louis to the heavyweight championship of the world were acknowledged leaders in their field, which was the policy racket, and Joe's trainer did time for killing a man. Jim Braddock was a protege of the notorious Owney Madden, whom the district attorney seldom invited over for pot-luck with the wife and kids. That pious old family man, J. J. Walcott, struggled and starved for a lifetime with a succession of managers before attaining the championship under the guidance of Felix Bocchichio, whose sentiments regarding prison reform were formed at firsthand.

It is unlikely that anybody, even that global authority on matters pugilistic, Senator Estes Kefauver, regards Joe Louis or Jim Braddock or kindly old Jersey Joe as anything but an example to Yout' and an ornament to boxing. But Senator Kefauver fears that if Sonny Liston were to win the championship, the title would "revert to mob control."

If the Tennesseean means that the nation and the game are better off today than in Joe Louis's time, if it is imperative to avert the rise of a new Joe Louis or Jim Braddock, then Congress should with all deliberate haste adopt the Senator's proposal toward this end.

Otherwise, there is no discernible excuse for creating a federal authority to compound the misfeasances of the spineless political creatures who maladminister the sport today in our several states.

What Jurisdiction?

To head off "a massive conspiracy between racketeers and other undesirables" to control boxing, the Kefauver bill would require that a national commissioner be fully informed as to who owns and operates fighters, shares their loot and participates in promotion. This is already required, though mostly in the breach, by the state commissions.

An alert federal commissioner, Old Coonskin says, could detect secret deals and undercover pay-offs. He does not explain why this could not be accomplished by alert state commissions, if any such existed.

However, he adds, a federal czar would have only "simultaneous jurisdiction" over interstate matches, which would not supersede the authority of state and city commissions.

In short, he wishes to hire at $20,000 a year plus administrative expenses a federal shoo-fly without authority except to duplicate on a national scale the timid, ineffectual, slack-jawed bungling now evidenced on the local level. In the immortal words of Patrick Henry or somebody: Is publicity so dear, is patronage so precious?

His Master's Voice

The Cornpone Crusader appears to feel that an act of Congress is called for to deny Sonny Liston a shot at the heavyweight championship. He may bid his foolish heart be still; the matter is in the hands of a higher authority.

Floyd Patterson has made it abundantly clear that he means to have no part of the No. 1 contender. The Champion says he is making his own decisions now, but he speaks with the voice of his sometime proprietor, Cus D'Amato. He has arrogated to himself the license formerly exercised by Cus to dictate the professional and social existence of challengers, including the right to choose their business associates.

The invertebrates in nominal command of boxing have made it equally clear that they have no intention of speaking up for the rights of any contender, no matter how deserving. They may lift the title of a Ray Robinson or harass an Archie Moore, but they are meekly subservient to the whim of the heavyweight champion.

Their form is amply established in the past-performance charts. They approved the amateur Pete Rademacher as a bona fide challenger. They sanctioned a title defense against Roy Harris, a comic strip character conceived by Al Capp. They accepted peace-loving Brian London as a werewolf after his own countrymen had rejected him for the role. They will not boggle at Henry Cooper.

The Matchmaker

Taking up where he says D'Amato has left off, Patterson speaks and acts as though the heavyweight championship—indeed, the heavyweight division—were his private property and not merely a bauble which he holds in trust. Assuming the prerogative of matchmaker, he gives the back of his neck to Liston, makes goo-goo eyes at Eddie Machen (whose professional standing has deteriorated since the days when Cus classified him as untouchable), and terms England's Cooper "a very worthy contender."

Floyd is a nice boy, not necessarily well-advised. No doubt Cooper is a sterling chap, too, possible predatory in his fashion. To be sure, Henry was knocked dead by Ingemar Johansson but you can't disqualify the blighter for that; so was the Champion.

Cardinals Get Only Five Safeties and Lose to Pirates

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 3—The Pirates are taking the Cardinals seriously — very seriously. Although they believe they can win the pennant again because they feel they have the best balanced team in the league, the world champions respect the Cards.

Despite a 4-1 victory over the Redbirds yesterday in Fort Myers, the Pirates had to struggle a bit to gain the triumph, despite the fact that three Pittsburgh hurlers held the Cards to five singles.

It was the only spring victory for the Bucs in three meetings with the Cards and yesterday, manager Solly Hemus actually had only two regulars in the lineup: Julian Javier at second base and Don Landrum in the outfield.

Miller Tagged for Loss.

Bob Miller pitched fine ball, though he had men on base in six of the eight innings. The Pirates agreed his fast ball was moving and his breaking stuff was good.

The Cards made four of their five singles in the first two innings off Jim Umbricht, but left-hander Joe Gibbon stopped the Birds in the four innings he worked.

After Umbricht set down the Cards in order in the third inning, Gibbon retired 12 straight batters with only two balls being hit to the outfield, in his four frames.

Fred Green finished up, yielding a single to Gerry Buchek in the eighth inning and a walk to Landrum later in the inning. They were the only Cardinal base-runners after the second inning.

Moryn Drives in Run.

Javier singled in the first inning and scored on Moose Moryn's double down the left field line.

Miller got out of a first inning jam caused as he walked three batters, but yielded two runs on four singles in the second inning.

Bill Mazeroski and Bob Oldis singled and, after Umbricht forced Maz at third, Roman Mejias singled Oldis home and Dick Groat followed with the first of his three singles to tally Umbricht.

With two out in the fourth, Mejias doubled to left and scored on Groat's single.

The final tally in the fifth inning was a gift. Dick Stuart was safe when Buchek threw high on his grounder. Gene Baker sent Stuart to third with a hit-and-run single. Buchek went back for Henry Mitchell's pop fly, but lost the ball in the sun and it went for a fluke single to score the run.

McDermott Finishes Up.

With two out in the eighth inning, Miller walked Groat and Hemus brought in Maury McDermott to pitch to Bob Skinner, who promptly singled. Stuart, however, tapped to McDermott to end the inning.

Miller yielded two singles and walked a batter to load the bases in the sixth inning, but got Baker on a force-out. . . . The attendance was 3069, second largest of the spring at Fort Myers. . . . The Pirates now stand at 16-7 against all opposition and are 9-2 against American League teams.

Turley Hopes '61 Will Be Another '58

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 3 (AP) — The pitching pattern planned by Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees is a sharp break with the Casey Stengel tradition. That's fine with Bob Turley.

The big righthander has had his troubles the past two seasons, struggling through an 8-11 year when the Yankees collapsed in 1959 and then putting away a 9-3 record in 1960. What made it worse was that he led the American League with 21 victories in 1958 and was named the Pitcher of the Year in the majors.

Now comes the hoped-for change for the better. Under Houk's plan, the pitchers get to work.

"There are five of us ready to pitch nine innings right now," said Turley. "I'm ready, and so is Ford and Ditmar and Terry and Coates."

"I can't remember anybody going nine under Casey. There might have been one or two—I remember I pitched nine innings one year, but it was on the way north from spring training—but as a rule, nobody went nine.

"Ralph's got another idea about the staff that I like. He plans to pitch his top four in regular rotation. They may not be the same four all the time. He'll pitch the four who are going best at any one time. But the other guys will get to work, too."

The difference from Stengel's system is obvious. Under Casey, a pitcher could get belted good and he wouldn't pitch again for 10 days or so.

It was a situation something like that which provided Turley with a chance to be a big winner in 1958.

"I only worked 18 innings down here," he recalled, "but then we got home and everybody had tender arms, so I pitched and won. I think Don Larson and I were doing all the pitching for a while.

"But I haven't been able to get the curve ball over much since. That was the big thing for me in '58. I was getting strikeouts with the curve.

No Windup Delivery.

"And last year, I couldn't get co-ordinated. I was going with no windup and just stepping out with my foot, throwing like a catcher.

"I use a windup now, but not all the time. And I guess it's really only a semi-windup. But it's a windup for me. I go over my head with my arms.

"I haven't tried anything else. Still stick with the same pitches, the fast ball, the curve and a slider. I don't throw the fast ball as hard as I used to. If I did, I don't think it would do anything more than make me tired.

"But the big thing is the curve. The extra work we get now should help me get control. There aren't many pitchers who can control the curve.

"Come to think of it, it's the same way with hitters. There aren't many good curve ball hitters, either."

Veterans Spahn and Ford Are Ready to Hurl Season Openers

MIAMI, Fla., April 3 (UPI)—There were many dazzling Easter performances but it took a pair by Warren Spahn and Whitey Ford to put the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees in clover.

This is the time of year when every manager's chief concern is picking an opening day pitcher, but it's no problem for Charlie Dressen or Ralph Houk. Spahn and Ford took care of that with brilliant route-going performances that make the choices automatic. The Braves will open against the Cardinals at Milwaukee April 11.

Spahn, who'll be 40 this month, tossed a five-hitter in pitching the Braves to a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics, while Ford, key man of the New York staff, turned in a six-hitter that gave the Yankees a 1-0 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

Spahn who has compiled a 4-1 spring record to prove his amazingly supple arm is as good as ever, faced only 30 batters and had a shutout until the seventh inning when a single by Norm Siebern and a double by Hank Bauer produced a Kansas City run. Joe Pignatano homered for the Athletics' other run in the eighth.

Ford, seeking to bounce back after a mediocre 12-9 record in 1960, became the first New York pitcher to go nine innings in spring training since Bob Turley in 1958. He had a mild scare in the ninth inning, but got out of a jam by retiring Frank Robinson with the tying run on third base.

Hank Aaron hit three homers and drove in six runs to lead the Braves' 12-hit attack, while Bill Skowron homered off Jay Hook in the second inning to provide the Yankees with their winning tally.

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' fireballing left-hander, also went the nine-inning distance with an 11-hit, 7-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins. Koufax, who pitched seven no-hit innings in a previous appearance this spring, had a shutout until the ninth. Key blows in the Dodger attack were triples by Bob Aspromonte and Charley Neal.

The San Francisco Giants beat the Cleveland Indians, 6-1 the Baltimore Orioles downed the Chicago White Sox, 11-5; the Philadelphia Phillies topped the Detroit Tigers, 7-4; The Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Cardinals, 4-1, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-3, in other Easter Sunday exhibition games.

Sam Jones, an 18-game winner last season, pitched six scoreless innings for the Giants and now has allowed only seven hits in his last 15 innings. Rookies Bob Farley and Tom Haller homered and Harvey Kuenn, who is hitting .438 this spring, had three hits in the Giants' attack.

Rookie Earl Robinson's grand slam homer was the big blow of a nine-run eighth-inning rally that enabled Hoyt Wilhelm to pick up the victory for the Orioles. Robinson connected with one on earlier against Herb Score to give him six runs batted in for the game.

Tony Taylor and Pancho Herrera collected nine of the Phils' 16 hits off four Detroit pitchers. Taylor raised his spring average to .500 with four singles and a triple and Herrera had a homer, double and two singles. Norm Cash and Steve Boros homered for the Tigers.

British Warn S.I.U.-Bound Athletes

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Three British track athletes, due to enroll at Southern Illinois University today were warned "you compete in track meets in the United States at your peril."

The warning came from Jack Crump, secretary of the British Amateur Athletic Board, in the latest controversy over American college scholarships.

The three British milers enrolling at Southern Illinois University were Mike Wiggs, who ran for Britain in the Olympic 1500 meters, Brian Turner and Bill Cornell.

None of them has permission to compete in the United States. The British argument is that a runner taking an American scholarship solely on athletic ability, and not for academic reasons, could lose his amateur status.

"The board has repeatedly drawn the attention of athletes to the necessity of being in possession of certificates of amateur status and permission to compete when they leave this country to take up temporary residence abroad either at a university or for business reasons," Crump said.

Crump added that none of the three athletes concerned "may be allowed to compete in any athletic competition whatsoever in the United States until the certificates have been issued.

"If they do so they will clearly render themselves in peril of disciplinary action by the British board and its constituent members."

Wiggs already is in the United States. The others are due to follow shortly.

The American Amateur Athletic Union has been informed that the British board regards the business "very seriously."

Henke Signed by New Kansas City Team; Nordmann May Follow

Charles Henke, the record-breaking scorer on the University of Missouri basketball team from 1958-61, has signed a contract with the Kansas City Steers of the proposed professional American Basketball League.

The 6-foot-7 M.U. ace had been a fourth-round draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

Henke reportedly will get $7500 from the Steers. He actually was signed about 10 days ago, but the announcement was not made public at that time by the Steers' owner, Ken Krueger of St. Louis.

Sparky Stalcup, Henke's coach at Mizzou, said he was aware that the Big Eight's leading scorer this season was planning to sign with the A.B.L. and not the N.B.A. because "it would keep him closer to home and also permit him to follow his career in wildlife and conservation during the off season."

Henke was one of the Steers' two territorial picks in the A.B.L. draft. Bevo Nordmann of St. Louis University was the other. Krueger said he and Nordman had an oral agreement which he expected to put in writing soon. Nordmann was the Cincinnati Royals' No. 3 pick in the N.B.A. draft.

Pipers Top Collegians Three Times

CLEVELAND, April 3 (AP) — A three-game experiment with a pair of new basketball rules — designed to minimize the big man's advantage—seems to have had little startling effect on the game.

The Cleveland Pipers whipped the College All-Stars in all three exhibitions over the weekend—in Buffalo Saturday night, in Akron yesterday afternoon and here last night.

The games were played under rules proposed by the new American Basketball League, a pro circuit in which Cleveland will participate next season. Three points were recorded for a field goal of 25 feet or beyond and the foul lanes around the basket were widened from 12 feet to 18 feet at the baseline.

But only 14 three-pointers were scored, nine of them by the Collegians. The wider foul lane seemed to bother the big men to some extent, but it was the tall ones who did most of the scoring.

In Akron yesterday, the Pipers overcame a seven-point halftime deficit and topped the Collegians 100-82 as Swartz had 20 and Adams 19. Indiana's Walt Bellamy, who played only the first half, and Whitey Martin of St. Bonaventure each had 18. Martin connected on four three-pointers.

After leaving the game here Bellamy went to Chicago, where he joined a college all-star team that dropped an 89-75 decision to the Harlem Globetrotters in the opening game of a 20-game cross-country tour. Bellamy scored 20 points against the Trotters while Govoner Vaughan, former Edwardsville, Ill., star had 19 and Charles Henke of Missouri eight.

Kutis Beats Schwaben in 2 Overtimes in Western Soccer Final

Cook and Looby Get Big Goals

By Dent McSkimming

Baffled by the inability of his Chicago Schwaben team to defeat St. Louis Kutis in a national soccer cup match, Manager George Meyer shook his head and said, "You know, I'm beginning to wonder if it's just a question of psychology."

Meyer is still confident he has a better football team than Kutis, yet, for the fourth or fifth time in the annual competition, he has failed to prove it on the field. The St. Louis team, defending its national Amateur championship, a title it has won five straight years, trailed three times before winning the western final at Meine Field, Lemay, yesterday afternoon, 5-3.

A year ago, at Public Schools Stadium, Schwaben was winning the cup match with only a few minutes to go. Then, its goalie twice lost the ball in the sun and Kutis came off winner.

Schwaben Fancier, But—

But, to get away from psychology, Kutis players were, in solid fact, more dangerous before the opposing goal. Schwaben's players, most of whom are German-born, handled the ball with delightful skill, their passes were uniformly fine; they reached and directed the head balls better than did Kutis players; their wing pairs worked in nicer harmony. But—they scored only one goal from the field, Kutis scored five.

With the aid of two penalty kicks, Schwaben was able to hold a 3-3 tie at the expiration of the full 90 minutes of regulation time. Neither team scored in the first 30 minutes of extra time and a second such additional 30 minutes was ordered by Referee Tony Mladen of Milwaukee. The Schwaben defense didn't crack until 22 minutes of this period had been played. Then Elwood Cook scored from a rebound of his own penalty kick and Bill Looby scored on a pass from Guenther Reinholdt.

Through the years, Kutis has won some thrillers—and lost some. None, however, was more packed with exciting action than this duel that consumed two hours and a half of actual playing time. Play was artistic, but never frilly or fancy. It was all serious business and players of both sides were physically beaten at the finish. There were plenty of painful bruises but no serious injuries.

The match was unusual in that each team was awarded two penalty kicks. Schwaben converted both spot kicks into scores; both of Kutis's free kicks were stopped by Schwaben goalie, Hans Harwardt, but Cook followed up and scored the rebounding ball. Fouls were whistled by Referee Mladen more often than in most Kutis games, but most of the infractions were of a petty nature. Schwaben players were prone to grab and trip and obstruct when clean play might have accomplished better results.

Homann First to Score.

The 3000 spectators, hundreds of whom spilled over the poorly guarded sidelines onto the touchlines, were not left in doubt very long as to Schwaben's potential. Only four minutes had passed before clever Armin Homann scored a surprise shot from a very narrow angle on the left wing. It took Kutis 21 minutes of real soccer labor to tie the count, this time on Butch Cook's header from Larry Hausmann's well-placed corner kick.

Ten minutes later, Schwaben again led, Walter Leonartowicz scoring from the first of two penalty kicks. Again, Kutis struggled for the equalizer, tying it a 44 minutes on Larry Hausmann's close-in shot set up by a series of passes. Immediately prior to this scoring play, Ruben Mendoza of Kutis and right fullback Herb Rothe of Schwaben produced a couple of circus acts that won applause. Ruben, with his back to the goal, executed a 'bicycle' kick and lofted the ball right into the goal mouth. Michel was not at home, so it looked like a certain score, but Rothe came from out yonder and, with a flying leap, kicked the ball away. A moment later, Mendoza's low header, again into the goal mouth, was intercepted by the same Rothe when Michel could not have saved, without help.

The second penalty conversion, this time by Ray Eichoff, put Schwaben ahead for the third time at 20 minutes of the second half. But big Guenther Reinholdt, in for Kutis as a forward replacement, tied it up by scoring out of a jam of players, one yard from the goal line.

Cook and Looby Tally.

Then came the extra periods and a belated victory for St. Louis. The penalty kick from which Cook scored a rebound was awarded for a silly use of hands on the ball by a fullback. And Reinholdt set up the final score by dribbling through three defenders and passing the ball to Bill Looby, close in. Looby had been shooting far wide of the target all afternoon, so it was fitting that he should finally cash in.

Another good reason Schwaben didn't win, with all its talent, was the tenacious defense thrown up by St. Louis players. Bob Kehoe made a solid replacement for injured Tom Julius; Herman Wecke was safe as usual, and probably more active in promoting the Kutis attack than ever before; Harry Keough was practically impassable; Val Pelizzaro a tireless defender and great help to the forwards; Billy Eppy was not only a defender, but an extra forward.

Most productive of the forwards were Cook, Bob Rooney and Looby. Fred Vasquez was off his game; Hausmann was hot and cold; Mendoza favored an injured knee; Reinholdt's lack of good physical condition reduced his effectiveness. Goalie Leroy Franks was more sure and more agile as the game progressed.

With a bit of rest Kutis players should come back with a fine effort in the national final, as yet unscheduled.

Mendoza Robbed of Score in Cup Game

Fullback HERB ROTHE (No. 2) of Chicago Schwaben prevents a certain St. Louis score by clearing the ball from the goal mouth with his goalie, HELMUTH MICHEL, far out of position. Michel is at right, white shirt, dark trunks. RUBEN MENDOZA of Kutis (No. 10, on ground) has just lifted the ball over his head with a reverse 'bicycle' kick for what looked like a spectacular score. Kutis won the U.S. Amateur Cup game, at Meine Field, 5-3. The Schwaben goal is at left, not shown in picture.

St. Paul Is Beaten by Saints, 5-4

St. Louis lost one national champion in soccer yesterday, but discovered another potential titleholder in The Saints team. St. Paul Parish eleven, the defending United States Junior Cup holder, was dethroned, 5-4, in overtime, by The Saints in a preliminary to the National Amateur Cup match at Heine Meine Field. The winners were impressive in all phases of the game, but especially in their great determination to come from behind.

St. Paul, the favorite despite the enforced absence of their scoring leader, Carl Gentile, held the lead three times.

Nine of The Saints players were members of the parochial St. Engelbert team that played brilliantly on a tour of Costa Rican cities, three years ago.

Blocker Bowls 634

Herman Blocker topped the Smiths bowling team with a 634 total as the Molls were defeated, 2-1, in the Classic League at Sports Bowl. Sports Bowl won from Melmans, Harts defeated Duro-Chrome and Riverview won from the F.A. team.

Chicago Eleven Wins

MILWAUKEE, April 3 (UPI)—Playing on a muddy field in brisk 30-degree temperature, the Chicago Eagles trounced the Milwaukee Servians, 6-1, yesterday afternoon in a western semifinal of U.S. Open Challenge Cup soccer competition.

The Eagles' next opponent will be St. Ambrose of St. Louis in the middle-western final at Chicago next week.

Steve Clark Stars As 13 Marks Fall In A.A.U. Swimming

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3 (AP)—The nation's short-distance swimming hopes were pinned today on the capable shoulders of Steve Clark, an 18-year-old high school senior from Los Altos, Calif.

Clark staked a solid claim to being the world's fastest swimmer by winning the 100 yards freestyle in an amazing 46.8 seconds Saturday night in the Amateur Athletic Union's (A.A.U.) indoor championship at Yale.

It was the blond schoolboy's second championship and second United States record at Yale's 25-yard Payne Whitney pool.

During the three-day meet, national records tumbled in 13 of the 14 swimming events. American marks were eclipsed in all seven finals Saturday night.

Like 4-Minute Mile.

Clark's time in the 100 yards was considered comparable to breaking of the four-minute mile in running.

Clark, under the tutelage of George Haines, coach of the American women's Olympic team at Rome, also won the 220-yard freestyle in two minutes even Friday night. Upsetting Murray Rose of Australia, he prevented the Olympic great of the U. of Southern California from completing a triple.

Southern Cal's Charley Bittick, however, did the triple trick by taking the 100-yard backstroke in :53.4 in the finals. He also took the 220-yard backstroke and the 400-yard individual medley earlier.

Other records that fell in the finals: Michigan's Frank Legacki, 100-yard butterfly, :51.9; Indiana's Chet Jastremski, 100-yard breaststroke, '59.6; freshman Ted Etickle, also of Indiana, 200-yard individual medley, 2:02.1.

Rose Beats Record.

Also in the final, Rose beat his own 440-yard freestyle record in 4:18.2. The North Carolina A. C. took the 400-yard medley relay in 3:39.9 on the fine stroking of Thompson Mann, Peter Fogarasy, Ed Spencer and Harry Bloom.

Ron O'Brien of Columbus, O., took the three-meter diving title with 529.55 points.

The team title went to Southern Cal with Bittick and Rose leading in the accumulation of the school's 74 points. The New Haven S. C. was second with 44½ and the New Trier S. C. third with 21.

In taking the 100-yard freestyle, Clark defeated Yale's Mike Austin, a 17-year-old freshman from Rochester, N.Y., and Legacki, both timed in :47.8.

In the afternoon trials, Clark and Austin werec locked in :47.9, cracking Olympian Jeff Farrell's listed American mark of :48.2 in the same pool last year.

Buchholz Wins; Tour Near Finish

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 3 (AP)—Pancho Gonzales stretched his lead over Andre Gimeno in the world pro tennis tour today, defeating the Spaniard 10-2.

The tour ends this week with the last two rounds at Charlottesville, Va., and Augusta, Ga.

Earl Buchholz defeated Barry MacKay 11-9, and Ashley Cooper downed Alex Olmedo 10-6.

The standings: Gonzales 31-14; Gimeno 25-20; Lew Hoad and Cooper 24-21; MacKay 21-24; Olmedo 18-27; Buchholz 15-30.

Shoemaker's Mark.

Willie Shoemaker, runnerup for national riding honors to Bill Hartack in 1960, took an early lead for 1961 laurels by riding 32 winners in January, five more than John Sellers.

Hawks

"Suppose Pettit is going bad for a while, as he did in the second quarter. I had to put in Fred LaCour, which cost us rebounding strength. If Lovellette were available, I could have put Sauldsberry in Pettit's spot.

"Woody had to remain at center because Larry Foust is not an outcourt shooter. Russell would really clog up the middle with Larry in the game."

Lovellette is recuperating from what is believed to be a slipped disc in his back. The Hawks hope that he will be available for part-time play next weekend.

Hagan's Effort Wasted.

Boston ran off with the play off opener despite the great scoring performance by Hagan, who kept the Hawks in the ball game during the first half with 23 points. St. Louis trailed by eight, 56-48, at the intermission.

Hagan increased his total to 33 before Seymour benched both him and Pettit late in the third quarter after Boston got a 20-point lead. Hagan played 33 minutes, which gave him a point-a-minute average. Pettit, who was in for 34 minutes, scored 17.

"I could have held the score closer, of course, but I thought it would be foolish to take a chance on Pettit or Hagan getting hurt in a game that was hopeless."

Tommy Heinsohn was Boston's high scorer with 26 points. Six other men had a dozen or more.

Comment

"a lot of people" think. He lists six starters, Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Art Ditmar, Ralph Terry, Jim Coates and the kid who looked so good after the Yanks brought him up last August, Bill Stafford.

A 6-foot-4 righthander who had a sensational 15-1 season in Class D, Roland Sheldon, just 21, has an outside chance to stick, too. The Yankees, like the Cardinals and some other clubs, have young talent, but it's not all ready for the majors. Perhaps closest is Pedro (Speedy) Gonzales, a young Dominican Republic second baseman they think is better than Julian Javier.

Bullpen Blues

They don't have a Lindy McDaniel in relief, however, and the bullpen could be the ball club's greatest weakness. Shantz not only is gone and Luis Arroyo out with an arm fracture, but Ryne Duren, whom Houk had hoped to make a starter, has pitched so poorly this spring that his job might be in jeopardy.

Still, Maj. Houk, who proved long ago that he was a brave man, thinks the Yankees are good enough to win again. "We've got the material and the desire," said the 41-year-old Kansan, who turned down a two-year contract because he wouldn't want to stay on the job a minute longer than wanted.

Such an admirable attitude deserves more patience than the Yankee management in the past gave other managers, Bob Shawkey and Bucky Harris, who came close, but got no cigar.

Emerson Defeats Stuck in 5 Sets

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Steady play won out over spasmodic excellence as Roy Emerson of Brisbane, Australia defeated Wolfgang Stuck of West Berlin for the Good Neighbor men's singles tennis crown yesterday.

The score was 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Ann Haydon of Birmingham, England, won the women's singles title, 6-0, 6-2, over Susan Kormocsy of Budapest, Hungary.

Rod Laver of Australia and Luis Ayala of Santiago, Chile, took the doubles, 6-2, 6-4, from Emerson and Neale Fraser, both Australians.

Illini Win, 12-7

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 3 (AP)—Ken Collins smashed a grand slam homer to send the St. Mary's University Rattlers to the championship of their baseball tournament with a 9-7 triumph over the Texas Lutheran College Bulldogs yesterday.

The University of Illinois took third place with a 12-7 win over St. Mary's College of Minnesota.

Illinois got its victory with a nine run outburst in the seventh inning. The game was called after 7½ innings because of a time limit.

Black Hawk Victory Would Bring All-U.S. Stanley Cup Final

CHICAGO, April 3 (UPI)—The Chicago Black Hawks brass talked hopefully today of that hockey rarity—an all-United States Stanley Cup final.

Such a series, the first since 1950, would pit the Black Hawks, who hold a 3-2 edge in games over the Montreal Canadiens, against the Detroit Red Wings, who eliminated the Maple Leafs, four games to one, with Saturday night's 3-2 victory at Toronto.

"This would be a great thing for hockey and I'd like to get a crack at Detroit for the cup," Jim Norris, club president, said.

Both Tommy Ivan, general manager, and Coach Rudy Pilous thought that the Black Hawks-Canadiens semifinal series would end tomorrow night when the two teams meet at the Chicago Stadium. If it doesn't, the teams will clash for the seventh time Thursday night in Montreal.

"We've got 'em reeling now," Pilous said. "We've got to stay up and play sharp, clean hockey again. We don't plan to go back to Montreal again."

Pilous, still aglow over Saturday night's 3-0 shutout of Montreal, summoned the players for a light workout today.

The Chicago coach said he would not attempt to judge the outcome of tomorrow night's game on how his team looks in the drill.

"They worked out Friday and Saturday at the Forum for Saturday night's game and I thought they looked pretty bad," Pilous said.

"But I've learned you can't figure this club by the way they work out. Sometimes they'll work out well and turn a good game, sometimes they won't. I've also seen poor practice sessions result in good games, and in bad games, you just can't tell."

Pilous said he apparently has convinced many stout Canadiens fans that the Hawks can win a clutch game.

"I've heard it said up there more than ever that we can't win a clutch game," he said. "Well I'm saying that we proved we can."

N.Y. Nationals Sign Murphy as Scout

NEW YORK, April 3 (UPI)—The New York baseball club of the National League has signed Johnny Murphy to supervise its scouting activities throughout New England and the entire metropolitan area, General Manager Charlie Hurth announced yesterday.

Murphy, one of baseball's original "firemen," pitched for the New York Yankees from 1934-1947, with the excepton of two years in service. He was a relief pitcher during most of his career, and while with the Yankees he helped bring them seven American League pennants and six world championships.

He was director of the Boston Red Sox' farm system from 1949 to 1960.

Murphy is the sixth scout signed by New York, which doesn't begin competition until 1962. The other scouts are Wid Matthews, Billy Jurges, Charley Gilbert, Bubber Jonhard and Al Todd.

Hershey, Springfield Lead 3-0

CLEVELAND, April 3 (UPI)—The powerful Springfield Indians and Hershey Bears are making short work of their rivals in the American Hockey League playoffs.

Both teams opened 3-0 leads in the best-of-seven semifinals last night, the Indians rolling to a 4-1 victory over the Cleveland Barons and the Bears whipping the Buffalo Bisons, 5-1.

A three-goal surge in the second period sparked Springfield to its triumph over Cleveland. Bill McCreary, Harry Pidhirny and Jim Anderson tallied to clinch the victory in the middle stanza after a 1-1 first period deadlock. Dennis Olson scored to give the Indians the lead at 5:41 of the opening session and later picked up an assist to gain scoring honors. Ron Attwell scored for the Barons.

Ray Kinasewich spearheaded the Hershey attack with two goals in the Bears' victory over Buffalo. Hec Lalande assisted Kinasewich on the game's opening tally as the victors roared to a 4-0 lead. Claude LaForge, Les Duff and Jack McIntyre completed the Bears' scoring. Lalande, Jack McKanzie and Willie Marshall grabbed two assists each.

Both underdogs will be on their home ice for the next games. Springfield will be at Cleveland tomorrow and Buffalo will be host to Hershey Wednesday.

India Advances In Cup Tennis

LUCKNOW, India, April 3 (UPI)—India advanced to the finals of Asian zone Davis Cup competition yesterday when its team won the crucial doubles match against Thailand.

The victory, coupled with Indian wins in Saturday night's opening singles matches, gave India an unbeatable 3-0 lead, reducing the remaining two singles to exhibitions.

India next will meet the winner of the Japan-Philippines encounter.

India's Ramanathan Krishnan and Premjit Lal scored an easy, straight-sets victory over Thailand's S. Karalak and Seri Charuchinda, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1.

U.S. PARK CHIEF INDORSES MOST OF OZARKS BILL

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 3 — The Government's top park expert gave nearly all-out indorsement today to compromise legislation that would establish a national recreational area in the Missouri Ozarks.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, said, "We are not entirely happy with all provisions of the bill, but it offers a basis for proceeding to carry out the concept we have in mind."

The measure, introduced with the backing of key members of the Missouri delegation in Congress, cleared the way for a united effort to enact legislation authorizing the Federal Government to acquire 113,000 acres of land along three Missouri streams about 175 miles southwest of St. Louis. The area would be known as the Ozark Rivers National Monument.

New Concept in Parks.

Despite minor reservations about the enabling legislation, Wirth was enthusiastic because, he said, the measure would enable the Park Service to bring into being a new concept that might serve as a pattern for similar projects in the future.

Noting that the Ozark monument proposal contemplates acquiring only relatively narrow strips of land along the Current, Jack's Fork and Eleven Point rivers in order to preserve the clear, swift-flowing streams, Wirth stated:

"This may have tremendous repercussions on future national policy. Personally I would like to see us preserve at least part of every major stearm in the United States in its natural state. "The Ozark project may show us the way."

Policy Variations.

Some provisions of the pending legislation vary considerably from usual Park Service policy. Wirth, however, expressed confidence that these would not hamper the Park Service in efforts to preserve the wilderness quality of the proposed monument and protect it from encroachment by commercial or other undesirable uses.

The proposed measure was introduced two weeks ago by Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long and Representative Richard H. Ichord, Missouri Democrats. Ichord, in whose congressional district the proposed monument lies, vigorously opposed previous proposals for creating a national recreation area there.

The bill would authorize appropriation of $6,000,000 to pay expenses of acquiring land and establishing the monument.

FOREIGN POLICY BRIEFING FOR RADIO-TV MEN

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) — Secretary Dean Rusk and other Department of State officials spoke today at a foreign policy briefing for American broadcasters. President Kennedy will address the group tomorrow.

Under the rules set forth for the conference, nothing Rusk or the others said could be quoted directly or attributed to them by name.

The information could be used only through such means as a reporter saying he "understands" United States policy is thus-and-so.

The two-day briefing is being held by the State Department in a move to spread public understanding of United States foreign policy. Attending this morning's session in the State Department auditorium were about 500 radio and television executives, commentators and reporters, who came to Washington at their own expense.

A similar session for newspaper and magazine men will be held April 24 and 25.

PITTSBURGH PLATE GLASS FACES FTC CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission charged the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. yesterday with furnishing discriminatory services and facilities to certain dealers.

The commission said the company paid for advertisements and phone book listings for certain firms designated as "autoglass installation dealers."

The FTC said the alleged practice was a violation of federal law because it discriminated against other dealers who had to pay for their own advertisements.

THREE FOUND DEAD IN PLANE

WOODLAND, Miss., April 2 (AP)—The bodies of three ministers were found near Woodland yesterday in the wreckage of a light plane that had been missing for three days.

The dead were the Revs. Robert Mapes, Fort Wayne, Ind., the pilot; C. C. Kirby, Troy, Mich., and N. B. Ellis, Royal Oak, Mich. All are Church of God ministers. The plane had left Meridian Thursday en route to Paragould, Ark. The control tower at Pine Bluff said it received a distress call Thursday night that the plane was in a thunderstorm.

who have sought to belittle him. But he has a knowledge of his own people — and a sense of timing.

"The United Nations, which has guns to back it up, has tried to dictate to Kasavubu. For instance, the Irish Gen. McKeown (of the United Nations) has not, despite all his guns, had his way. Do you think some little Belgian secretary would succeed where a Gen. McKeown failed?"

IF THE UNITED NATIONS could suddenly find enough French speaking technicians—which it can't—to fill the gap, it might be possible in The Congo to get rid of all Europeans, including Belgians, if one other condition obtained. This condition is that the non-Communist Congolese could trust the United Nations not to act against their national interest.

Such trust does not exist and cannot exist so long, for example, as the United Nations stands idly by when Gizenga troops advance but reacts—as happened Friday in Katanga—by sending 1000 Indian soldiers when the non-Communist Congolese try to take back the area seized by Stanleyville.

Meanwhile, it remains true in the case of both Gizenga and President Kasavubu that any outright exodus of Europeans would add more economic chaos to political tension. The Russians are, of course, in favor of this because chaos is their political black magic in The Congo.

Fortunately, this time they are likely to be thwarted for the practical reason that the only way the United Nations can successfully intervene against whites employed by the Congolese is to use force; in effect, to go to war against the respective Congolese armies of the north and the south. Surely there is no way to square this with a mission of peace.

TROUBLES OF WORLD DISTRESS POPE JOHN

VATICAN CITY, April 3 (UPI) —Pope John XXIII told an Easter throng yesterday he was distressed over the uneasy state of the world and the "terrifying actions of a great number of men."

He expressed confidence, however, that men of good will would triumph over those who are bent on disturbing liberty and justice.

The Pontiff spoke from the central balcony of St. Peter's to hundreds of thousands of Romans and foreign pilgrims in the square below. Vatican and other radio and television networks broadcast the Easter message throughout the world.

For the first time, in the blessing that followed, the Pope added Russian to the languages he used in wishing radio and television audiences throughout the world a "happy and blessed Easter." He gave his blessing in 15 languages.

Pilgrims Commemorate Easter at Tomb in Jerusalem.

JERUSALEM, Jordan sector, April 3 (AP)—As the sun rose over the holy city yesterday a group of pilgrims from Europe and America assembled in a quiet garden around an empty tomb to commemorate the Resurrection of Christ.

A service was conducted in German and English in the garden outside the city walls, built around an ancient Semitic tomb. Inside the city walls, around the traditional Holy Sepulchre, the Latin patriarch of Jerusalem, Alberto Gori, celebrated pontifical High Mass.

Polish Cardinal in Sermon Says Church Won't Be Silenced.

WARSAW, April 3 (AP)—Cardinal Stefan Wyszynski, primate of Poland, assured Polish Roman Catholics in an Easter message yesterday that all attempts to "close the lips of the church are in vain because we must rather obey God than men."

The cardinal spoke after celebrating High Mass before nearly 1000 persons in Warsaw's Cathedral of St. John. Using veiled terms that contrasted sharply with his charges two weeks ago that the church in Poland is being persecuted, the Cardinal said:

"So often seals have been laid on the mouth of the church so it would be silent. So often it has been burdened with stones. So often so many false witnesses have come forth. But all that was in vain because Christ lives in the church and, once having died, will not die again."

William Sharp, Artist, Dies.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—William Sharp, a painter, etcher, lithographer and illustrator, died Saturday in a hospital after a long illness. He was 60 years old. His work is represented in the Library of Congress, the Carnegie Institute and the Metropolitan Museum of Art among other museums.

MAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED, BROKE INTO KINLOCH HOME

A man identified by police as Norman Berry, 200 block of Eldridge avenue, Rock Hill, was shot in the abdomen and seriously wounded Saturday night when he broke into a Kinloch home, police reported yesterday.

Smith Summers, 8174 Suburban avenue, told police Berry entered his home through a window. Summers said Berry knocked him down. Summers said he fired one shot from a pistol.

Berry was found about 30 minutes after the shooting at a bus loop at Suburban and Carson road, Kinloch. He was taken to County Hospital.

Viet Namese Communists. The situation in Laos is to be policed by a Polish-Indian-Canadian control commission. In this commission, the Indian member, perhaps a man like Rajeshwar Dayal in the Congo, will have the deciding vote.

Above all, the position on the ground in Laos is already desperately unfavorable. The North Viet Namese and Laos Communists control the two northern provinces, Phongsaly and Sam Neua. They also control the most important area of central Laos, Xieng Khouang province including the Plaine des Jarres, and they hold at least one small base in the south.

ANY SETTLEMENT in Laos which leaves the Communists in control of so much territory surely will end in effective Communist control of Laos. So will any settlement which installs Prince Souvanna Phouma with Communists in important places in the supporting cast. Prince Souvanna alone perhaps can lead Laos down a truly neutral road. But the quite different results of a Souvanna - Communist government already can be predicted from the way Prince Souvanna dealt with the leftists when he was last in power.

All these factors, and especially the position on the ground, will make any negotiation about Laos a task of almost superhuman difficulty. It can be taken for granted that Marshal Sarit is right in foreseeing that British influence will favor almost any compromise. And this will increase the difficulty.

The best hope lies in the fact that Nikita S. Khrushchev was the first to say what Dean Rusk also said here, that an "Austrian" style settlement was needed in Laos. But it is hard to see how this kind of settlement can be secured unless President Kennedy shows continuing willingness to keep his powder dry.

from going through the teller line. They were Fino of New York, Cahill of New Jersey, and Halpern of New York. Even such G.O.P. liberals as John Lindsay of New York ducked out rather than cross Halleck.

Lindsay's one vote would have switched the final result in favor of the Democrats. As a result, Secretary of Labor Goldberg has tipped off liberal party leaders in New York to veto Lindsay for Fusion candidate for mayor of New York. They are now looking for another candidate.

Another Democratic vote which would have switched the final 188-to-185 result was that of Tammany leader Charles Buckley. Buckley failed to come to President Kennedy's rescue on this crucial vote which the President had led when he was a senator from Massachusetts. Buckley just wasn't around. Ever since the battle for control of New York's democratic political machine, Tammany chieftains have been sulking in their wigwam. Buckley is now further washed up.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY was most furious of all with his friend from Massachusetts, Edward Boland, who naively explained that he had been signing letters in his office and didn't realize it was time to vote. The White House doesn't believe him.

Speaker Sam Rayburn got down from the rostrum and led the Democrats through the teller line for the minimum wage act. But very few of his fellow Texans followed him. Only Wright Patman of Texarkana, Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Homer Thornberry of Austin, and Walter E. Rogers of Pampa, stood with Rayburn.

The rest of the Texans, who come around to Mr. Sam's birthday parties and pat him on the back as a great statesman, ducked.

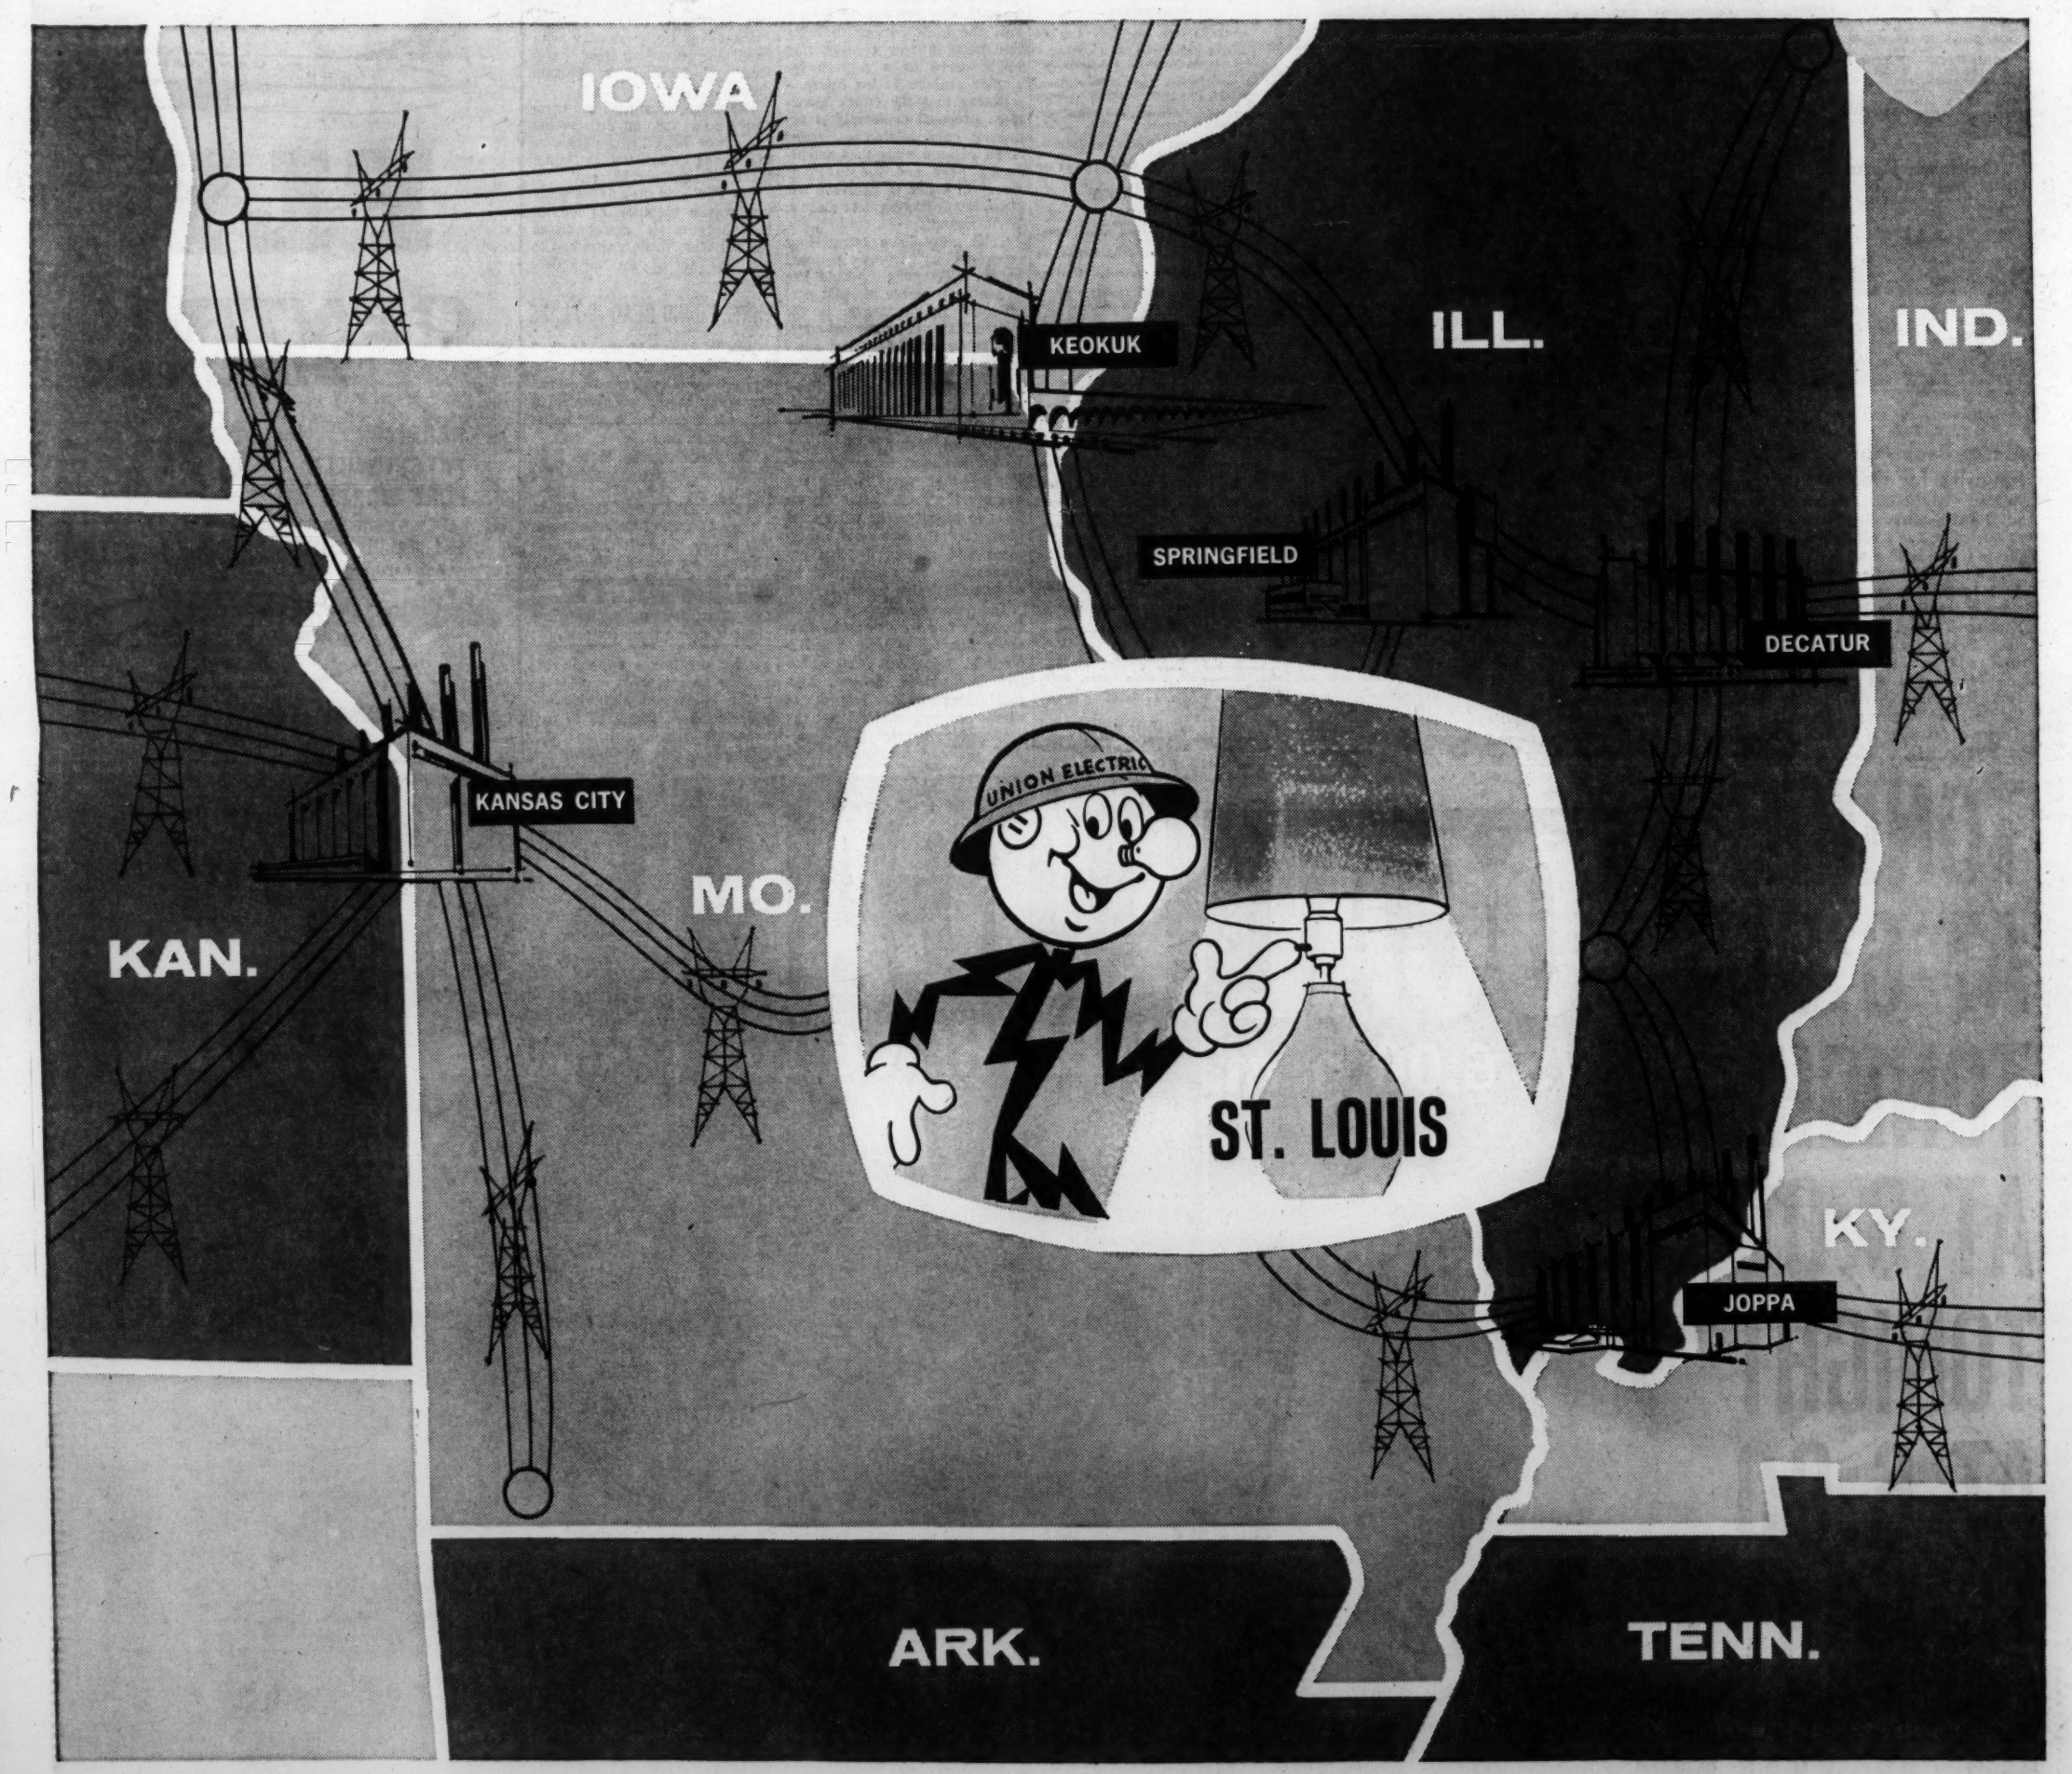
do not hold Government contracts, and establish the Civil Rights Commission as a permanent body with strengthened fact-finding powers.

Clark and Celler are not the only ones getting restless about the absence of a Democrat-sponsored bill on civil rights in the hopper. More than one strategist, including some in the White House, is fearful that, if the Democrats vaccilate, G.O.P. liberals will jump into the breach with a bill of their own. This could mean trouble for many Democratic congressional candidates in big cities in the 1962 elections.

Electric Grid works for St. Louisans



This is an "Electric Grid" . . . part of a multi-state network of electric companies of which Union Electric is a part. Here is how it works for you.

Power lines connect Union Electric's own vast facilities with three other major utilities in Illinois and Missouri. Our partners, in turn, tie in with other utilities bordering their service areas.

During emergencies, peak load periods, or when facilities are being overhauled, we draw electricity from each other. The size and efficiency of this Electric Grid provide virtually unlimited power for St. Louis.

Just another of many ways Union Electric provides quality service at the lowest possible cost.

Yesterday's Feast Today's Leftovers; Here Are Ways to Use Them

By DOROTHY BRAINERD
Post-Dispatch Food Editor.

ALL OF THE planning, all of the preparation, then suddenly it's over; Easter dinner is nothing but a memory, with the leftovers lingering on. What to do with the gaily colored eggs, the ham, lamb or poultry? Take heart; there are ways they can make a second appearance and still be welcomed.

Let's start with the eggs. If you are among the many persons who have discovered within the past few years the charm of Oriental foods, you will want to experiment with this Egg-Orange Curry. (If not, read on. Simpler recipes follow).

Colorful dyed eggs lose much of their charm the day after Easter. They can regain it in different form in this Egg-Orange Curry. Story also includes less exotic recipes for their use.

Egg-Orange Curry.

Two tablespoons chopped onion.
Two tablespoons butter or margarine.
Two tablespoons flour.
One teaspoon curry powder.
Two cups milk.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
Two teaspoons grated orange rind.
One-fourth cup orange juice.
Six hard-cooked eggs, quartered.
Three cups cooked rice (one cup uncooked).
Parsley.

Cook chopped onion in the melted butter or margarine until it is transparent, but not browned. Add flour and curry powder and stir until bubbly. Add cold milk all at once. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened throughout. Add salt, pepper, orange rind and orange juice.

Add five eggs, setting the sixth aside for garnish. Heat, stirring gently, to avoid breaking the eggs. Serve over the hot rice. Garnish with egg slices and parsley. Serve hot.

Yield: four servings.

With curry, serve a choice of these traditional accompaniments: pickle relish, chopped peanuts, chopped coconut, chutney, pickled onions or crumbled crisply-cooked bacon.

A homespun sort of recipe, quick and easy to prepare, is this one for Undercover Eggs.

Four hard-cooked eggs, shelled.
One 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup.
One-half cup milk.
One-eighth teaspoon basil.
Four slices buttered toast.
One-half cup grated sharp cheddar cheese.

Combine soup and milk; add basil and heat. Cut eggs into quarters and arrange four quarters on a piece of buttered toast. Cover with hot tomato soup-sauce; sprinkle with cheese. Serve with additional toast, fruit and milk.

Yield: Four servings.

This hearty sandwich uses two Easter foods—eggs and ham.

Queen's Salad Sandwich.

Two hard-cooked eggs, shelled.
Four slices bread, crusts removed.
Butter or margarine.
Lettuce.
Four thin slices baked ham.
Four slices Swiss cheese.
Two tomatoes, sliced.
Thousand Island Dressing.

Slice eggs. Spread bread with softened butter. Cut bread in half diagonally. Place two pieces of bread on opposite sides of each serving plate. Build the salad on the lettuce lined center by alternating slices of ham, cheese, eggs and tomatoes. Serve this sandwich open-faced, with Thousand Island Dressing.

To make the dressing, combine two hard-cooked eggs chopped fine with one cup mayonnaise, one-third cup chili sauce, one-half cup finely chopped celery, and one-fourth cup chopped sweet pickle.

Yield: Four sandwiches.

Another version of the ham-and-egg combination:

Ham and Egg Salad Filling.

Two hard-cooked eggs, shelled.
Two cups ground cooked ham.
One cup diced celery.
One-half cup mayonnaise.
Two tablespoons sweet pickle relish.
Three tablespoons chili sauce.
One tablespoon vinegar.

Chop eggs. Combine eggs, ham and celery. Add mayonnaise, relish, chili sauce and vinegar. Mix well.

*If desired, substitute one or two tablespoons mustard for the vinegar.

NEXT TO EGGS, ham probably poses more problems than any of the other leftovers, since freezing is not advised for this meat.

There are many quickies for using ham. For instance, foil-wrap leftover slices of baked ham with a touch of mustard, a little currant jelly and some Burgundy wine. Heat slowly and serve with rice or noodles and a glass of the robust Burgundy.

Or heat whole canned blue lake green beans. Drain and wrap several of the tender green beans with a thin slice of ham. Spoon a hot nippy cheese or mustard sauce over ham rolls. Mold canned fruit cocktail in fruit gelatin as a salad and add hot biscuits to complete the meal.

There should be no complaints from the family if it is served in this variation of ham loaf.

Individual Ham-Oatmeal Loaves.

Two eggs, beaten.
One cup rolled oats, uncooked.
One and one-half pounds ground smoked ham.
One-half pound ground fresh pork.
One teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
One-fourth teaspoon ground cloves.
One teaspoon worcestershire sauce.
One-fourth teaspoon liquid smoke (optional).
One-fourth cup chopped onion.
One and one-half cups water.
One No. 2 can sliced pineapple, drained.
Cranberry sauce.

Thoroughly mix all ingredients except the last two. Grease eight five-ounce baking cups. Fit a pineapple slice into bottom of each cup, cutting a small wedge from each slice to make it fit into bottom of the cup. Place pineappe wedge removed in center hole.

Fill cup with ham mix, pressing it down firmly into cup. Arrange cups on large flat baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) one hour. Remove meat from cups and arrange on serving platter. Drizzle cranberry sauce over ham loaves just before serving. If desired, loaves may be served atop an additional heated pineapple slice. If this is done, use slices from a No. 2½ size can.

Yield: eight servings.

Frenched green beans, water chestnuts, dairy sour cream and soy sauce make wonderful casserole companions for ham cubes.

Ham-Green Bean Casserole.

Two cups cooked ham, cut into one-half inch cubes.
One tablespoon lard or drippings.
One package (10 ounces) frozen Frenched green beans, cooked.
One can (four ounces) water chestnuts, thinly sliced.
One tablespoon butter or margarine.
One tablespoon flour.
One-half cup milk.
One-half cup dairy sour cream.
One tablespoon soy sauce.
One-third cup cracker crumbs.
Four teaspoons melted butter or margarine.

Brown ham cubes in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add green beans and water chestnuts. Melt one tablespoon butter or margarine in a small saucepan. Stir in flour, add milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens.

Combine sauce, sour cream and soy sauce and add to ham mixture. Cook just until heated through. Pour mixture into a greased one and one-half quart casserole. Sprinkle crumbs on top and pour butter or margarine over all. Place mixture under broiler for two to three minutes, or until crumbs are lightly browned.

Yield: four to six servings.

Creamed ham deluxe is made with instant nonfat dry milk for extra economy.

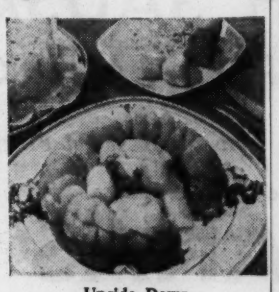
Creamed Ham DeLuxe.

Two tablespoons butter or margarine.
One medium-size onion, chopped.
One medium-size green pepper, chopped.
Two cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk.
Six tablespoons flour.
One-half teaspoon prepared mustard.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
Two cups diced, cooked ham.

Melt butter in top of double boiler; saute onion and green pepper in butter until tender but not browned. Remove from the double boiler; set aside.

Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler; add mustard; sprinkle flour and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to thicken. Add onion mixture and ham; cook, stirring occasionally, seven minutes. Serve over fluffy rice.

A ham loaf mixture, crowned with juicy canned apple slices, looks handsome on the platter, is flavorful with the blending of apple, ham and spicy seasonings.



Upside Down Apple Ham Ring.

Two and one-half cups (one can) sliced apples.
One-fourth cup brown sugar.
One teaspoon dry mustard.
Two teaspoons vinegar.
Two eggs.
Two pounds ground smoked ham.
One-half cup cracker crumbs.
One teaspoon worcestershire sauce.
One-half cup milk.

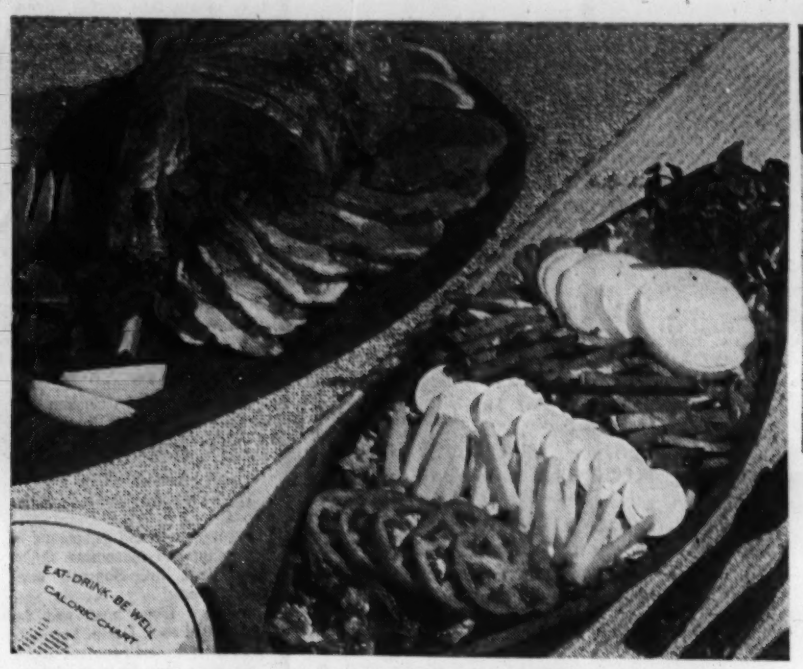
Drain apples, add sugar. Mix one-half teaspoon mustard and vinegar to smooth paste; add to apples. Mix well. Place in bottom of large ring mold.

Beat eggs; add ham, cracker crumbs and worcestershire sauce. Stir remaining one-half teaspoon mustard into milk; add to ham mixture. Mix well. Pack into ring mold on apples. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees one and one-half hours. Turn out upside down on serving platter.

Yield: six to eight servings.

Fill center of mold with candied sweet potatoes. Garnish with parsley and radish roses.

Individual Ham-Oatmeal Loaves make an attractive entree when garnished with pineapple slices and cranberry sauce. Oats help "stretch" leftover meat for more servings.



Thin slices of cold lamb are so good they need no rich saucings. Slice in finger strips and serve on a bed of salad greens with sliced hard-cooked eggs, slivers of sharp Cheddar cheese, sweet Spanish onions and tomatoes.

Serve with cole slaw and hot rolls.

IF LAMB was your piece de resistance, it is so good sliced thin and served cold that it needs no rich saucings or fancy accompaniments.

For a delicious main-course salad, slice in finger-strips. Arrange the chilled lamb on a bed of crisp dried salad greens along with sliced hard-cooked eggs, slivers of sharp aged natural Cheddar cheese, mild-mannered sweet Spanish onions and tomatoes thin-sliced. Chill well and serve with French dressing.

Lamb is, of course, a favorite with those who are calorie counting. Such a salad plate certainly should be a delight for those who want to lose a pound or three. If this is the case, the French dressing might be one of the commercial low-calorie ones, or this one made at home which adds up to 20 calories per tablespoon.

Cook until clear and thickened, after mixing well, four teaspoons cornstarch and one and one-half cups cold water.

When cool, put in a quart jar, shaker or blender along with: one-fourth cup salad oil, one-half cup vinegar (or half lemon juice and half vinegar), one-half cup catsup, three teaspoons sugar, one teaspoon each paprika, dry mustard and worcestershire sauce, dash of tabasco sauce, one teaspoon freshly-ground (or coarse-grind) black pepper, one small clove peeled garlic mashed with one and one-half teaspoons salt.

Shake or blend until smooth. Store in jar or bottle in refrigerator. This dressing keeps well, does not separate. It may be varied from day to day by the addition of chopped hard-cooked egg, green pepper, parsley, beets, onions and by varying seasonings. It is excellent served as the dressing for a salad of cold roast lamb, or used with the salad that accompanies roast or grilled lamb.

THIS RECIPE may be prepared in the morning, stored in the refrigerator, ready to put in to bake about 40 minutes before dinner time.

Leftover chicken is utilized in this recipe which may be prepared in the morning, stored in the refrigerator ready to put in the oven about 40 minues before dinner time.

Chicken Squares.

Three cups diced or sliced

Frozen banana and date-nut breads, the batter frozen in its own loaf pan, bake to a moist, rich texture. Accompanying story gives recipes for easily made spreads to be served with them. To be really fancy, slit a baked bread into three layers, spread any of these mixtures between and then put the loaf back together again.

New in the St. Louis area are two delectable frozen foods, modern versions of old-fashioned favorites—banana bread and date-nut bread. Both come as frozen batter in their own foil bread pans, ready to go into the oven, both bake to a deep flavor and moist texture. Keep them frozen until ready to bake.

These frozen breads are a fine thing to have on hand for plain or fancy occasions. Nice party trick is to slit a baked loaf into three layers, as illustrated, and spread with a fruit or cheese spread. These mixtures are equally delicious spread on slices of the breads.

Cherry Spread.

Two three-ounce packages softened cream cheese.
Two tablespoons cut-up maraschino cherries.
Two tablespoons evaporated milk.
Blend all ingredients together until smooth (makes about three-fourths cup).

Pineapple-Nut Spread.

One three-ounce package softened cream cheese.
One tablespoon finely cut-up pecans.
One-fourth cup crushed pineapple, not drained.
Blend all ingredients together until smooth (makes about two-thirds cup).

Apricot-Cheese Spread.

Two three-ounce packages softened cream cheese.
One-fourth cup apricot marmalade.
Two tablespoons finely cut-up pecans.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Blend all ingredients together until smooth (makes about one cup).

Date Butter Spread.

One-half cup butter or margarine.
One-half cup finely chopped dates.
One teaspoon lemon juice.
Stir dates and lemon juice into soft butter until smooth (makes about one cup).

Casserole Ready in Minutes

With a can of tender blue lake green beans and one or two of Vienna sausages on the shelf, this casserole can be ready in minutes.

Add a one pound can blue lake green beans, heated and drained, and a can of drained Vienna sausages. Turn into shallow baking dish. Place in broiler about five to 10 minutes to heat sausage. Sprinkle with parsley flakes.

Meat Thermometer For Accuracy

Can't roast meats to the same degree of doneness each time? Then use a meat thermometer.

Since all meat cuts differ in chunkiness and amount of bone, time schedules for cooking can only be approximations. A meat thermometer which registers the internal temperature of the cooking meat is the only true test of the doneness of a roast.

WEEK STOCK TREND OVER-THE-COUNTER

By ROBERT E. BEDINGFIELD
© New York Times News Service

NEW YORK, April 3.—The pace of trading in over-the-counter securities slowed materially last Monday and Tuesday and prices backed away somewhat from their earlier highs. Renewed buying developed late on Wednesday and on Thursday dealers reported that their business was "unbelievably" large with bidding for individual issues done "as if there would be no more tomorrow."

This was reflected by the National Quotation Bureau's price index of 35 industrial issues. The index moved within a half point range between the previous Friday's close and Tuesday. On Wednesday it rose by 0.82 of a point to 126.35 and jumped another 0.98 of a point on Thursday a record to 127.33, where it was ahead 2.28 points.

Oil Recovery continued to pace the advance. The stock, which at the 1960 year-end was selling in the 20's has been picking up several points weekly of late. Last week the stock jumped 10 points to finish Thursday at about 61½ bid.

Heublin, which in addition to importing fine sherries and volka sells prepared mixed cocktails, also has been in the forefront of the recent advance among over-the-counter stocks. Last week it raced ahead another 8 points to 54 bid. Tampax was up 10 points. Systron Donner, an electronics manufacturer, rose 5 points. Cook coffee, also a smart gainer of late, moved up another 1½. Aztec Oil and Gas rose another point to ranch 20½ bid, a new 1961 high.

New York City bank stocks backed away somewhat in late dealings on Thursday after having been unusually strong and active most of the week. One of the best performers was Morgan Guaranty Trust, which rose 8 points. High priced insurance issues moved narrowly. This was attributed to reports that large secondary offerings of Hartford Fire, Connecticut and Travelers were being readied for the market. In contrast to the premium-priced insurance stocks, lower priced issues were in strong demand.

There was renewed interest evidenced in publishing shares. Ginn & Co. was marked up ½ points, Harcourt Brace 2 points and Pocket Books 4 points. Dunn and Bradstreet, the big rating service, rose 2 points to 58 bid. El Lilly, which a week ago had fallen back to 72 from a top of 96, recovered to about 76 bid.

In the utility list much of the attention centered on Public Service of New Mexico, up 3 points, Coastal States, also up 3, and Blackhills Power & Light, up 2¼ points.

LOCAL AREA STEEL PRODUCTION OFF 2 PCT.

Steel production in the St. Louis area last week totaled 31,801 tons. This was a 2 per cent decline from the previous week's 32,466, and a 21 per cent decline from the 40,348 tonnage produced in the comparable week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank reported.

BANK CLEARINGS

St. Louis bank clearings for Monday were $105,600,000 compared with $111,200,000 a year ago.

SPENCER CHEMICAL AND OTHER CONCERN TALK MERGER

KANSAS CITY, April 3 (AP)—The Spencer Chemical Co. of Kansas City is negotiating for a merger with the Southern Oxygen Co., of Bladensburg, Md., John C. Denton, Spencer president, said today.

Spencer produces plastics, nuclear fuels, coal and chemicals for industry and agriculture. Its sales in the last fiscal year were about $74,000,000.

Southern Oxygen's sales were $12,500,000 in compressed gases, industrial and medical equipment and supplies. It has plants at Kingsport, Tenn., Greensboro, N.C., Vineland, N.J., and St. Petersburg, Fla.

"Negotiations have been promising, with Spencer to become the surviving corporation," Denton said. "Approval of the boards of the two companies and their security holders will be required to effect the merger."

An exchange of stock would be the basis of a merger, he said.

Shell Oil Co. Is Continuing To Expand Wood River Refinery

Work to Start Soon on Unit to Produce Feed Stock for New Rubber Plant—Other Projects Being Completed.

By William H. Kester
Post-Dispatch Business Correspondent.

Shell Oil Co. is continuing to expand its refinery in Roxana, officials said today.

The major construction to be started soon will be a unit to produce feed stock for the company's isoprene rubber plant being built in Marietta, O. Other work is being completed on units which will improve the quality of gasoline, oils and asphalt produced in the refinery and in underground storage caverns.

The Wood River refinery (as it is known, although it is located in Roxana) is the company's largest unit, capable of handling 186,000 barrels of crude oil a day. Capacity of the plant has been at this figure since 1959 and is not being increased at this time. As in the in dustry, operations are somewhat below capacity.

W. H. Kester

Officials of the refinery declined to give capacity figures on the unit which will supply the feed stock for the isoprene rubber plant. However, the Wood River refinery will supply most of it. Capacity of the Marietta plant will be 80,000,000 pounds a year.

To improve the octane rating of gasoline produced at the refinery, Shell built a third catalytic reforming unit. The new reformer which has a capacity of 25,000 barrels a day, will enable the company to meet any customer or competitive pressures on gasoline octane numbers forseen in the mid-continent area for a number of years. It also improves yields and reduces operating costs.

2 Storage Caverns.

Shell soon will have two underground storage caverns, one for butane and the other for propane. A 520,000 barrel cave was completed last year for storage of butane, which is added to gasoline in winter to improve engine starting.

A 260,000-barrel cavern for storage of propane is scheduled for completion in 1961.

The company completed last year a new products terminal in St. Louis and a 16-mile pipeline connecting it to the Wood River refinery.

The expansion and improvement program at the Wood River plant is costing several million dollars a year. This is indicated by the $29,140,000 in capital outlays at oil refineries last year by Shell. The Wood River unit has 31 per cent of the company's crude oil capacity.

There are about 3600 on the payroll of the refinery, approximately the same as a year ago.

White-Rodgers Co., St. Louis manufacturer of automatic heating controls, has acquired the Portland, Ore., heating division of Iron Fireman Manufacturing Co., J. A. Rodgers, president of White-Rodgers, said today. The acquisition was for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Operations in Portland will be transferred to the company's plant here after the sale on April 14. The additional volume of business resulting from the purchase will be a "small percentage of the company's present volume," Rodgers said.

Last year, White-Rodgers bought the burner division of Configured Tube Products Co. of Bellwood, Ill., and the Robinson Tube Fabricating Co., Conway, Ark. The company is establishing a branch plant in Batesville, Ark., for the purchased companies. It will have 80,000 square feet of floor area and cost about $800,000. The plant is to be financed by revenue bonds issued under Arkansas law.

Of the 44 establishments in the area, 33 reported they had 1259 passenger cars on lease and 555 in daily rental service. There were 548 trucks on lease and 284 in daily rental use.

U.S. AND CORPORATE BONDS IN SETBACKS

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—The early dip of bond prices deepened in late trading today.

One over-the-counter dealer in United States Government securities quoted long bonds off 2-32 to 8-32 and intermediates down 1-32 to 2-32. There was a little activity.

Utilities shaded off somewhat from a higher opening in corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume was running about 10 per cent ahead of Thursday.

Rails, industrials and top quality issues continued downward but the setback was chiefly fractional. Outside the convertibles there were few moves amounting to a full point in exchange trading.

American Telephone and Telegraph 4¼s soared 20 to 349⅞ at one time in line with the increase to record highs of its stock counterpart.

In a mixed foreign department orein development 6s of 1963 stamped added 1 at 100 and Cuba 4½s lost a fraction at 49⅛.

There are close to a dozen sizable new issues due on the market this week. They are about evenly divided between corporates and municipals, in contrast to last week when there were no corporates offered.

SELLING PRESSURE ON OLD CROP WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Old crop wheat futures came under rather stiff selling pressure most of the time today on the Board of Trade and prices retreated broadly. Nearby corn and soybeans also turned weak, but all other deliveries turned steady to firm in the early afternoon.

Old corn wheat lost more than 2½ cents a bushel at times on selling described as outright liquidation. Brokers said some speculative traders had become disappointed over failure of the grain to show more strength on the good volume of export business of the past several weeks.

After attracting light to moderate support in early transactions, corn and soybeans fell back when the demand slackened.

Near the close wheat was ⅛@2¾c lower; corn ⅞c lower to ¼c higher; oats ⅜@1⅛c higher; rye unchanged to ¼c lower; soybeans 1c lower to ⅞c higher; lard (cwt.) 22@25c lower.

Business Outlook

FARMER, WAR HERO, NOW IS KEPT MAN

By J. A. Livingston

During the Great Depression, unemployed in cities went hungry while farmers, for warmth, burned corn that sold for less than the coal they didn't have the cash to buy. National paradox: Poverty amid plenty.

Today, in the United States, we face a different paradox. Too much amid prosperity. Our poverty, our lack, is imagination.

J. A. Livingston

We don't know how to use our agricultural riches. Plenty has become a burden. Farm efficiency has become a national headache. Agricultural achievement has turned into economic chaos.

American consumers pay a double price for foodstuffs. First, we pay for the price of the raw materials (corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco) that go into beef, pork, bread, clothing, cigarettes. Then, we pay the taxes to support the prices paid farmers for (1) producing more than we know how to dispose of and (2) for not producing.

"Banking" the Surplus.

During the first and second world wars, the farmer was a hero. His productivity provided plenty of food at home with surpluses for aid to our allies. But the wartime hero is the kept man in peacetime. He's subsidized to produce what we have too much of. So, despairingly, we put the surpluses in "the bank" — the Commodity Credit Corp.

Today, we carry over 2,000,000,000 bushels of corn, the equivalent of a year's corp of 30 years ago but now equal to only half a year's crop. Yield has increased from 23 bushels to 52 per acre.

The wheat carryover amounts to 1,500,000,000 bushels. That's more than twice the harvest of the early 'thirties, and somewhat more than the 1960 harvest. Productivity has risen from 13 to more than 25 bushels an acre.

In cotton, the carryover is 6,750,000 bales, about half a year's crop. This is down from the record high of 14,000,000 bales in 1956 because of high exports. But yield per acre has risen from less than 200 pounds to 450 pounds in 30 years.

"Our farmers," said the President in his farm message, "deserve praise, not condemnation; their efficiency should be a cause for gratification, not something for which they are penalized."

Farming's a Business.

Yet, we're all penalized by our inability to use this efficiency wisely. President Kennedy faces what his postwar predecessors, Eisenhower and Truman, were up against—the heritage of technological improvement on the farm. The more we come to the aid of the farmer, the more, it seems, we must compound difficulties. We take two steps forward and three steps backward.

The average farmer is not a rich man. But most operators today are reasonably successful business men. Since 1934, farm production has increased 115 per cent, while the farm population has dropped 36 per cent. About $36,000 is invested in the average farm.

And the prices at which farmers sell many crops are "administered" — fixed by the Secretary of Agriculture and Congress. That is why farm programs fail. It has been too profitable for farmers to produce. President Eisenhower "banked" the soil, and the farmers "banked" the crops—through intensive cultivation.

Now, President Kennedy is trying something different—a "compliance bank"—in his feed grain program. The government will still support prices. Corn, for example, can go into government loan at $1.20 per bushel as against $1.06 formerly.

Only those farmers that reduce corn acreage by a minimum of 20 per cent will be eligible for loans. Noncomplying corn farmers will have to take their chances on the open market. Complying farmers will be reimbursed in kind—in the corn equivalent of their acreage withrawn from cultivation.

Will We Still Pay Twice?

Consider a farmer who has 100 acres in crops, of which 60 have been in corn. Under the plan, he'd take 12 acres out of corn.

Now suppose he has been getting a yield of 50 bushels of corn per acre. For compliance, he'd get half the yield on the withdrawn acres—300 bushels in all. At the $1.20 support price, that's worth $360 in corn. He can feed this corn to cattle, take the money, or, if corn is above $1.20 a bushel, sell it.

But once he agrees to the program he ties up his entire acreage. He can't take the 12 acres used for corn and put it in pasture or hay or some other crop. He's limited to cultivating 88 acres.

This was frankly an emergency program—to get ahead of spring planting. But its purpose was to stop the out-of-one-crop-into-another dodge: To penalize non-compliers and, thus, limit output.

If it works, it will influence the President's general farm program. In theory, the subsidy will come from the CCC stocks, not from new federal appropriations.

In practice, all depends on how much additional efficiency farmers "build" into the land. They'll have a fixed price for corn on most acreage. The more they produce the more they'll earn and the more we—you and I, the consumer-taxpayer—will have to buy at the $1.20 support price and put in storage. So we still might be paying twice.

RECORD NUMBER OF ISSUES; MIXED A.T.&T. TO $1.30

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — The stock market failed today to pull out of a general mixture of narrow gains and losses, but some issues, notably American Telephone, rose sharply.

A.T.&T., hitting a new high for the fourth consecutive day, zoomed 9⅛ points to 130 and then tapered off in late trading to close at 127¾. It attained its previous high of 122⅜ Thursday.

The ticker tape encountered difficulty in keeping up with transactions within 10 minutes after the opening. It ran as much as eight minutes late during the morning and was six minutes behind at the close.

Aircrafts, electronics, utilities, metals and oils held a margin on the upside. Chemicals and rails were off. Steels and motors were mixed.

The market was the broadest in history with 2334 issues traded. Issues rising totaled 622, compared with 522 declining. There were 195 new 1961 highs and 6 new lows.

LONDON EXCHANGE HOLIDAY

LONDON, Apr. 3 (AP)—The stock exchange is closed today to observe England's Easter Monday holiday.

SECOND QUARTER AUTO SCHEDULE RAISED 18 PCT.

DETROIT, April 3 (AP) — Ward's Automotive Reports said that United States automobile production scheduled for this year's second quarter indicates an 18 per cent increase over the first quarter in passenger car assemblies.

Ward's said, however, that the scheduled increase does not mean that there will be no factory shutdowns in April, May or June for varying periods.

First quarter output totaled 1,187,250 passenger cars, compared with 2,002,100 in last year's first quarter. Second quarter schedules call for 1,406,000 assemblies.

STANDARD PRESSED STEEL

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)— Standard Pressed Steel Co., profits were cut nearly in half last year as compared with 1959, the Jenkintown, Pa., firm reported. Sales dipped only slightly.

Net earnings skidded to $2,602,640 or 97 cents a share on sales of $84, 649,657 from $5,169,154 or $1.92 a share on volume of $88,859,620 in the preceding year.

H. Thomas Hallowell Jr., president, told stockholders company results suffered from increased costs for goods and services in a time of static prices on company products.

JOHNSON CHEERED BY SENEGALESE

DAKAR, April 3 (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, President Kennedy's personal representative at Senegal's celebrations for its first anniversary of independence, was cheered on his arrival last night.

"Having walked this road of independence ourselves, Americans feel a special kinship with you," Johnson said after he stepped off a United States Air Force jet transport.

Johnson was welcomed by Prime Minister Mamadou Dia and members of the Senegalese government. Johnson's presence in Dakar was formal proof of United States interest in "Africa, the Africans and African problems," Dia said.

"Here you are in a friendly country, among friends," the Prime Minister told Johnson.

The Russian delegation headed by Ivan Senin, arrived before Johnson. With Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik standing beside him, Senin said on arrival that the Soviet government and people have the deepest respect for the government and people of Senegal. Senin called for "personal contacts and ties between our two countries, in the interest of both peoples."

Sixty-seven countries were invited to send representatives to the two-day festivities. Senegal won independence from France early last year and joined with the former French Sudan to set up the Mali Federation. Senegal broke away from the federation last August to go its own way.

EASTER EGG ROLL AT WHITE HOUSE ATTRACTS 1500

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) —It looked like one big family picnic on the south lawn of the White House today.

Twenty minutes after the gates opened for the traditional Easter egg roll, more than 1500 adults and children had been admitted. Adults may come only if accompanied by a child under 12 years of age.

President Kennedy missed his first egg roll in the White House. He and his family are on Easter vacation in Florida. However, the crowds surged up to the green picket fence lining the driveway immediately behind the mansion just to stand, stare and take pictures of the place where the President lives. There was more picture-taking than egg-rolling.

CITY, C. OF C. BACK AIRLINE EXTENSION

Ozark Airlines should be permitted to continue service to Springfield and Joplin, add a stop at Fort Leonard Wood and extend the route to Tulsa, the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and the city said today.

The chamber and city filed a joint series of exhibits with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, in preparation for a reopened hearing in the case. Last year the board awarded the route to Central Airlines, ruling that both Ozark and American Airlines should terminate their present service.

The new hearing is tentatively scheduled to start on May 9 at Springfield, Mo.

In the joint exhibits, the city and chamber noted that Springfield was the second most important point on the Ozark system for on-line origin and destination of passengers, and Joplin the fifth most important. They ranked first and second, respectively, in passenger miles, the exhibits said.

"Ozark is St. Louis's only home base commercial airline, and we are naturally interested in its continued development and its ability to continue as a leader in the local service airline field," the statement continued.

"We urge the examiner to recommend that Ozark Airlines be permitted to extend service to Tulsa, Okla., and Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., as providing the greatest benefit for the St. Louis area and the State of Missouri."

CHINA TO GRANT WIFE'S PLEA AND FREE AMERICAN

LONDON, April 3 (UPI)—Communist China has agreed to free critically ill Robert McCann of Altadena, Calif., an American business man serving a 15-year term for alleged espionage, the Communist New China News Agency reported today in a Peiping radio broadcast.

The agency said McCann will leave China April 5 with his wife who flew there to visit him when she was told he was dying of cancer. The agency said she arrived March 28 to appeal for his release.

The agency said the Hopei province high peoples court granted her petition "in the spirit of humanitarianism."

McCann is one of six Americans held by the Chinese Communists on spy charges. He was jailed in June 1951.

4000 FLEE FROM REDS TO W. BERLIN IN EASTER PERIOD

BERLIN, April 3 (UPI)—City officials said yesterday at least 4000 of an Easter-time influx of refugees from Communist oppression have asked permission to remain in West Berlin.

Marienfelde refugee reception center officials said the total number of refugees since Good Friday probably would reach 7000. This is more than twice the number registered here in an average week.

The new refugees joined more than 4,000,000 who have fled to West Berlin and West Germany since 1945. The flights have caused a grave labor shortage in the Soviet zone and forced cutbacks in its long-term economic plan.

Bleachers Fall at Service.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—A section of bleachers collapsed at an Easter sunrise service yesterday. One woman was taken to a hospital and seven other persons suffered slight injuries. Services resumed about a half hour after the collapse.

$200,000 IN GOLD, SILVER, GEMS STOLEN

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 3 (AP)—Police and the FBI today sought burglars who stole from a jewelry firm gold, silver and gems estimated to be worth $200,000.

A sports shirt smelling of tear gas and some burglar tools were major clues.

Thieves broke into the H. R. Terryberry Co. yesterday and stole the valuables from eight safes. The firm is a manufacturer of school rings, pins and other jewelry.

Police said the burglars touched off a tear gas device in a futile attempt to open three more safes. The sports shirt was found in an alley.

The FBI entered the case because possession of gold is illegal.

"They must have a market for it or they wouldn't have come in here," detective Louis Vandermeer said. "They knew what they were after."

The loot, police said, included 300 pounds of gold and silver pressed into 3-by-18-inch sheets of varied thicknesses, and unset diamonds and other precious stones.

Sample gold school rings that had been in display cases were also stolen.

A. P. Terryberry, the firm's president, said the loss was partly covered by insurance. He said the large stock of gold was on hand for the busy season of June school graduations.

4 CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE ON FARM NEAR SALEM, ILL.

SALEM, Ill., April 3 (AP)—Four children were killed in a fire that destroyed their farm home about seven miles east of Salem last night while their parents were attending a church service.

Dead were Howard Sills, 15 years old, and his three sisters, Mildred, 8, Barbara, 5, and Ella, 2. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Sills.

Marion county coroner Frank Benson said the fire apparently originated at the oil cook stove. The three girls apparently had fallen asleep, Benson said. Their bodies all were found in one bed. Howard Sill's body was found midway between the kitchen and the bedroom. Benson said the boy apparently was attempting to reach his sisters when overcome by the flames.

STRIKERS RETURN TO CBS

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—Three hundred stagehands struck at the Columbia Broadcasting System briefly because the network dismissed three TV lighting directors. The stagehands returned to work today, pending talks, the network said. They had struck from midnight Saturday until 9 a.m. today.

Supervisors took over stagehand duties during the walkout and there was no effect on regularly scheduled shows. CBS said that after the walkout ended stagehands promised to stay at work at least until 9 a.m. tomorrow, to allow time for discussions.

TOKYO (AP)—The Ministry of Autonomy says there is nothing illegal about a mayor joining a golb club at public expense. In an opinion requested by Koriyama City, the ministry said a golfing mayor has a chance to get acquainted with industrial executives who might build factories.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS TO VOTE ON VOTING MACHINES

On receipt of the authority-to-vote slip after being approved by the register-judge, the voter goes to one of the voting machines and hands the authority-to-vote slip to the judge at the voting machine. The voter then enters the voting machine alone to prepare his ballot in the following manner:

Voter must turn the red switch in the upper left corner of the machine to the right to close the curtains. To vote a "straight" party ticket in a General Election, he pulls down the large lever at the top of the party ballot of his choice. An "X" mark will then show in the square opposite each candidate for every office on the party ticket. To vote what is called a "split" ticket in a General Election, the voter places an "X" in the square opposite the candidates' names of his choice on either party ticket by turning the levers opposite such candidates' name. If the voter desires to vote for any person whose name does not appear on the ballot, he should pull the slide located at the left of the office, to the right, thus exposing a portion of white paper on which he writes the full name of the person for whom he desires to cast his vote.

In voting on Amendments, Propositions, or special offices, the voter places an "X" mark in the square opposite the words "yes" or "no" or "for" or "against" as the case may be, by turning the lever opposite whichever is his choice.

The voters must leave the "X" marks showing in the squares opposite the candidates' names and propositions for whom or which he wishes to vote. The voter then turns the red switch in the upper left corner of the voting machine, to the left, to cast his ballot and open the curtains.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned, composing the Board of Election Commissioners for the City of St. Louis, Missouri, have caused this notice to be signed and the official seal of the office affixed at office in St. Louis, this 17th day of March, 1961.

announces the most complete line of office machines ever available from a single source

Underwood's wide range of portable, standard and electric typewriters, adding machines, calculators, accounting machines and tape-to-card converters is assurance that the Underwood Representative is uniquely able to match the machine to the job, free from pressure to sell a machine that's too much for the job or too little.

For example, he has three dramatically new Underwood electric typewriters—to cover every typing requirement from the board chairman's most important correspondence to the shipping department's labels. But when typing demands don't justify an electric machine, he is able to provide a new Underwood standard typewriter that produces high-quality typing at exceptionally low cost.

So varied and versatile is the new Underwood line that no matter what your business or your office requirements, it's almost certain that one of Underwood's office machines can save substantial sums of time and money for you.

Soon your Underwood Representative will call on your company. If office costs are your concern—he's your man.

If you'd like to see him immediately, telephone him—or write to Underwood Corporation, One Park Avenue, New York 16, New York.

Easter Service In Forest Park

Easter worshippers are garbed for a chill morning while attending the Metropolitan Church Federation's sunrise service at the Municipal Opera theater in Forest Park yesterday. The Rev. Dr. W. Sherman of Second Presbyterian Church preached the sermon at the service, the oldest and largest of the outdoor Easter services in this area. —By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Riverfront Wall And the Reason

Concrete sea wall takes shape along section of the riverfront extending south from the foot of Washington avenue, with the Mississippi river providing evidence of the need for the barrier. A rapid rise of three feet late last week brought the river, still at a modest level, up to the point where concrete was being poured. Steady progress is apparent in work on Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, where wing-like approaches to railroad tunnel have been completed.

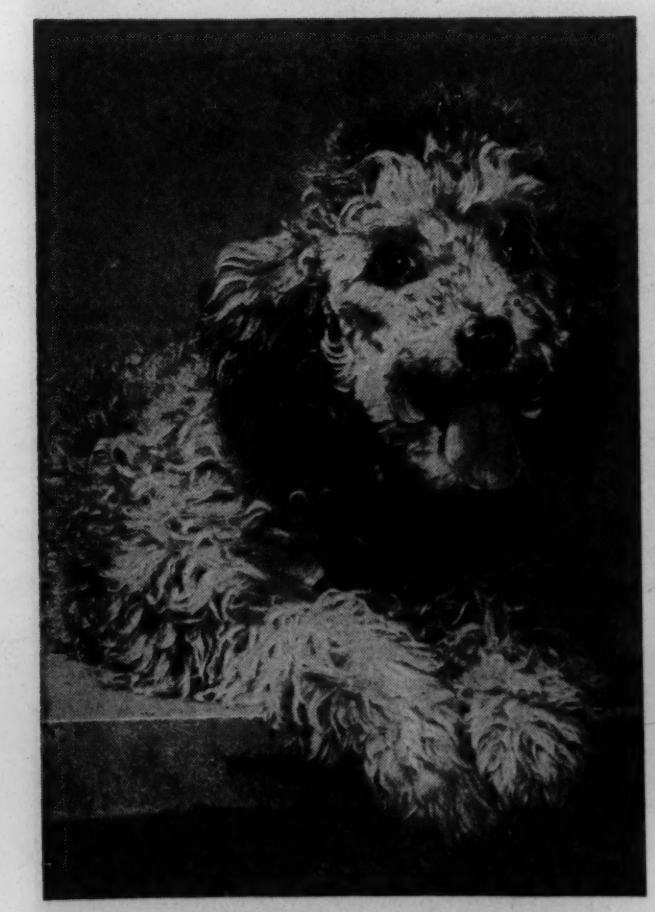
Dog of the Week



Naturally curly hair, fashionably tipped, is a major charm factor for the Dog of the Week at the Humane Society Shelter. She is a miniature poodle and her coat ranges through several shades of gray. She is about 5 months old and was named, improbably, Ramon. She is available for adoption on application in person at the shelter, 1210 Macklind avenue. —By Lester Linck, a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Blossom Festival Buffeting

Japanese cherry blossoms are out in their full famed splendor but windblown viewers have more than the accustomed amount of room while strolling around the Tidal Basin at Washington yesterday. Stiff winds and brisk temperatures, which marred Easter outings in many parts of the country, kept pedestrian traffic to a rugged minimum but streets providing views of the flowering trees were jammed with automobiles. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

Some Thoughts on The Changing City

NEW YORK, April 3.

AAAH, THE CITY! The City! You will probably live in one eventually if you don't already and you had better pay some attention. Just the other day, Lewis Mumford, one of the original scholars of cities, declared that cities of the United States were being made uninhabitable by the motorcar. Forty years ago the motorcar was the savior of humanity. Today it's our mortal enemy. Attitudes change.

JOHN CROSBY

What, for instance, is poverty? Just the other day I went to see an utterly fascinating exhibition of photographs called "The Family, the Neighborhood, and the City" at New York University. There are 300 photographs there, all of New York, but what makes this exhibit so interesting is that these photographs range from those superb sociological documents taken by Jacob Riis in 1885 to photographs taken this year by Richard Saunders.

You will be chilled to note that neither the photography nor the living conditions seems to have improved much. There's a superb picture of an Italian mother and baby taken on the Lower East Side by Jacob Riis in 1886 and a fine photograph of a Puerto Rican mother and child taken this year. The Puerto Rican mother seems much sadder and more hopeless.

The exhibit is sponsored by the United Neighborhood Houses in celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the settlement movement in America and the pictures, of course, show what great good settlements do. However, the faces don't always square exactly with the sub-titles and I think maybe we should open our minds a little bit about what is a good thing and what is a bad thing.

For instance, there is one group of photos under the heading: "Ruins, Rubble, and Asphalt" and it shows kids throwing rocks at each other on a pile of rubble of a new excavation. It shows kids on fire escapes, kids playing on roofs. These are, of course, all bad things. Next to them are kids getting accordion lessons and ballet lessons at the settlement house. These are, of course, good things.

But I don't know that the kids would agree. One of the joys of childhood is throwing rocks in a vacant lot. Since the vacant lot has just about disappeared in American life, the excavation is all that's left. The kids playing in alleys seemed pretty happy, I hate to say, and the ones taking ballet lessons didn't look exactly overjoyed. I loved to play on roofs when I was a kid. (Since the dawn of time mothers have tried to keep kids off roofs. They'll never succeed.)

Even when I was a kid, hanging around the candy store was a bad thing but these photographs make it seem idyllic, possibly because the corner candy store is rapidly disappearing. Banks seem to be taking over all the corner sites and no kid would dream of hanging around there.

Jacob Riis's and Percy Byron's marvelous photographs of the markets on the Lower East Side were intended as social protests to show how awful it all was. But again the faces belie the social message. Hester street in those days teemed with people and with pushcarts and you can all but hear the noise in one huge blowup of a Byron photograph. A peddler has his hands deep in a pail of oysters. A small boy carries a bag across the street. Mothers bargain with the push-cart merchants. I've always thought humanity looked better on streets than cars do. Today Americans pay Pan-American good money to go to Cairo to see a scene like that but in Riis's time the idea was to get everyone off the streets.

One of Riis's pictures—intended to show the awfulness of it all—is a photograph of some of those square washstands with a round marble bowl and brass water faucets. I just saw one of those the other day in the home of one of the richest women in New York. Paid a pretty penny for it, she did, from an antique shop. You'd never guess that it was once the symbol of poverty.

Trouble on the Beach 'Where the Boys Are'

Cause and Effect of Rioting at Fort Lauderdale as College Students Gathered for Annual Vacation

The spring vacation journey of thousands of college students to the resort town of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., has gained national attention through the book and the recent movie titled "Where the Boys Are." This year riots erupted and police clamped rigid controls at night on the beach areas. A UPI correspondent visited the scene and talked to students and officials. Here is his report.

By H. D. Quigg

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. April 3 (UPI).

THE SIGN at the outskirts of town reads: "Welcome to Fort Lauderdale." And underneath, in small letters that almost seem an afterthought, it says: "Have Fun."

As last weekend approached, the small word "fun" worked itself from a tickle of pleasure to a throb of migraine headaches for this lovely, palm-fronded town where each Easter season thousands of college students gather for a brief vacation from their books and an interlude of fun in the sun by day and under the stars by night.

Some wag stuck a sign up at the city jail entrance saying: "Where the Boys Are." At the time it was entirely correct. About 400 students were arrested during the week but finally all but seven of them were released by a judge who said that Fort Lauderdale's citizens were equally to blame for the rowdiness which marked this year's holiday.

"I, as a citizen, am as much to blame as you for a portion of the situation," Judge Raymond Doumar told the students. "We knew you were coming, but I, like the rest, did not do anything to prepare for it. You are all welcome back."

Doumar released 77 students who were still being held on charges of spearheading the unruliness. Others had been released or fined earlier. He did not release Theodore Dalluge, a 22-year-old senior at Mankato State College in Minnesota, who is serving 70 days on charges of inciting a riot and resisting arrest.

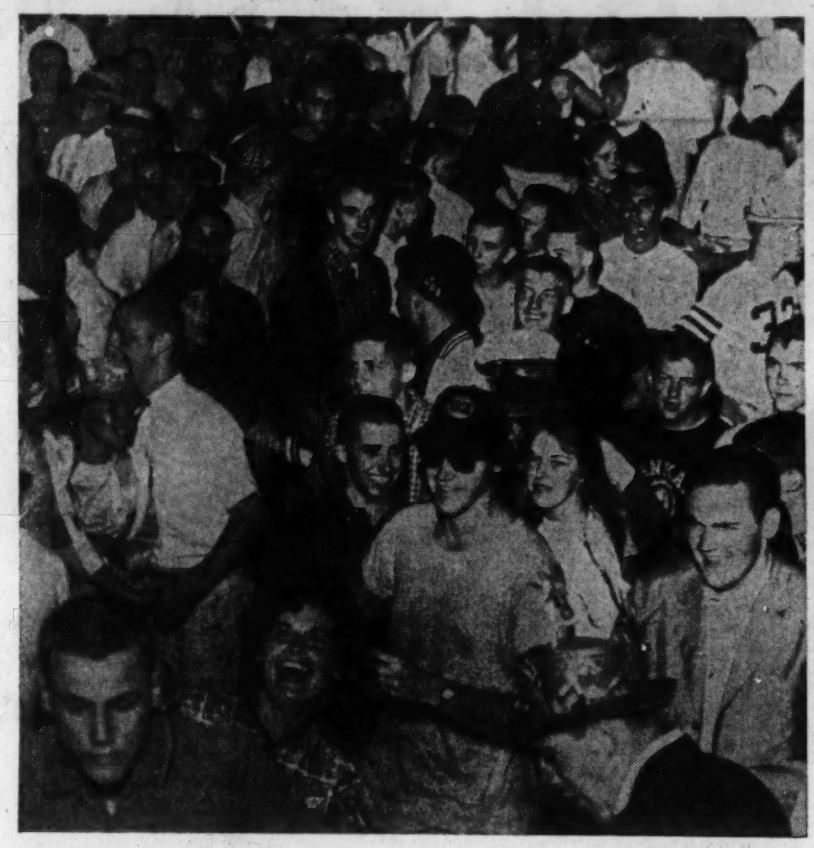
To the other students, who cheered his remarks, the judge said, "It's not the desire of anyone to see you lose your graduation rights, but you must admit that the behavior of some students left much to be desired.

The judge apparently belongs to that group of Fort Lauderdale citizens who are happy the students chose Fort Lauderdale, a beautiful resort town handsomely equipped with palms and beaches, for their vacation. However, there is another segment that wishes the kids had gone somewhere else.

The business community is split. The big beach hotel owners are hornet-mad and some are thinking of suing the city. Their business, they say, has been moving north because of the word that has been spread about the mad March antics of the college crowd. April rates have been cut. Customers who like to sleep at night have had troubles.

The smaller motels and the rooming houses are happier. So are restaurants, bars, and retailers. If you figure 50,000 collegians have visited the city over a period of four or five weeks, staying four or five days each, it runs into money—even if many of them exist on hot dogs and beer.

One source estimates they leave $1,000,000 here every year. Others say it must be more than that. The average room rent is $5 a night. Some places put the kids four and five in a room. One business man here said he didn't think the average student could get by without spending $10 a day, at a minimum.



Part of the throng of college students at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., over the Easter holidays.

Actually, not all of them spend that much. For example, there's the boy from Iona College in New Rochelle, N.Y., who figures he's staying here for $4 a day total. He came down on a bus, a long trip, but it enabled him to see the South, observe the local customs. What does he eat? "Hot dogs only." What does he think of local police who made scores of arrests during the riots? "They're very nice. Boy, if they'd been New Lork cops."

The Easter weekend, of course, was the high point of this annual pilgrimage of carborne college students, bent on a romantic interlude at the beach "where the boys are." The girls were there, too. But the consensus of townsfolk and students was that there were not many of them, proportionately, this year—and that the boys, messing around without gentle companionship, naturally got into trouble.

This is an interesting theory but probably not valid. It is more probable that the riotous behavior was touched off and kept alive by a considerable percentage of local trouble talent—young punks, high school drunks, teen-age hoodlums from this and nearby communities who had seen the recent movie about this annual gathering and decided to move in on a college wingding.

There were two riots, the first heavy trouble in the 16-year history of this somewhat madcap adventure in sun, sea, beer and dates. The police chief said that 40 per cent of the people on the beach during the melees "were residents of this county."

Sheer boredom on the part of the college crowd — combined with liquor—probably was the reason for its unruly action. On the outskirts of the mob during one of the riots, a young man said: "There are kids here from colleges all over the United States and Canada—and nothing to do."

The search for fun can be a desperate one and that nothing-to-do theme as the alleged cause of the trouble was cited over and over again by the students. In previous years they have had night blanket and bonfire and beer parties on Jade Beach, a privately owned beach seven miles to the north, and on the municipal beach at Dania, the next town to the south. But Jade Beach was closed this year, and Dania prohibited the students.

Fort Lauderdale does not allow parties at night on its public beach, and there can be no beer drinking on it at any time. Drinking is in the bars. They, too, began closing after dark when the rioting started.

Drinking under age 21 is prohibited in Florida. There has always been a problem in the sale of false identification cards, purporting to show the bearer's age to be over 21.

By day, the scene was good, with thousands of students on the brown-yellow sand and sidewalks. There were sunburns and garish attire—sweaters, blazers, jackets with names of a myriad colleges and student societies, and students singing in groups.

And most of these kids were not rioters, although many of them got themselves worked up in the bars on beer and spirits during the long afternoons. Most of them just "went along with the mob" to watch.

This town is sorely troubled at the problem. But it is not a town engulfed by trouble or taken over by young fry on the loose. Fort Lauderdale and environs comprise about 80 square miles. There are 500 miles of streets. The trouble was confined to one beach area of only about six blocks.

The eruption of violence must seem strange to oldsters who remember beautiful Fort Lauderdale from their college days. The annual hegira from the campus to this beach is said to have started 16 years ago. But old timers say they can remember that in the 1930s this was a spring-vacation center for collegians.

Fort Lauderdale has an 85,000 permanent population, which swells to around 150,000 at the peak of the winter season. It is used to influxes, but as editor and publisher Jack W. Gore of the Fort Lauderdale News said: "You cannot stick 15,000 kids in a six-block area and not have trouble. There were a lot of phonies in there, and a lot of high school punks looking for trouble. Ninety per cent of these college kids are good kids. They live on the beach, taking a rest from exams. Most of them come by car. They leave a lot of money here."

The police chief, J. Lester Holt, 45 years old, a square-jawed former infantryman and professional welterweight boxer, said emphatically that the police patience wore "a little thin" and that someone "could well have been killed" during the rioting. He said he was against giving the students a beach where they could drink: "If someone gets drowned, who will have condoned it"

Police pull THEODORE DALLUGE of Mankato, Minn., down fire ladder from his perch atop a traffic light pole. He was sentenced to 70 days in jail on charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

And a waitress at the unruly corner where the trouble centered said: "They're just fine kids, most of them—just the nicest you could find. You always get some bad apples. Get a bunch of adults together and watch what happens."

Carl (Butch) MacCartee, 20, (he has a butch haircut), a Duke University sophomore, said this was his third trip here and that "This year too many came at once — also, you only got so much money and you don't want to take a girl to the bar at night, you want to take 'em on the beach."

On the beach, a carload of girls from Michigan State pulled to a curb. "It's a shame, like Newport," said straw-skimmered Sheila Slimon, 19, of Grosse Point, Mich. "It's too bad; the majority disapprove it," said Leigh Campbell, 20, of Fowlerville, Mich.

Asked what caused the mob, Doris Anderson, 20, of Chicago, said: "Too much drinking—they want to let off steam. We were here the week before and it wasn't bad at all—very nice."

The girls drove down in 35 hours in the convertible of blond Diana Bob, 21, of Detroit, who said seven girls were living in one apartment a mile and a half inland: "We've been living for 50 cents a day apiece for food — been buying all our food and cooking it. We spend the afternoon at the beach and go back and cook again. Usually we find someone to take us to breakfast. How? They find us."

'Dream Home' Uproar

DEAR ANN: My husband and I have just finished building a lovely home which has been the dream of my life. Last week my husband's mother and his aunt came to see the house. They suggested a special kind of rubber tile for the bathroom floors. They raved about it, said it was easy to keep and so on.

ANN LANDERS

Yesterday my husband came home with samples of the tile and informed me that the man had been out to measure the floors while I was at the beauty shop. I asked him who had made the selection and he said his mother and aunt.

I'm so furious that he did this without consulting me that I'm considering a divorce. If he thinks their taste is so good maybe he doesn't need ME at all. Am I justified? ON FIRE.

Dear On: Would you cut off your head to get rid of a headache? Well, it makes as much sense as divorcing a man because he let his mother and aunt pick out the bathroom tile. I agree he was inconsiderate and thoughtless. Tell him how you feel and if you are unhappy with their selection insist that it be pulled out and replaced with YOUR choice in a year or so.

DEAR ANN: I'm a girl 15, and so miserable I want to die. My parents were divorced last year and Dad got custody of me because he had the money to hire a better lawyer. He proved my mother was "unfit" although he had been guilty of exactly the same thing.

My father is seldom home and I rarely see him. He has hired a housekeeper who is unfriendly and cold. I don't know why he fought to keep me unless it was to hurt my mother.

I write to Mom twice a week and I know she is as lonesome as I am. We agreed not to write weepy letters because it would make both of us unhappy. I would give the world to be with her. Please tell me if there's anything I can do. MOLLY.

Dear Molly: Go to your clergyman and to the judge. Maybe they can appeal to your father's sense of decency. Good luck.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send to the Post-Dispatch for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far to Go," inclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

How to Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

We suggest if you have a non-working floor drain that you take a few minutes to see if it can't be made to work and if it can't, plug the fool thing up and forget it.

Floor drain covers are usually fastened to the drain with bolts and before you can get at the bolts it may be necessary to chip away some of the concrete. Once this has been done, you can remove the bolts and lift the top off the drain.

Your average floor drain has a trap at the bottom to prevent sewer gas coming up through the opening and this is the spot where solid matter is apt to collect to plug the line. Use a long handled spoon or ladle to get down into the trap and scoop out the goop. Once you've got this out of the way, get a garden hose and run some water down the drain to see if it's clear. If it's still not clear it means there is some obstruction beyond the trap.

You can often clear this up by inserting a plumber's snake into the line or using a chemical drain cleaner. The snake is a long flexible steel shaft that is inserted through the opening and pushed along until it hits the obstruction. You then push back and forth to either break up the obstruction or push it along the line until it gets free.

If you are unable to clear the line with the snake or the drain cleaner you might as well forget it and call in a plumber. If the drain is not vital to your needs, and if it's not working we might suggest covering the top with a solid metal cap and forget that you even have a drain to begin with.

Back in Business As the Idea Man

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.

IT MAY NOT REACH the financial pages. So am happy to report here that your businesslike correspondent is back in business.

Am now vice president—without salary but think of the glory—of a corporation dedicated to ukulele music and brew.

This curious combination will open in San Francisco's bohemia, North Beach, under the name Pierre's.

Ah, lucky Pierre. To have an experienced corporation man like me.

I should say I have no proprietary interest in this Tahitian rendezvous — they needed a vice president, I am an experienced Veep.

It is just that I get great surges of urges to get in the business world. A Wolf of Wall Street. Buy! Sell!

In spite of this extraordinary talent, I must say all my ventures have had crash endings.

For a time I had a piece of patent fly killer. I mean a real, money piece.

It was a fantastic thing. You dropped in a little pill. And you hooked it up to a light plug. And every fly in the room dropped dead.

It had one fault—we found this out after we were committed. Tooled up and in expensive production. Every fly in the room dropped dead. But so did every person in the room. Or they would have if we had hooked up—I think that was the problem.

Anyway, the plan to rid the world of flies fell through. And it was back to the typewriter.

In order to be a vice president of a corporation dealing in beer, you must be fingerprinted.

I gave them four gorgeous sets of prints. Rembrandts.

The trouble is, I cannot keep my hands off business affairs.

No sooner was I a vice president than I am down in the store. Telling them how to knock down the partitions and kibitzing the painters.

"I think the color scheme should be lighter, Pierre."

This worries the owner-operator management. They have urged me to "just go away and come back when we're open."

Not me. They think they have a passive Veep on their hands. No, no. I shall harry them. Keep things lively. Lucky Pierre.

At one time I was vice president (and principal financial backer) of a lemonade stand.

It was a business I knew quite well.

I had my own place when I was younger. But we moved to another neighborhood and I let it go for a song.

This stand was run by my daughter and several other 10-year-old moppets.

We made excellent lemonade. Unfortunately, we lived on a dead-end street. We wound up drinking most of it ourselves. And so that golden promise turned to lead.

You cannot have this kind of bulldog tenacity without hitting sometime. I have great hopes for my vice presidency.

Have already suggested some valuable entertainment, based on knowledge of the South Seas. (I have not worked out the details. But I had an idea where we have a giant South Seas clam swallow one of the customers each night. Sensational!)

With this kind of brain, I do not see how we can miss. And me with only a title and not a crying dime in the place. Lucky Pierre.

New Products for Home

COTTAGE IN A PACKAGE: If you've been dreaming about a vacation retreat, you might want to look into a new cottage, one of the least expensive ever offered, that you can buy from a major plastics company and put together with ordinary tools—hammer, screwdriver, pliers and saw—over a single weekend with the help of one other person. Only a simple foundation platform is needed. Composed of lightweight pre-cut panel components, the house package arrives at the erection site complete with directions and all hardware, doors, windows, trim, molding, nails, and panels for interior walls, floors and roof. The panels have expandable plastic foam cores with unusual insulating properties. Four sizes of cottages, ranging from 16 by 16 to 16 by 28 feet are available.

PORTABLE HASSOCK: Here's a handy item—a hassock that measures 15 inches around and 10 inches high when in use and collapses to one inch height for storage. You can pile a dozen on a foot-high shelf, pull them out when needed, and pack them snugly when you travel. They make comfortable leg rests and also padded seats for watching TV, rumpus room use, and for picnics. They're made of leather-like vinyl, with padded hardboard top and bottom, and are easily inflatable—just pull the valve stem out, stretch the hassock so air enters. After letting the hassock inflate itself, you can blow it up some more to get the degree of firmness you want.

NEWS IN DOORS: Both a new kind of garage door and a new cellar door are noteworthy. The garage door consists of a plastic honeycomb core in a redwood framework. The insulating core combats heat dissipation and the door, although only one inch thick, has exceptional strength and weather-tightness. It carries a lifetime guarantee against rotting, splitting or warping. . . . The steel cellar door is the first for use with concrete, brick or stone sidewalls—and the first replacement door which doesn't require installing an entire hatchway, which often means ripping out perfectly sound sidewalls. It's said to cut the cost of replacing a wood cellar door in half.

ADD INGENUITIES: A mechanical pencil built to use lead so thin that the point wears down evenly and always writes the same width line. . . . Newest hearing aid may set some kind of record for miniaturization; it weighs just one ounce, including its tiny mercury battery. . . . A new portable public address system is permanently built into an attache case and weighs just 18 pounds. It can project music and voice to audiences of up to 2000 people in large or small areas, reaching distances up to one-fourth of a mile. It operates on replaceable flash lantern batteries, it is completely transistorized and needs no warm-up.

If you'd like further information on any of the above items, write Lawrence Galton, in care of the Post-Dispatch, identifying item, giving date of appearance and inclosing stamped and self-addressed envelope. Inquiries must be sent no later than two weeks after the appearance of the item.

Try and Stop Me

THE HEAD of a small bank in Vermont once importuned Calvin Coolidge to join his board of directors—or at least become a small depositor. "Any sum you deposited," he urged, "no matter how picayune, would do honor to our institution." Mr. Coolidge mulled over this statement a few moments; then countered, "If that's the case, why don't you make me an honorary depositor?

Barbara Eden, Apparently Headed for Stardom, Got Her First Career Break on TV

By Virginia Irwin
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

IN "ALL HANDS ON DECK," a movie in which she co-stars with Pat Boone, Barbara Eden throws a segment of the United States Navy into chaos when she is smuggled aboard ship in a garbage can. It seems a pity that such a young beauty as Barbara has to be stuffed into a garbage pail but it's nice to know that she doesn't have to stay there long and that Pat Boone, the ship's executive officer, soon figures out how to combine romantic and naval maneuvers and still keep the ship afloat.

MICHAEL ANSARA

One of the current crop of capable young actresses being groomed for top stardom, Barbara is a pleasant, intelligent, friendly young woman who knows where she wants to go and will, presumably, get there.

Now doing a bit of drum beating for "All Hands on Deck" which opened Friday at the St. Louis Theater, she paused briefly in St. Louis on a personal appearance tour and is now headed back to California to await her next movie assignment, which she hopes will be a high comedy role.

"My idol is Carole Lombard," Barbara explained. "There never was anyone like her when it came to handling a comedy role, real comedy with just a little tear near the surface all the time. When you come to think of it, there's not too much of a line dividing comedy and tragedy."

Born in San Francisco, the daughter of a telephone lineman, Barbara wanted to be a singer but allowed her mother to talk her into taking drama courses at City College in San Francisco. So promising was she in these early courses that she was given a two-year scholarship.

To help support herself she worked odd hours as a bundle wrapper, checker in a supermarket, and baby sitter. When she was in her teens she sang professionally with various bands in the San Francisco bay area and finally broke into television.

"I really wanted to go to New York but I was scared to death to tackle the big city so I went to Hollywood," she related. "I thought I could earn enough singing to take care of myself while trying to break into the movies but I soon found out that I needed something steadier in the employment line, so I took a part-time job in a bank operating an IBM machine and spent the rest of my time haunting the offices of casting directors."

Barbara thinks that getting a chance to show you have talent is the toughest angle of a movie career. She had letters from San Francisco to some prominent movie executives and they all had friendly advice, most of which could be boiled down to "you're too nice a girl for tough show business, so go home and get married and forget about the whole thing."

While waiting for a break in the movies, Barbara did some television work and landed the role of Loco in "How to Marry a Millionaire." It ran two seasons and is now on re-runs. It is seen in St. Louis on Saturdays at 8 p.m. on Channel 11.

Barbara did so well in the "Millionaire" series that she won a movie role in "A Private's Affair" and star billing to boot. In this romantic comedy she was teamed with Gary Crosby, Terry Moore and Sal Mineo.

A smaller role in "From the Terrace" followed. In "Flaming Star" she played opposite Elvis Presley. She describes Presley as "a terrific actor to work with and lots of fun."

Since Barbara has been under contract to 20th Century-Fox she has discovered that she receives more fan mail than most young actresses who have never been on TV.

"I'm amazed to find how many people know me," she said. "TV viewers seem to be a loyal lot because they've gotten to know your face in the relaxed atmosphere of their own home and they have a greater sense of intimacy with you than if they'd seen you in the theater."

Barbara has one unreleased picture, "Double Trouble," and has just finished a film called "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" with Walter Pidgeon, Joan Fontaine, Peter Lorre, Frankie Avalon and Barbara's husband, Michael Ansara.

Ansara, who starred as Cochise in the "Broken Arrow" series on TV, now also being shown as re-runs, and Barbara have been married a little more than two years. They have a modest—for Hollywood—home complete with swimming pool in Sherman Oaks.

BARBARA EDEN

Barbara, blond and blue-eyed, is five feet four inches tall, and wears a size nine dress. In Hollywood Barbara and her husband count as their closest friends actress Carolyn Jones and writer-producer Aaron Spelling.

Fables of the Famous

AFTER FINISHING COLLEGE, author Rex Beach went to Chicago to study law. He soon realized, however, that the legal profession was not for him, and he decided to give it up to devote his time to writing adventure stories.

Having reached this decision, he offered his volume of Blackstone to a friend.

"No, you keep it," said the latter. "You may want to read it now and then."

"Not me," said Beach. "I don't like the plot."

PLAYWRIGHT HERBERT FIELDS, son of comedian-producer Lew Fields, learned at an early age that being the son of a famous father has its disadvantages.

When young Fields finished school, it was his ambition to be an actor. He wanted to make it on his own, however, so he did not ask his father for a job. Instead, he went to other producers. They were not impressed by his talent.

"Why come to us?" they all told him. "Your father has his own company. Why don't you go to him?"

Yielding to the inevitable, Fields joined his father's company. He suffered from comparison with his celebrated parent and soon quit.

He turned his hand to writing and finished a play. Again he made the rounds of the producers' offices. This time they were impressed. Very much so. Still, they would not touch it.

"It's a good script, Herbie, real good," each told him, "but I wouldn't feel right taking this away from your father. Why don't you get him to produce it?" —E. E. EDGAR.

THE YEAR was 1958. Lee Hazen and Sidney Lazard were playing a practice session in preparation for the forthcoming world championship match against Italy when this hand came up. Hazen was West and Lazard East.

Maybe South should have opened with a two bid, but he didn't. However, when North responded two clubs and followed with a raise to four spades, South investigated grand slam possibilities by using Blackwood.

When North showed one ace by responding five diamonds, and one king by bidding six diamonds, South decided to settle for a small slam. So Hazen found himself on lead against six spades and came forth with the only opening lead to defeat the contract.

He led the six of clubs!

Declarer could hardly be blamed for going up with the ace. He did not dare risk a finesse because of the danger that Hazen had led a singleton, in which case the finesse would lose to the king and a club return would be ruffed to defeat the contract.

South had no way of knowing that the trumps were divided 4-0 and that Hazen had all four of them. The danger of a singleton club lead far exceeded the possibility of losing a trump trick.

Declarer found out soon enough where he stood. At trick two he led to the ace of spades. When East showed out, it was all over. He had to lose a spade and a club and go down one.

If Hazen had made the normal lead of the queen of hearts, there is no doubt that South would have made the contract. Declarer would have discovered quickly that he had a trump loser, and would have been forced to take the club finesse.

Hazen took advantage of his knowledge that the trumps would break badly for declarer, and applied the pressure at trick one before declarer could find out for himself.

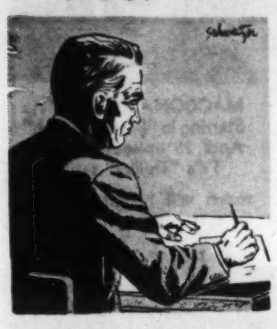
Martha Carr's OPINION

He's Single and Likes It.

Dear Martha:

BEING A MAN, and single at that, I am almost nightly provoked to a wry smile when I read the letters of the unmarried women in the 35-plus age group who write you desperately hoping you'll find them a husband. I suppose we men should be flattered since we are so ardently desired. Not a bit of it! In most cases we are only the means to an end. The real object of course is to find the guy with sufficient money to keep a woman entertained during courtship and after marriage support her for the rest of her life no matter how inadequate she is. I know of no situation other than marriage that disproves the two axioms: You cannot have your cake and eat it, too; and you cannot get something for nothing. Of course in the final analysis I do not condemn women. The conceited male with his distorted idea of superiority fell into his own trap. I do not have a high I.Q. but I have enough sense to stay single.



35-PLUS BACHELOR.

Some cute little thing with something less of a brain than a bird will set a trap for you, too, one of these days and you'll tumble into it just like all conceited males. You may even find that marriage, if both partners work hard enough at it, is a pretty wonderful institution. After all, the institution has survived for quite a few years.

Dear Martha:

THE OTHER DAY a woman wrote you and said her children were not allowed in the parlor and were made to sit on the kitchen floor when they visited their grandmother. This woman should take a look at the manners and behavior of her children. I like to be around good children but I can't stand ones that aren't well behaved. I have several friends who have children. I'd like to invite these friends to my house oftener if they would leave their monkeys at home, but they bring them along and the little monkeys climb on top of the piano, slide in the bathtub, take every book off the book shelves, carry whatnots out into the yard, pick the leaves off the house plants and hide ice cubes under the sofa cushions. They remind me of spiders crawling all over you. You can't even sit down with them around much less carry on a conversation with their parents. I have five grown children of my own and believe me I taught them from toddler-size up what they could or couldn't do. The teen trouble we have nowadays doesn't just spring full bloom when a youngster reaches 13. It starts in the high chair. You can't even wait to use the firm hand until children are 8 or 10. You've got to begin in the cradle.

MOTHER OF FIVE.

You sound pretty grim on the subject of children. Evidently you have no grandchildren of your own. Just for the record, Martha wouldn't give two weak snaps of a finger for a child who didn't occasionally feel the urge to write on a wall with a crayola or dump a bowl of oatmeal upside down on his head. When you have grandchildren of your own you'll either put up with a few childish shenanigans or you won't see much of your own children.

Mother's day is only about six weeks away. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for Martha's "Mother-Daughter Party" leaflet giving ideas for decorations, invitations, menus and suitable games.

By Sheilah Graham

HOLLYWOOD, April 3.

"I CAME IN from playing tennis one day," said Rod Steiger, "and took one look at Claire and said, 'What's the matter?' " To which the fragile-looking Claire Bloom Steiger replied, 'They want me to do this play in London. I can't do it. I don't want to be away from you."

"I looked at my wife," continued Rod, "and said, 'Is it something you've dreamed of doing?' She said yes. 'Then do it,' I told her."

Claire is now in London starring on stage in "Loser Wins," and Rod joined her there recently.

I had tea with them in their attractive beach home at Malibu before Claire took off for London, met their healthy-looking year-old daughter, Anna, and came away with a new impression of Steiger. He used to be nervous, keyed up, emotional, explosive. He now is quiet and placid. Only what he described as "the inane income tax people" ruffled his calmness during my visit. He doesn't see a psychiatrist any more.

"I have finished with all that. The time comes when you stop going, it isn't necessary any more. If you have a happy love, you don't need psychoanalysis."

He didn't have to tell me that he is happy in his marriage to the young English actress. But as with everything that concerns him, he takes his bliss seriously. "Marriage," he told me, "is a constant working relationship, and has to be worked on."

The Steigers have been married two years. And this was to be their first separation. Until now, when Rod had an important role that took him away from home, Claire would refuse all pictures and plays, preferring to go along with him. The same in reverse for Rod, who went along for the ride while she starred in "Three Steps to Freedom" with Curt Jurgens in Berlin. Claire vacationed in Ireland with him while Rod starred in "The Lark." And she will try for a play on Broadway in the fall when he starts there in "Of Love and Death."

"When I think," said Claire fervently, "that I nearly didn't do 'Rashomon,' " the play in which she co-starred with Rod, and met him for the first time. It was love at first sight for the burly actor and the ethereal actress. "But don't make me too ethereal," said Claire. "I'm greedy, I like to eat." "She is a very good cook," added Rod, who also likes to eat but is watching his weight.

ROD STEIGER

There was a gurgling noise in another room. "That's Anna having her supper," said Mrs. Steiger. "She loves her food as much as we do. We want another child," she added, "just one more. I never did want a large family."

"It's difficult for an actor and actress to have a big family," explained Rod. "Apart from the problems of traveling all over the world to make films, those inane tax people make it difficult financially. When you're the head of a family you're inclined to dramatize. But supposing you get sick or something happens. We're in the 90 per cent tax bracket.

"And," continued Rod, "acting is such hard work I sometimes wonder why we do it. When you're lucky enough to be a more independent actor, you still feel responsible for the whole show. I've written a film, 'The Untold Story.' Lux Films of Rome will back it. I'll direct, act and write. I'll either fall on my face, or it will make us financially independent."

According to Rod, this "Capone" starrer "has done phenomenally well." It cost about $500,000 and has made between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. "I have a percentage," says Rod, "but it's in the forbidding shadow of taxes. Today, people of creative ability have to be business men or they'll be left with nothing. And that makes me sad."

Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

His Heart Is Small

DEAR DR. MOLNER: My son, 19, recently took a routine chest X-ray and the doctor at the clinic says he has an unusually small heart for a youth his age. Our own doctor said not to worry about it; he has examined my son dozens of times and there is nothing wrong. He is a very tall, thin boy, long-chested, which our doctor says could account for it.

H. R. J.

DR. MOLNER

Tall, long-chested people are apt to have hearts that appear small on X-rays. Contrariwise, exceptionally broad-chested people may appear to have slightly enlarged hearts. In such variations, I would place great confidence in the observations made over a period of years—as in the case with your regular physician—and not be unduly alarmed over the fact that your son doesn't happen to be "average." You want him to be healthy, not average. You want his heart to behave, and so long as it behaves well, don't worry because it happens to appear smaller—or broader—on an X-ray plate.

DEAR DR. MOLNER: A 14-year-old boy I know has a cyst on the side of his neck. It itches at times, increases in size, and has been drained occasionally by squeezing. Is this advisable? What is the earliest time a cyst can be removed? Is it an operation that requires a specialist?

R. H.

A cyst such as this appears to be—a sebaceous cyst—is not ordinarily a serious matter. Your regular doctor can tell you if by chance it requires a specialist's care.

Squeezing is a pointless as perhaps a harmful action, since a cyst tends to keep filling up again as long as the lining remains; hence removal is the only probable cure. Barring unusual circumstances, it can be removed any time. (A branchial cyst may also occur in the side of the neck. These are due to faulty development at that point.)

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Post-Dispatch, for his booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," inclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Bill Vaughan Says

GRANDMAW IS PROUD of her youngest descendant, a college athlete who is getting his name in the papers. "Near as I can figure it," she says, "he is majoring in point-shaving."

FRANKLY, we don't care whether or not President Kennedy has a rocking chair, but we shrink at the thought of the folksy editorials it is going to provoke.

WITH THE WORK on the desk and the spring sunshine outside the window, this is no time for any of us to chide a fellow man for having a conflict of interest.

THE MAN AT THE NEXT DESK says he saw a late, late movie the other night that was so old they were mixing the martinis 3 to 1.

TV Notes and Gossip

"THE DEFENDERS," a courtroom drama starring E. G. Marshall and Robert Reed in a father-son law partnership, will make its debut next fall over CBS-TV. The new series will replace "Checkmate," scheduled to leave the air Sept. 9.

UNDER CONSIDERATION as a replacement for "The Tom Ewell Show" next season are: "Hazel," a series starring Shirley Booth; "Ichabod," a comedy about a Madison avenue man in a small community, and a comedy series with George Gobel.

THE AVERAGE American TV home watched television six hours and eight minutes a day in February for a new record, the A. C. Nielsen Co., a rating company, reports.

BOTH CBS-TV and CBS Radio will broadcast horse racing's famed "Triple Crown"—the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes—in May and June.

FOUR RADIO and three television networks are making plans for an on-the-scene pooled coverage of Project Mercury, the first United States attempt to launch a man into space, expected to take place next month when a Redstone rocket will be fired at Cape Caneveral, Fla.

Teachers of the fourth through twelfth grade classes may ask their pupils to submit questions for possible awards of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia. Select the best five questions on science, history or geography and send to Uncle Ray in care of the Post-Dispatch.

During the solar eclipse, some bright stars appear in the sky, but the corona, or crown, of the sun gives a small amount of light.

By Ramon Coffman

THREE QUESTIONS about the stars are asked by a seventh grade science class.

Q. Stars are always in the sky, so why don't they show in the daytime?

A. Yes, the stars are in the sky in the day as well as at night. We fail to see them because the sunshine is so strong that it "floods out" the light of the stars.

Like others who have watched a total eclipse of the sun, I have seen stars shine in the daytime. During the minutes the sun's disk is blocked by the moon, the brighter stars can be observed. Much of the sunshine is gone, but the sun's corona is there.

Q. How can the stars be so hot without burning up?

A. The true stars really are hot, some of them having more heat than our sun. Others have less heat than the sun.

The heat of the true stars must be of much the same nature as that of the sun. (Our sun is spoken of as a "near star" by some persons. It would look like a star if observed from a planet going around such stars as Vega or Altair.)

Instead of burning away in the manner of wood or coal in an earthly fire, the sun is believed to obtain its heat from atomic changes. "Nuclear reactions" are believed to take place on the true stars, as well.

Q. If the stars did burn up, what would be the effect on the earth?

A. There are reasons to believe that many stars have burned away, and are now going through the sky in the form of black cinders.

The process of "burning up" is judged to be very slow, taking thousands of millions of years. It may be that a few stars, perhaps outside our galaxy, "die" each day, but nothing of that sort has brought any harm to the earth.
